Malebina Botsane

Malebina Botsane is a dietician working at the Tshwane District office as an Integrated Nutrition Program Co-ordinator. She works closely with communities within Tshwane on nutrition and health programs that include infant and young child nutrition, maternal nutrition, prevention-of-mother-to-child transmission, early childhood development nutrition, school health nutrition, and nutrition promotion and advocacy at primary health care and community level.

Malebina is registered for an MSc Med in Bioethics and Health Law at Wits University. Her research topic is: Sponsorships and gifts from infant formula companies to health care professional: Ethical issues.