

Professor Garth Stevens, Deputy Vice-Chancellor:
People Development and Culture, cordially invites you to the

INAUGURAL LECTURE OF PROFESSOR VERED AHARONSON

School of Electrical & Information Engineering, Faculty of Engineering and the Built Environment

Speech Rhythm and Blues

Music in human voice does not only convey speech context and facilitate communication. This sound of music carries pertinent information on the speaker's personality, medical state, and emotions. This lecture explores the application of audio analysis to the diagnosis and monitoring of physiological and mental conditions. The translational aspect of this research is demonstrated through the investigation of voice characteristics for enhancing the education and media sciences.
