- A 3-day train-the-trainer workshop for entrepreneurship instructors/faculty from the AFRETEC University Network is running at Wits University.
- This workshop will share the content, teaching methodologies and experience of the undergraduate and graduate level (both online and in-person) courses related to innovation and entrepreneurship for science and engineering students.
- Each institution will be invited to present their best practices in inspiring innovative and entrepreneurial skills in students and the way the courses are designed to connect to the local ecosystems.
- University policies supporting entrepreneurial activities in each of the institutions will also be discussed and recommendations made to the administrations of the universities for structural changes to promote entrepreneurship.
- Training will also consist of team exercises for participants.
- We also explore cross-listing of online courses among AFRETEC universities and enablement of scale-up by multiple offerings/year of similar courses for the benefit of entrepreneurship.
