Please check - all venues are scheduled by the relevant department
Please note ECON1002 dates will only be available in early 2018. The dates for this will not clash with other classes/tests as they are written in the evening at 17h30
To note: our timetable only caters for Engineering students. There will be courses that are on our timetable that will be taught to other students in other Faculties. It is important that the coordinators consider these students when confirming the test slots, as we only consider Engineering students.
