HIERARCHY OF ACADEMIC GOVERNANCE

ACTS create the powers and responsibilities of entities by law.

| HIGHER EDUCATION ACT, ACT 101 OF 1997 |

STATUTES

define how and what the University does to give expression to the provisions of the Act, and further includes features that are particular to Wits, for example, not all universities have a role for the Convocation.

| AMENDED STATUTE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE WITWATERSRAND, JOHANNESBURG (2018) |

POLICIES define a plan of action determined by Council.

| POLICIES OF THE UNIVERSITY |

REGULATIONS are subordinate to Acts and they define orders and authoritative direction. REGULATIONS are a set of directions on how RULES should be put into effect.

RULES

are made by Council for all areas of operation other than academic matters. Senate approves academic RULES, which are endorsed by Council. A RULE defines the principle to which action or procedure conforms. RULES set out what may or may not be done within a particular area of administration. These Rules are reviewed and published in the University Calendar each year.

| GENERAL RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY |

PROCEDURES set out the practical steps necessary to realise the object or purpose of Rules and Regulations.

| PROCEDURES |

| SENATE'S RULES FOR FACULTIES OF THE UNIVERSITY |

Senate's rules for faculties of the university are subordinate to the General Rules. These Rules are reviewed and published in the University Calendar each year.

| SENATE STANDING ORDERS OF THE UNIVERSITY |

Standing orders expand on rules and/or policies and govern the manner in which all business shall be conducted. Standing orders are a set of instructions on how to carry out a task.

These standing orders are recommended by Faculty Board to Senate for approval.

| FACULTY STANDING ORDERS |

These standing orders are recommended by the School to the Faculty Board for approval.

GENERAL RULES
FOR THE
FACULTY OF HUMANITIES

Introduction

The rules contained in this section are the General Rules of the University and apply to all students. There are also specific rules for each Faculty, which are subordinate to the General Rules. General Rules are defined by 'Rule G' and apply to all students.

On registering at this University, the student bears the responsibility of ensuring that s/he is familiar with the rules applicable to her/his registration. Ignorance of these rules will not be accepted as an excuse.

All Rules and Syllabuses are available online. Limited copies are also available in print format.

All words appearing in italics have been defined. Information presented in the shaded boxes, is intended for explanatory purposes only.

G1   Definitions

1.1   Academic year means the period determined by the Senate from time to time for any particular year of study for any particular qualification.

1.2   Admission means entry to a course or qualification unless it is indicated otherwise.

1.3   A*ny university* or any other university means any university recognised by the Senate for the purpose under consideration.

1.4   Applicant means a person who has submitted an application in hard-copy or electronic format to become a student of the University.

1.5   Assessment means the process of judging learning and may have both a formative and/or summative nature.

1.6   Auxiliary pass (also referred to as ancillary pass or condoned pass, unless the contrary appears in the faculty rules) means a special type of condonation of a failing mark to a pass when no supplementary assessment is offered, so that the course will be included as a credit towards the qualification but the student may not proceed to a higher level course in that subject.

1.7   Candidate/Postgraduate student (see Rule G1.24) means a student registered for a higher qualification (see Rule G1.16).

1.8   Corequisite course is a course which must be taken with another course and is a requirement for credit in the other course.

1.9   Course means a component of teaching and learning activity, which may run for an entire academic year or a portion thereof, that is recognised in any of the faculty rules as a component of a qualification.

1.10   Credit means the recognition that is obtained when a student passes such assessments and complies with such conditions as the Senate may impose for the completion of each course. A credit towards a qualification may be granted to a student in respect of a credit obtained from another institution recognised by the Senate for this purpose or from another faculty within the University.

The plural includes the singular where the sense so suggests.

1.11 Credit Accumulation and Transfer (CAT) is the practice of accumulating credits from one or more cognate learning programmes in an institution, and the transfer of credits to be recognised towards a qualification/part-qualification in the same or a different institution to the satisfaction of Senate. This practice is subject to the rules published by the CHE and in conformance with the HEQFS requirements.

1.12 Curriculum means a course or combination of courses leading to a qualification.

1.13 Dissertation is the term reserved for an extended piece of written work that makes a contribution to the advancement of knowledge that may incorporate creative work or publications integral to the argument, and is submitted in fulfilment of the requirements for a degree of master by research.

1.14 Examination and re-examination mean a formal, compulsory, summative, scheduled assessment.

1.15 Exemption from a course means that the Senate has deemed a student to have a sufficient understanding of the subject matter of that course to warrant the student not having to complete the course. An exemption is not a credit but allows the student to proceed to the subsequent level in a particular course. The full number of credits required for a qualification is not affected by the granting of an exemption.

1.16 Higher qualification means a qualification which requires at least the attainment of a first degree, or equivalent recognised by the Senate, at entry level and includes a degree of Bachelor with Honours.

1.17 Joint degrees mean an undergraduate (Bachelors) or a postgraduate degree (Masters and PhD), jointly offered by the University and an external non-South African partner institution, recognised by the Senate. The student/candidate shall receive a single co-branded degree certificate representing work completed at the University and a partner institution.

1.18 Matriculation means the formal recognition by Umalusi prior to 2008 in terms of any law, of the capacity of a student to enter a university.

Umalusi is a council for quality assurance in the certification of qualifications in the general education and training band (Grades 0 to 9) and the further education and training band (Grades 10 to 12).

1.19 National Senior Certificate (NSC) means the formal recognition by Umalusi from 2008 in terms of any law, of the capacity of a student to enter a university.

1.20 National Certificate (Vocational) [NC(V)] means the formal recognition by Umalusi from 2009 in terms of any law, of the capacity of a vocational student to enter a university.

1.21 Notional Hours of Learning means the agreed estimate of the average learning time that it would take a student to meet the defined outcomes. It includes but is not limited to the consideration of contact time, research, completion of assignments, time spent in structured learning in the workplace, and individual learning.

1.22 NQF credits are credits recognised by the Higher Education Qualifications Sub-Framework (HEQSF) as a measure of the volume of learning required for a qualification, qualified as the number of notional study hours required for achieving the learning outcomes specified for a qualification.

1.23 Occasional student means a person who is registered at the University for any course/s for non-qualification purposes. An occasional student is deemed to be a student as defined in Rule G1.33 for all other purposes.

1.24 Postgraduate student/Candidate means a student who is registered for a higher qualification (see Rule G1.7).

1.25 Prerequisite course is a course for which credit must be obtained before being able to register for the subsequent course.

1.26 Programme is a course or set of courses or postgraduate research which may lead to a qualification.

1.27 Qualification includes any degree, diploma, certificate, licentiate, or any other educational attainment that is offered by the University as stipulated in its list of qualifications.

1.28 Recognition of prior learning means the taking into account of the previous learning and experience of the applicant by the Senate either for purposes of admission and/or for the granting of exemption or full or partial credit towards one or more courses.

1.29 Research Report is the term reserved for the written document which forms the research component of a degree of master by coursework and research report and which may include creative work or publications integral to the argument.

1.30 Semester is half an academic year.

1.31 Senate is defined in section 1 as read with section 28 of the Higher Education Act 101 of 1997 and is the body which governs the policies and procedures in respect of the teaching, learning, research and academic functions of the University. The Senate may delegate its powers except where expressly prohibited from doing so by the University Statute.

> In many cases the powers of the Senate are, for practical purposes, delegated to and exercised by the deans of the faculties or, in specific instances their nominee/s.

1.32 Short course is a certified teaching and learning activity of less than 1200 notional study hours which does not, or does not directly, carry credit towards a qualification. With special permission of the Senate, short courses may carry credit towards a qualification. A short course student is not deemed to be a student as defined in Rule G1.33 but is still subject to the University rules, policies and procedures.

1.33 Student means any person registered at the University full-time or part-time for a degree, diploma, licentiate or certificate of the University or enrolled for any course or programme of instruction of the University, provided that a person so registered or enrolled who is also a full-time or part-time employee of the University is not a student for the purpose of membership of the Council or the Senate.

1.34 Study-abroad component means that part of a curriculum leading to a qualification which a student has been granted permission by the Senate to complete at an institution recognised by the Senate for this purpose, in a country other than South Africa.

1.35 Teaching block is a quarter of an academic year.

1.36 Thesis is the term reserved for an extended piece of writing based on research that makes an original and significant contribution to knowledge that may incorporate creative work or publications integral to the overall argument, and is submitted in fulfilment of the requirements for a doctor of philosophy qualification.

1.37 University means the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, unless the context indicates otherwise.

G2   Powers of the University

2.1 The University has the power in terms of section 77(3) of its Statute to confer, in any faculty, the degrees of bachelor, master and doctor, as well as to grant a diploma, certificate, licentiate or other qualification to any person who has satisfied such requirements as may be prescribed.

2.2   No qualification, other than an honorary degree, may be conferred by the University upon any person who has not attended the University as a student for such period, and satisfied such other requirements, as may be prescribed.

2.3   The University may confer, without attendance or examination, an honorary degree of master or doctor, in any faculty, upon any person who has rendered distinguished services in the advancement of arts, science, jurisprudence or other branches of learning, or who has otherwise rendered herself or himself worthy of such a qualification. The University has the power in terms of section 79(8) of its Statute to withdraw the conferment of any qualification.

2.4   The University provides higher education at or above level 5 of the National Qualification Framework as contemplated in the National Qualifications Framework Act, Act No 67 of 2008.

2.5   The University has the power in terms of its Statute and the Higher Education Act 101 of 1997 to determine the admission policy, the entrance requirements in respect of its curricula, the number of students who may be admitted for a particular curriculum or course and the manner of their selection and the minimum requirements for the readmission to a curriculum leading to a qualification in a faculty of the University. The University has the power to refuse readmission to a student who fails to satisfy such minimum requirements for readmission.

2.6   The University reserves the right not to offer a particular course or qualification notwithstanding that such course or qualification appears in the rules of a faculty.

G3   Application of Rules

3.1   These rules apply to all students who register for the first time in 2022 and to all students who were registered before 2022 unless for compelling reasons the Senate determines otherwise in a particular case, in which event such a student may proceed in terms of the rules under which s/he was last registered, or in terms of amendments to these rules, or in terms of a special curriculum laid down for her/him by the Senate subject to the provisions of Rule G7.

3.2   Where a right of appeal or review exists any student, who is the subject of an adverse decision must be informed by the member of the academic or administrative staff who conveys the decision of that right and of the procedure to be followed.

G4   Admission

4.1   Application for admission

A person who wishes to be admitted as a student of the University must apply in hard- copy or electronic format on the University's application form submitting evidence of her/his academic and general qualifications. In the case of application for admission to a programme leading to a higher qualification the applicant may be required to indicate the line of research s/he wishes to pursue.

4.2   Medical fitness

In respect of certain courses or qualifications an applicant may be required to demonstrate mental and/or physical fitness and may not be admitted to such course or qualification if s/he does not so demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Senate.

4.3   Discretion of the Senate to admit

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Rules regarding the minimum requirements for admission, the Senate may on good cause admit or refuse to admit any student to any year of study.

4.4   Proficiency in English

4.4.1   All applicants for admission (with the exception of those referred to in Rule G4.4.2) to any curriculum leading to a qualification must have passed English as a first or second language (higher grade) at matriculation or passed English home language or first additional language in the NSC or NC(V) or at a level considered equivalent by the Senate or deemed to be equivalent by legislation.

4.4.2   Immigrants of less than five years' residence in South Africa who have passed English at the standard grade at matriculation or who have passed English in the NSC or NC(V) will be considered for admission.

4.4.3   Notwithstanding Rule G4.4.1 and Rule G4.4.2, the Senate recognises the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) with a minimum test score of seven (7) or the Cambridge English Language Assessment (CAE) with a minimum of 185 points to be proficient for admission. In exceptional cases, the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) may be recognised by the University with a minimum test score of 600 for admission.

A pass in English at the General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSE), the International General Certificate of Secondary Education (IGCSE), or the General Certificate of Education (GCE) Ordinary level is considered equivalent to a pass in English at NSC or NC(V) level or at the higher grade at matriculation level.

4.5   Faculty or qualification-specific requirements

In addition to satisfying the minimum admission requirements of the University, an applicant must satisfy any additional requirements of the faculty to which s/he seeks admission.

4.6   Certificate of good conduct

A student who was registered at any other university, must upon application for admission to this University, submit a certificate of good conduct and an academic transcript issued by that university or those universities, which satisfies the Senate that s/he is a person of good standing.

4.7   Credits and exemptions

4.7.1   Credits

The Senate may grant a student credit in a course or *course*s once only, if s/he has completed:

a)   an equivalent course offered under a different curriculum, for the same qualification in the University;

b)   the same or equivalent course offered for another qualification in the University provided that the required attendance period at the University has been satisfied in terms of Rule G6.1; or

c)   an equivalent course offered in another university or institution recognised for this purpose by the Senate provided that the provisions of Rule G4.8 and Rule G7.9 are observed.

d)   an equivalent short course at this University recognised for this purpose by the Senate in terms of Rule G1.32 but such short courses shall not constitute more than 50 percent of the credits towards a qualification.

Such credits are acknowledged as part fulfilment of the requirements for a qualification and with permission of the Senate these courses may carry credit towards a qualification but shall not constitute more than 50 percent of the credits towards a qualification. See Rule G1.11.

4.7.2 Exemptions

On admission and subject to Rule G7.9 the Senate may grant a student exemption from a course or part of a course offered by the University where it has deemed a student to have a sufficient understanding of the subject matter to warrant the student not having to complete the course or part of the course. An exemption is not a credit but allows the student to proceed to the subsequent year of study in a particular course. The full number of credits required for a qualification is not affected by the granting of an exemption.

4.8 Credits for previous study

4.8.1 An applicant may be admitted to any curriculum leading to a qualification and this University may accept, as far as practicable, certificates of proficiency (credits) issued by another university or institution and periods of study as a matriculated student at another university or institution, provided that:

a) the periods of attendance at this and any other institution are together not less than the completed period prescribed by this University for that qualification;

b) s/he has at this University:

   i) in the case of a first qualification for which the period of attendance is three or four academic years, attended for at least two academic years and has attended and completed at least half of the total number of NQF credits prescribed for the qualification including the final year course/courses in her/his major subject; or

   ii) in the case of a first qualification for which the period of attendance is more than four years, attended for at least half the required period of attendance and completed at least half of the total number of courses prescribed for the qualification; or

   iii) in the case of any other degree of bachelor offered after a first degree, attended for at least two academic years, except for the degree of Bachelor of Education (BEd), for which the period of attendance may be one academic year, and has attended and completed at least half of the total number of NQF credits prescribed for the degree.

   iv) in the case of any postgraduate degree, attended and completed at least half of the total number of courses prescribed for the degree.

c) s/he applies for such credit during or before the end of the first registration period.

4.8.2 A student may be granted entry to a qualification if s/he has completed a diploma with a minimum duration of three years at this University or another institution recognised by the Senate for this purpose. To allow for such entry into another qualification Umalusi must have granted complete or conditional exemption from the matriculation examination or must have formally recognised the capacity of the NSC or NC(V) student to enter a university. Such exemption or formal recognition by Umalusi must have been backdated to the commencement of the year in which credit for such diploma was first earned. Credits towards such a diploma may be accepted as part of the requirements for a qualification offered by the University provided that the student complies with Rule G4.8.1 (a), (b) i – iii and (c) above.

4.9 Admission to an undergraduate diploma, certificate, licentiate or other qualification

The Senate may, by resolution, determine the standard for admission to a programme leading to an undergraduate diploma, certificate, licentiate or other undergraduate qualification other than a degree. Different standards may be set for the different qualifications.

4.10 Admission to the degree of bachelor

4.10.1 National Senior Certificate/National Certificate (Vocational)/ Matriculation

The minimum requirement for admission to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor is:

a) a National Senior Certificate (NSC) with the formal recognition by Umalusi in terms of any law, of the capacity of a applicant to enter a university for the degree of bachelor;

b) a National Certificate (Vocational) – NC(V) with the formal recognition by Umalusi from 2009 in terms of any law, of the capacity of a vocational applicant to enter a university for the degree of bachelor;

c) m*atriculation* in the form of a university entrance examination or a matriculation endorsement from Umalusi or the granting of complete or conditional matriculation exemption by the Matriculation Board of Universities South Africa (USAf).

The date of validity of the NSC, NC(V), matriculation certificate, matriculation endorsement, or certificate of exemption from the matriculation examination must precede 2 April of the academic year for which admission is sought, notwithstanding that the certificate may be issued at a later date.

4.10.2 Certificate of conditional exemption on recommendation of the Senate

Certificate of conditional exemption on recommendation of the Senate:

An applicant must be issued a certificate of conditional exemption by USAf if that applicant, in the opinion of the Senate has demonstrated, in a selection process approved by the Senate, that s/he is suitable for admission to the University. Where the Senate certifies that the holder of a certificate of conditional exemption issued in terms of this paragraph has completed the normal requirements of the curriculum for the first year of study of any qualification, USAf must issue a certificate of complete exemption to her/him, dated from the first day in January of the year in which the first degree credit was obtained. An applicant may be registered for a course under this rule only if places are available for that course. In the case of an applicant who has not qualified with an NSC or NC(V) for entry to a university, Rule G4.3 will apply.

4.10.3 Certificate of ordinary conditional exemption

An applicant who has been issued a conditional exemption from the matriculation examination and who has one outstanding requirement for complete exemption may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor provided that s/he fulfils that outstanding requirement in the first year of study as prescribed by USAf. In the case of an applicant who has not qualified with an NSC or NC(V) for entry to a university, Rule G4.3 will apply.

4.10.4 Mature age conditional exemption

An applicant who has been issued a mature age conditional exemption from the matriculation examination by virtue of being over the age of 23 years or 45 years, as the case may be, may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor on condition s/he fulfils the requirements of the undergraduate qualification within the period stipulated by the faculty concerned. Such fulfilment entitles the applicant to complete exemption from the matriculation examination.

For the purposes of mature age conditional exemption the USAf distinguishes between applicants aged 23 to 44 years and applicants of 45 years or more. Further details regarding mature age conditional exemption are available from USAf.

In the case of an applicant who has not qualified with an NSC or NC(V) for entry to a university, Rule G4.3 will apply.

4.10.5 Holder of a three-year diploma

An applicant who has passed school Grade 12, but who did not obtain a matriculation exemption, an NSC or an NC(V) to enter university, and who has completed a three- year diploma from a university, university of technology, teachers' training college, nursing college or a franchised or associated technical or community college recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor on condition that s/he fulfils the requirements of the undergraduate qualification within the period stipulated by the faculty concerned. Such fulfilment entitles the applicant to complete exemption from matriculation, the NSC or the NC(V).

4.10.6 Immigrant conditional exemption

Subject to Rule G4.4, a person who has resided in South Africa for less than five years and who has been issued with a conditional matriculation exemption by reason of not having passed a second language at higher grade in the school-leaving examination at a South African school, may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor, on condition that s/he completes a second language course at higher grade or NSC or NC(V) or university level within the period stipulated by the faculty concerned. The qualification cannot be awarded until this condition has been fulfilled.

4.10.7 Foreign conditional exemption

An applicant from a foreign country who has been issued a conditional exemption from the matriculation examination by USAf may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor on condition that s/he fulfils the requirements of the undergraduate qualification within the period stipulated by the faculty concerned. Such fulfilment entitles the applicant to complete exemption from the matriculation examination. In the case of a foreign applicant who has not qualified with an NSC or NC(V) for entry to a university, Rule G4.3 will apply.

4.11 Admission to a programme leading to a higher qualification

4.11.1 General requirement for admission to a programme leading to a higher qualification

For admission to a programme leading to a higher qualification the Senate must be satisfied that the candidate is qualified at an appropriate standard to undertake the proposed line of study or research or both.

4.11.2 Admission to a programme leading to a degree of bachelor with honours

Subject to Rule G4.11.6, a graduate in an area of study which the Senate considers appropriate of this or another university recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of bachelor with honours. However, in a case considered by it to be exceptional, the Senate may admit a person who has not satisfied all the requirements for the degree of bachelor, and in such a case the degree of bachelor with honours will not be made until the requirements for the degree of bachelor have been satisfied.

4.11.3 Admission to a postgraduate diploma or certificate

Subject to Rule G4.11.6, a graduate in an area of study which the Senate considers appropriate of this or another university recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to a programme leading to a postgraduate diploma or certificate. However, in a case considered by it to be exceptional, the Senate may admit as a student a person who has not satisfied all the requirements for the degree of bachelor, and in such a case the award of the postgraduate diploma or certificate will not be made until the requirements for the degree of bachelor have been satisfied.

4.11.4   Admission to a programme leading to the degree of master

Subject to Rule G4.11.6, a graduate of this or another university recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of master if s/he holds a qualification in a field considered by the Senate to be appropriate and which can normally only be taken over not less than four years of full-time study; or if s/he holds more than one qualification both or all of which are considered by the Senate to be in an appropriate field, and for which the combined number of years of full-time study is not less than four years. The Senate may require an applicant for registration for a programme leading to the degree of master to attend such courses or pass such examinations, oral or written or both, as it deems necessary before admitting her/him as a candidate for the qualification.

4.11.5   Admission to a programme leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Subject to Rule G4.11.6, a holder of a degree of master in an appropriate field from this or any other university recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to a programme leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

4.11.6   Overriding criteria for admission to a programme leading to the award of a higher qualification

Notwithstanding the criteria specified in Rule G4.11.2 to Rule G4.11.5 above, a person who has demonstrated a level of competence to the Senate's satisfaction by virtue of examples of research, writings, experience, professional standing or reputation or other attainments or qualifications in the discipline or cognate field may be admitted as a candidate to a higher qualification.

4.11.7   Admission to candidature for a senior doctorate

Any person may be admitted as a candidate for the degree of doctor if the Senate is satisfied, after consulting with an ad hoc committee of the faculty board concerned which has been convened to peruse the published work submitted, that, on the face of it, a case exists for admitting the candidate.

The following qualifications are senior doctorates:

Doctor of Architecture, Doctor of Commerce, Doctor of Economic Science, Doctor of Education, Doctor of Engineering, Doctor of Laws, Doctor of Literature, Doctor of Music, Doctor of Science, Doctor of Science in Architecture, Doctor of Science in Building, Doctor of Science in Business Administration, Doctor of Science in Dentistry, Doctor of Science in Engineering, Doctor of Science in Medicine, Doctor of Science in Quantity Surveying, Doctor of Science in Town and Regional Planning, Doctor of Town and Regional Planning.

4.12   Admission of occasional students

A person, whether matriculated or not, may be permitted by the Senate to register for courses outside a recognised curriculum subject to such requirements and conditions as may be determined by the Senate. However, any such courses may not subsequently be granted as credits towards a degree unless the student had matriculated before commencing them. A student seeking credit towards a qualification in respect of a course taken for non-qualification purposes at this University or another institution must satisfy the Senate that:

a) s/he is eligible for admission to the curriculum leading to the qualification; and

b) the validity of the credit/s has not lapsed.

4.13 Admission of study–abroad/ international occasional students

Students of an institution recognised by the Senate for this purpose may be admitted to courses for non-qualification purposes.

Where an exchange agreement with such an institution exists fees may be waived on the basis of reciprocity.

4.14 Admission – previously excluded students

The Senate may in exceptional circumstances consider the application of a student who was previously excluded from the University, for having failed to satisfy the minimum undergraduate degree requirements and exceeding the maximum time $(N+2)$ for the completion of the degree. In such a case the student will have to demonstrate that if s/he is readmitted, s/he will be able to succeed and complete the degree.

G5 Registration

The last day for registration differs among faculties and programmes. It is the responsibility of the student to find out from the relevant faculty office when the last day of registration is for her/his programme and to register on or before that date.

5.1 Registration and renewal of registration

Except with the permission of the Senate no person may attend any course or proceed as a candidate for any qualification unless s/he is registered as a student of the University at the material time. Registration is renewable annually or on such shorter period as the Senate may determine.

Normally, an annual period of registration is from the date of registration in a particular year until the last day of registration in the first quarter of the subsequent year in the relevant faculty.

A student who registers in the first semester for first semester or full year course(s) may with the permission of Senate substitute such course(s) with an equivalent course(s) provided that they do so within the first two weeks of the first semester.

A student who registers in the first semester for a course(s) that commences in the second semester may with the permission of Senate substitute such course(s) with an equivalent course(s) provided that they do so within the first two weeks of the second semester.

5.2 Concurrent registration at other institutions or faculties or for other qualifications

A person who is registered as a student for any qualification may not be registered as a student for any other qualification or at any other faculty of the University or at any other tertiary education institution except with the approval of the Senate normally given in advance. Such approval will only be granted in circumstances considered exceptional by the Senate.

5.3 Registration as a student prior to registration for a qualification

The Senate may permit or require a person, before being registered for a qualification, to register as an occasional student and attend courses for such period and pass assessments at the prescribed standard in such courses as the Senate may determine in her/his case.

5.4 Late registration

Late registration, for which a fee may be charged, may be permitted by the Senate only in exceptional circumstances.

5.5 Registration for twelve months for senior doctorate

A candidate for a senior doctorate must be registered as a student of the University for at least twelve months before the qualification may be conferred.

5.6 Cancellation of registration due to ill health

5.6.1 An applicant for registration in the first or any subsequent year of study may be required to satisfy the Vice-Chancellor that s/he is physically and mentally fit to carry out the work involved in that or any subsequent year of study, and may for this purpose be required to present herself/himself for, and submit to, any medical examination that the Vice-Chancellor may require in her/his case.

5.6.2 The Vice-Chancellor may suspend the registration of any student if s/he is satisfied that this step is warranted because of the student's physical or mental ill health. An appeal against such suspension may be made to the Council.

5.6.3 The Council may cancel the registration of any student because of her/his physical or mental ill health if it is satisfied after giving the student a proper opportunity to make representations (as defined in the Administration of Justice Amendment Act 53 of 2002), that this step is warranted.

5.7 Cancellation of registration as a result of unsatisfactory performance/progress

5.7.1 The Senate may cancel the registration of an undergraduate student in one or more of the courses for which that student is registered in that year, if in the opinion of the Senate the student's progress is unsatisfactory or if the academic achievement of the student is such that s/he will not at the end of the year obtain credit in such course or courses. For this rule to be invoked, the Head of School must ensure the criteria have been published in advance by which progress and/or academic achievement will be judged as the case may be. An appeal against such cancellation may be made in the first instance to the relevant Head of School. If the Head of School is unwilling to reverse her/his original decision, s/he shall forthwith place the student's representations and his/her own written comments before the Dean for a decision. In exceptional cases, the Dean may set up an appeal committee composed of two senior faculty members (one from the school concerned) nominated by her/him. The decision of the Dean or the appeal committee, as the case may be, shall be final. Fee implications associated with the cancellation of registrations are outlined in the Schedule of Fees books.

5.7.2 The Senate may cancel the registration of an undergraduate student in the qualification for which that student is registered in that year and in the opinion of the Senate the student's progress is unsatisfactory or the student has not met the conditions that was stipulated for her/his readmission in that year of study.

5.7.3 The Senate may cancel the registration of a postgraduate student registered for a programme by research if a higher degrees committee (or equivalent), on the recommendation of the relevant supervisor(s) and head of school, has considered the research proposal and/or other milestones of the research of that student and has judged the research proposal or the progress towards the milestones   to be academically unsatisfactory or, in material aspects, incomplete. The higher degrees committee may appoint a panel comprising one member of the higher degrees committee, the relevant supervisor and the relevant Head of School for the purpose of advising the higher degrees committee. Reasons must be given when such registration is cancelled and an appeal against such cancellation may be made to the Dean of the Faculty, who will then propose membership of an ad hoc committee to review the case. The three-person ad hoc committee will be chaired by the Dean. The Chairperson of the higher degrees committee; the Head of School and/or the Supervisor (or equivalent); may be in attendance.

If the ad hoc committee does not permit renewal of registration, the student has the right to submit a further appeal to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (DVC): Research who may consult with the Dean. The decision of the DVC: Research acting on behalf of the Council, shall be final. Fee implications associated with the cancellation of registrations are outlined in the Schedule of Fees book.

5.7.4 The process set out in Rule G5.7.3 will also apply to a postgraduate student registered for a programme which includes coursework.

5.8 Change of registration

In exceptional circumstances, where a first-year student is adjudged by the Senate to be making inadequate progress and the criteria by which such judgment is made have been published in terms of Rule G5.7, the student may be permitted or required to alter her/his registration to a special curriculum for the same qualification.

5.9 Cancellation of registration by student

5.9.1 Date of cancellation of registration for a qualification

Unless in exceptional circumstances the Senate otherwise determines, a student who cancels her/his registration for a qualification less than one month prior to the commencement of the final e*x*amination session in which the assessment for that qualification are held, will be deemed to have failed in all the courses for which s/he was registered in that year, except for those courses which s/he has already completed.

5.9.2 Date of cancellation of registration in a particular course

Unless the Senate otherwise determines, a student may not cancel her/his registration for a particular course less than one month prior to the commencement date of the final e*x*amination session in which the assessment for that course is held.

5.10 Refusal of permission to register

A student who fails to complete a course may be refused permission by the Senate to register again for that course if admission to the course is limited or if s/he has registered more than once for that course.

G6   Attendance

6.1   Minimum Attendance

The minimum attendance for any programme shall be determined by the Faculty Rules in compliance with the HEQFS.

6.2   Failure to attend

Any student registered for any course who fails to fulfil the attendance requirements prescribed by the faculty for that course may be refused permission by the Senate to present herself/himself for assessment in that course.

6.3   Outside work, visits, tours, fieldwork, vacation employment, non-examined courses

The requirements for any qualification or course may include such work or attendance whether within or outside the University and during the academic year and/or vacation periods as the Senate may prescribe. A student is required to perform satisfactorily all duties required of her/him in this connection. Failure to comply with these requirements may result in the student being refused permission by the Senate to present herself/himself for assessment, to register for the subsequent year of study or any particular year of study thereafter or ineligibility for the conferment of the qualification.

6.4   Exemption from attendance

In exceptional circumstances where it is deemed appropriate, the Senate may excuse a student from attending all or part of a course.

6.5   Attendance requirement for students for qualification

Any student for whom attendance is not otherwise prescribed by the rules is required to attend at the University for such period and in such manner as may be determined by the Senate. The Senate may waive this requirement in exceptional circumstances.

6.6   Limitation on the activity of a student for reasons of ill health

6.6.1   The Vice-Chancellor is entitled to investigate the physical or mental health of any student where s/he considers it necessary in the interest of the student or in the interests of the University, to that end may require the student to obtain a medical report from or to submit to examination by a suitably qualified medical practitioner or psychologist acceptable to the Vice-Chancellor. The University is responsible for any costs incurred in the course of such investigation.

6.6.2   Whenever the Vice-Chancellor has reasonable grounds to believe that a student is or may become a danger to herself/himself or to any other person, or may cause damage to any premises occupied or under the control of the University, or may disrupt any of the activities or functions of the University, s/he may place limitations on the presence or activities of that student on University premises and the student is required to observe those limitations.

Without prejudice to her/his general powers under this rule, the Vice- Chancellor may prohibit the student from –

a)   entering the precincts of, or any specified part of the University including a University residence; and/or

b) attending any lecture or any specified lectures, laboratory, or other classes or activity whether academic or otherwise.

Any action taken under this rule must be reported to the next meeting of Council or the Executive Committee of Council.

6.6.3 Unless in the opinion of the Vice-Chancellor the urgency of the case or the condition of the student concerned makes it inappropriate or impractical to do so, the Vice-Chancellor or any other officer of the University designated by the Vice-Chancellor, must interview the student concerned before any action is taken under Rule G6.6.2 above and afford her/him a reasonable opportunity to be heard.

6.6.4 Any limitation imposed on a student under Rule G6.6.2 above remains in force until the Vice-Chancellor is satisfied that it is no longer necessary. However, the student concerned is entitled at any time to make representations to the Vice-Chancellor or to apply to the Council to review any limitations imposed under Rule G6.6.2 above.

6.6.5 The Council may, at any time, investigate the matter and having considered any representations that may have been made by the Vice-Chancellor or the student concerned, may confirm, alter or set aside any limitation imposed under G6.6.2 above.

G7 Curricula

7.1 Senate approval of curriculum

A person may not be registered for a curriculum leading to a qualification in any year of study until her/his curriculum for that year has been approved by the Senate. An approved curriculum may only be amended with the consent of the Senate.

7.2 Condonation of breach of rules

The Senate may, with retrospective effect, condone any breach of the faculty rules governing a curriculum if it is satisfied that the student concerned was not at fault and would suffer undue hardship if the breach were not condoned.

7.3 Restriction on choice of courses

In terms of Rule G2.6 wherever the rules for a qualification provide for the selection of courses by a student, such selection may be limited by the timetable of classes, a restriction on the number of students to be registered for a particular course or insufficient resources.

7.4 Special curricula

The Senate may approve a special cognately consonant curriculum for a student:

a) where it considers it necessary for that student to proceed on a curriculum which extends beyond the minimum period of full-time study. The maximum period of extension is stipulated in the faculty rules; or

b) where it considers it necessary for that student to proceed on foundation and/or additional courses which do not contribute credits towards a qualification; or

c) who has been granted credits or exemptions in terms of Rule G4.7; or

d) who has interrupted her/his studies at the University prior to a change in the rules governing the curriculum or qualification for which s/he was registered or to whom no curriculum is currently applicable; or

e) who has been permitted to proceed to a subsequent year of study without having obtained credit for all the courses prescribed for the previous year of study; or

f) who has, in circumstances considered by the Senate to be exceptional, been able to give satisfactory evidence of her/his qualifications to proceed to a second or third level course in a subject; or

g) who, in the opinion of the Senate, suffers or has suffered a disadvantage because of illness or physical disability or because of some other good and sufficient cause; or

h) who has, in circumstances considered by the Senate to be exceptional, been able to give satisfactory evidence of her/his ability to complete the first course in a subject by part-time study; or

i) in any other circumstances which it considers academically desirable or necessary. The granting of a special curriculum has been delegated by the Senate to the Dean of each faculty, or to the nominee/s of the Dean, in instances where the Dean reports such nomination/s and the period for which each such person will exercise this responsibility, to the Faculty Board.

7.5 Change of rules during a student's registration

If the rules governing a qualification are changed, a student who registered under the old rules and who has obtained sufficient credits to enable her/him to proceed to the next year of study in terms of those rules, may proceed on the old curriculum unless s/he elects to proceed on the new curriculum. However where there are, in the opinion of the Senate, compelling reasons for doing so, which may include failure in one or more courses, or where a student does not register for the next year of study in the ensuing academic year or where at her/his request, a student is permitted by the Senate to register in the ensuing year on a special curriculum, that student may be required by the Senate to proceed on new rules or on interim rules or on a special curriculum laid down for her/him by the Senate.

7.6 Study-abroad component/ foreign electives

A registered student who completes a study-abroad component approved by the Senate or, as part of an institutional exchange agreement, completes appropriate credits at an institution which is recognised by the Senate for this purpose in a country other than South Africa, earns credits as defined in the requirements for the qualification.

7.7 Credits

Subject to the rules pertaining to a particular qualification and any special restrictions on credits in the rules, a student obtains credit in any course that s/he successfully completes. However, even if a student obtains such credit, s/he may be refused permission to renew her/his registration if s/he fails to comply with the minimum requirements of study prescribed.

7.8 Minimum requirements of study

7.8.1 A student who does not meet the minimum requirements of study may be refused permission by the Senate to renew her/his registration. If, however, a student is permitted to renew her/his registration after having failed to satisfy the minimum requirements of study, s/he may be required to satisfy further conditions as the Senate may determine in her/his case.

The minimum requirements of study prescribed for students are set out in the faculty rules.

7.8.2 Save in exceptional circumstances, a student who fails to meet the minimum requirements of study after s/he has reached or exceeded the maximum time (N + 2) for the completion of the degree shall not be permitted by Senate to renew her/his study with the University.

Rule 7.8.2 will only apply to undergraduate programmes.

7.9 Withdrawal of, or refusal to grant credits and/or exemptions

The Senate may withdraw or refuse to grant credits and/or exemptions if, in the opinion of the Senate, the time which has elapsed between obtaining the credit or exemption and completion of the other requirements for the award of a qualification is excessive or is excessive in view of the nature of the subject.

Unless otherwise stipulated by the Dean of the Faculty, the shelf life of a course is four years.

7.10 Sub-minimum rule

Unless specified otherwise in a course outline, a student will not be allowed to obtain credit for a course unless s/he achieves:

a)   a final mark of at least 50 percent for that course; and

b)   a sub-minimum of 35 percent in each of the components of that course as well as in the summative assessment for that course.

Such a sub-minimum criterion applies only to components which contribute 25 percent or more towards a course, unless specified otherwise in the course outline.

Summative assessment in this instance is assessment that regulates the progression of students by awarding marks at the conclusion of a course.

G8 Requirements for Award of Qualification

In addition to the requirements of admission, registration, attendance and assessment applicable to the qualification for which a student is registered, such student must meet the requirements for the award of the qualification by obtaining credit in the courses set in each academic year and/or conducting research approved by the Senate and satisfying such further requirements as may be prescribed by the Senate and which are set out in the faculty rules.

G9 Degree of Master

9.1 General

The Senate may require a candidate for the degree of master as a condition of the conferment of the degree to attend such courses or pass such examinations (written or oral) as it deems necessary before conferring the qualification.

9.2 The programme of master proceeding by research

Where appropriate a faculty may offer a programme leading to the degree of master by advanced study and research normally under the guidance of a supervisor/s appointed by the Senate.

9.3 Programme of master by research report and coursework

Where appropriate a faculty may offer a programme leading to the degree of master by research report and coursework by by attendance, completion of a curriculum approved by the Senate and submission of coursework and research report on an approved topic by the Senate.

9.4 Conditions for the conferment of the degree of master by research

A person who is admitted as a candidate for a degree of master by research must, after consultation with her or his supervisor if there is one, present for the approval of the Senate a dissertation on a subject approved by the Senate. The dissertation must, in the opinion of the Senate, constitute both an application of the methods of research and a contribution to the advancement of knowledge in the subject chosen.

Consistent with the definition of a dissertation in Rule G1.13, a dissertation will be an extended piece of written work which may incorporate creative work or publications.

The terms Dissertation and Research Report are defined in Rule G1.13 and G1.29 Further conditions for the conferment of the degree of master are set out in the faculty rules and the Senate Standing Orders for Higher Degrees.

9.5 Supervision of full-time members of staff

In circumstances considered by it to be exceptional the Senate may dispense with the requirement for supervision in the case of a candidate who holds an appointment as a member of the full-time academic staff of the University and has held such appointment for such period as is laid down in the faculty rules. In such a case the Senate must appoint an internal and external examiner.

9.6 Abstract and style of Dissertation or Research Report

The Dissertation or Research Report prescribed by the Senate must include an abstract and conform as far as possible to the style, length and format recommended in the authorised style guide obtainable from faculty offices.

9.7 Copies of Dissertation or Research Report

A candidate for the degree of master must submit for examination an electronic copy of her/his dissertation or research report via email or any other electronic platform designated by the faculty office. In exceptional circumstances the examiner may request a hard copy of the dissertation or research report. In such a case, the candidate will be required to provide a bound hard copy or copies, together with the electronic version. Copies must be in a format that, in the opinion of the Senate, is suitable for submission to the examiners.

Prior to graduation, a candidate must submit a final, corrected electronic copy of her/his dissertation or research report via email or any other electronic platform designated by the faculty office.

9.8 Formal declaration

Together with her/his dissertation or research report, a candidate must submit a formal declaration stating whether –

a)   it is her/his own unaided work or, if s/he has been assisted, what assistance s/he has received;

b)   the substance or any part of it has been submitted in the past or is being or is to be submitted for a qualification at any other university;

c)   the information used in the dissertation or research report has been obtained by her/him while employed by, or working under the aegis of, any person or organisation other than the University.

9.9 Acknowledgement of conferment of degree if material is published

A candidate upon whom a degree of master has been conferred by the University and who subsequently publishes or republishes her/his dissertation or research report in whole or in part, must indicate on the title page or in the preface or, if this is not appropriate, in a footnote, that such Dissertation or Research Report has been approved for that qualification by the University.

9.10 Completion of all requirements for the degree of master

Unless the Senate has granted an extension of time, a candidate who has not satisfied all the requirements for the degree of master including submission of a research report, if s/he is required to submit one, by the date stipulated in the faculty rules is deemed to have failed. If the Senate grants her/him such extension s/he is required to register for the new academic year.

G10 Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

10.1 Fulfilment of requirements for conferment of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy

When the research is completed a candidate must:

a) present for the approval of the Senate a thesis, the research for which is normally conducted under the guidance of a supervisor/s, which must constitute in the opinion of the Senate a substantial contribution to the advancement of knowledge in the subject chosen, and which must be satisfactory as regards literary presentation;

The term thesis is defined in Rule G1.36. Further conditions for the conferment of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy are set out in the faculty rules and the Senate Standing Orders for Higher Degrees.

b) furnish an abstract with each copy of the thesis;

c) if required by the Senate, present herself/himself for such assessment, or such other requirements as the Senate may determine in respect of the subject of her/his thesis.

10.2 Supervision of full-time members of staff

In circumstances considered by it to be exceptional, the Senate may dispense with the requirement for supervision in the case of a candidate who holds an appointment as a member of the full-time academic staff of the University and has held such appointment for such period as is laid down in the faculty rules. In such a case, the Senate must appoint one internal and two external examiners.

10.3 Copies of thesis

Unless the faculty rules for the qualification require otherwise, a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy must submit for examination an electronic copy of her/his thesis via email or any other electronic platform designated by the faculty office. In exceptional circumstances, the examiner may request a hard copy of the thesis. In such a case, the candidate will be required to provide a bound copy of her/his thesis, together with the electronic version. The bound copies must be in a format that, in the opinion of the Senate, is suitable for submission to the examiners.

Prior to graduation, a candidate must submit a final, corrected electronic copy of her/his thesis via email or any other electronic platform designated by the faculty office.

The rules relating to formal declaration (Rule G9.8), acknowledgement of conferment of the qualification, (Rule G9.9) and completion of all requirements for the degree of master (Rule G9.10), apply with the appropriate changes.

G9.7, G10.3: A candidate for a higher degree is not entitled to the return of such copies.

G11 Senior Doctorate

11.1 Conditions for the conferment of the degree

A candidate for a senior doctorate must present for the approval of the Senate at least five copies of original published work, or original work accepted for publication, in a field approved by the Senate. Such work must, in the opinion of the Senate, constitute a distinguished contribution to the advancement of knowledge in that field.

11.2 Notice of intention to apply for candidature

A candidate must give notice in writing to the Registrar of her/his intention to present herself/ himself as a candidate for the qualification, submitting at the same time the title and an outline of the proposed submission.

G12 Conversion of candidature for higher qualifications

12.1 General

Where the requirements for a higher qualification allow, a candidate may be permitted or required by Senate under conditions prescribed by it to convert her/his candidature from one higher qualification to another within the period of registration. Special conditions for conversion are specified in the faculty rules.

The conditions for conversion are generally applicable for existing programmes and qualifications prior to 2009, for new programmes or qualifications, i.e. those which have not existed before 2009, the conditions for conversion are subject to Senate discretion. On conferment of a converted higher qualification, the transcript will be endorsed to reflect the conversion.

Conditions for conversion may change in light of the Higher Education Qualifications Sub-Framework.

12.2 Conversion from a programme leading to the degree of master by research to a programme leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy

a) A person who has been admitted as a candidate for the degree of master may, in exceptional circumstances, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the supervisor and of the Head of the School concerned, on the basis of work towards the dissertation be allowed, by permission of the Senate, to proceed instead to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Provided further that the degree of master shall NOT be conferred on her/him in the event of her/his–

i) withdrawing her/his candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy;

ii) having her/his candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy cancelled in terms Rule G5.7; or failing to satisfy the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

b) A person who has completed the requirements for the degree of master, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the Head of the School concerned, may be permitted by the Senate not to have the qualification conferred on her/him, but to conduct, for not less than one academic year of further full-time study, or not less than two academic years of further part-time study, additional research for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, which shall be a significant extension of the research already completed by her/him: Provided that the period of additional research may be waived or reduced in a case considered by the Senate to be exceptional. Provided further that the degree of master shall NOT be conferred on her/him in the event of her/his –

i) withdrawing her/his candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy;

or

ii) having her/his candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy cancelled in terms Rule G5.7; or

iii) failing to satisfy the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

c) A person who is permitted to change her/his candidature in terms of (a) or (b) above will be deemed to have been admitted to candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the date of her/his admission to candidature for the degree of master, or at such later date as the Senate may determine in her/his case, but will be subject, in all other respects, to the rules for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and such other conditions as the Senate may determine in her/his case.

12.3 Conversion from a programme leading to a degree of master by coursework and research report to a programme leading to the degree of master by research

a) A person who has been admitted as a candidate for the degree of master by coursework and research report may, in exceptional circumstances, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the supervisor and of the Head of the School concerned, on the basis of work towards the research report be allowed, by permission of the Senate, to proceed instead to the degree of master by research. Provided further that the degree of master by coursework and research report shall NOT be conferred on her/him in the event of her/his-

i) withdrawing her/his candidature for the degree of master by research; or

ii) having her/his candidature for the degree of master by research cancelled in terms Rule G5.7; or

iii) failing to satisfy the requirements for the degree of master by research.

b)   A person who has completed the requirements for the degree of master by coursework and research report, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the Head of the School concerned, may be permitted by the Senate not to have the degree conferred on her/him, but to conduct, for not less than one academic year of further full-time study, or not less than two academic years of further part-time study, additional research for the degree of master by research, which shall be a significant extension of the research already completed by her/him: Provided that the period of additional research may be waived or reduced in a case considered by the Senate to be exceptional. Provided further that the degree of master by coursework and Research Report shall be conferred on her/him in the event of her/his –

i) withdrawing her/his candidature for the degree of master by research; or

ii) having her/his candidature for the degree of master by research cancelled in terms Rule G5.7; or

iii) failing to satisfy the requirements for the degree of master by research.

c)   A person who is permitted to change her/his candidature in terms of (a) or (b) above will be deemed to have been admitted to candidature for the degree of master by research at the date of her/his admission to candidature for the degree of master by coursework and research report, or at such later date as the Senate may determine in her/his case, but will be subject, in all other respects, to the rules for the degree of master by research and such other conditions as the Senate may determine in her/his case.

G13 Assessment

13.1 General

An assessment may be written, practical, electronic, clinical or oral, in project or assignment form or be any other piece of work or any combination thereof as may be specified by the Senate, provided that a student's overall assessment does not consist of an oral assessment alone, except if expressly determined as appropriate by the Senate. Such determination may not be delegated. In all cases the evaluation must be in a form that is suitable for objective assessment by an internal moderator or external examiner. In each case the School must make clear the extent and nature of the work to be assessed and the criteria to be used.

13.2 Examiners

13.2.1   At least one examiner for each course must be a member of the academic staff of the University who has taught the students in the course under assessment unless it is impracticable in any instance because of the death, dismissal, resignation, absence, illness or other incapacity of the member of staff concerned, or for some reason deemed by the Senate to be sufficient.

13.2.2   At least 50 percent of the assessments that contribute to the final marks for every course will be internally moderated and/or externally examined, provided that at least 30 percent of every course is externally examined.

13.2.3   An internal moderator is normally a member of the academic staff who may be from the same department or school or from another department or school but who has not been involved at all in teaching the course during the relevant academic year. Unless otherwise impracticable or with the approval of the Dean, an internal moderator should not be appointed to examine the same course for more than three consecutive years.

13.2.4   An external examiner is normally appointed from outside the University, preferably from another university, or in the case of professional disciplines, from among experienced members of the professions. In exceptional cases where these options are impracticable, a member of the academic staff may, with the permission of the Dean, be appointed as an external examiner but only if s/he has not been involved at all in teaching the course during the relevant academic year. Unless otherwise impracticable or with the approval of the Dean an external examiner should not be appointed to examine the same course for more than three consecutive years. There should be no reciprocity between external examiners from this and other institutions save in circumstances which the Senate deems exceptional.

13.2.5   An additional requirement with regard to examiners for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy is that the Senate must appoint three examiners of whom two must be external examiners as defined in Rule G13.2.4 above.

13.3   Eligibility for assessment

A student may be disqualified from presenting herself/himself for any assessment if s/he has not satisfied such requirements, including satisfactory participation in the work of the class, as may be prescribed by the Senate.

These requirements include, but are not limited to: attendance, assignments completed, tutorials participated in, practical experiments, clinical work, field work and outside work. It is incumbent on each student to ascertain from the head of school what is required to qualify for presentation for assessment for each course. Disqualification includes being refused permission to complete an assessment or receiving no marks for such assessment.

13.4   Additional oral or other form of assessment

The Senate may require a student to present herself/himself for an oral or other form of assessment if, on the marks obtained by her/him after prescribed assessment/s, s/he is, in the opinion of the Senate, on the borderline of the pass mark or the mark required for a particular class, as defined in the faculty or school standing orders. In such an event the marks obtained in such oral assessment are reported to the Senate in addition to the marks obtained in the prescribed assessment/s. The Senate must then determine the mark to be allocated.

13.5   Supplementary assessments

A student who has failed a course may be permitted by the Senate to present herself/himself for a supplementary assessment where such assessment is permitted by the rules of the faculty which teaches and examines the course, unless otherwise agreed by the faculties concerned. Supplementary assessments may only be deferred in circumstances considered by the Senate to be exceptional.

A supplementary assessment fee may be charged.

13.6   Deferred assessments

13.6.1   S*tudents* applying for a deferred examination must do so within three (3) working days after the date of the examination.

13.6.2   If the Dean of the faculty is satisfied that there is sufficient reason, s/he may permit a student to defer her/his assessment/s. The Dean will require the student to submit such evidence to support her/his case as the Dean considers necessary.

A Dean who permits a student to present herself/himself for a deferred assessment may require her/him to do so at such time and subject to such conditions as s/he considers fit and, in particular, may require the student to defer or to repeat (as the case may be) some or all her/his assessments (or some or all the assessments that s/he has not failed) in the year in respect of which her/his application is lodged.

13.6.3   A student who does not present herself/himself for a deferred assessment is not entitled or permitted to have the assessment further deferred unless there are, in the opinion of the Senate, exceptional grounds for permitting her/him to do so.

13.6.4   Unless in the opinion of the Senate, exceptional circumstances exist, a deferred assessment:

a)   in the first semester, must be completed not later than the first week of the third teaching block;

b)   in the second semester, must be completed before the commencement of the following academic year.

13.7 Re-assessment

Where a student has presented herself/himself for assessment and before the results or provisional or unconfirmed results of such assessment are published, the Dean of the faculty, after due consideration of the relevant factors, may permit a student to sit for re-assessment if at the time of the assessment owing to illness or her/his mental state, the student was unable to bring her/his judgment properly to bear on whether to apply for a deferred assessment in terms of Rule G13.6.1 above and if the Dean considers that the student would suffer hardship to an exceptional degree were s/he not allowed to do so.

13.8 Absence from assessment

Unless the Senate is satisfied that there was good and sufficient reason, a student who is absent from an assessment, in a course for which, in accordance with the relevant curriculum, s/he is required, permitted or entitled to present herself/himself, fails that course.

G14 Academic Progression

14.1 Completion of courses prescribed for previous year of study

Except as provided in the rules for any qualification or by permission of the Senate, a student may not be admitted to a year of study until s/he has completed the courses prescribed for any preceding year of study and satisfied such further requirements, if any, as are prescribed by the rules.

14.2 Standard required to proceed

A student may not include in her/his curriculum any course at a subsequent level unless s/he has attained in that course at the preceding level such standard as is considered by the Senate to warrant her/his admission to the course at the subsequent level and has satisfied the prerequisites for that course as determined by the Senate from time to time.

14.3 Prerequisite non-credit bearing courses

Where a student is required to attend a course which does not constitute a credit towards the qualification for which s/he is registered or to perform any other requirement prescribed for any particular year of study for any qualification, her/him failure to attend such course or to perform such other requirement may result in her/him being refused permission by the Senate to register for the subsequent year of study or any particular year of study thereafter.

14.4 Special curricula for students who cannot proceed to the next year of study

A student who has obtained credit in some of the courses prescribed for any year of study but who may not in terms of the rules proceed to the following year of study and who has not been excluded in terms of the faculty rules for progression, may be permitted or required by the Senate to proceed on a special curriculum. In addition to the courses being repeated the student may be permitted to include in her/his curriculum a course or courses prescribed for the next year of study and/or such course as may enrich the content of her/his curriculum.

14.5 Re-attendance requirement for students who cannot proceed to the next year of study

A student who is not permitted by the Senate to proceed to the subsequent year of study or to include in her/his curriculum for the following academic year a further course in a subject in which s/he has obtained credit, may be required by the Senate to re-attend and perform to the satisfaction of the Senate the work of the class prescribed for such a repeated course, failing which s/he may be refused permission to register for the subsequent year of study or any particular year of study thereafter.

G15 Results

15.1 Publication of results

The final mark obtained by a student in a course may be published either by way of a percentage mark or as a result decision except where the Senate has, in the case of some supplementary assessments, ruled otherwise.

15.2 Non-publication of results

The final marks obtained by a s*tudent* will not be published and a qualification will not be conferred on a student unless and until –

a) s/he has paid all outstanding fees, levies, disbursements, fines and any other monies lawfully owing to the University;

b) any disciplinary proceedings, pending or incomplete, have been completed; and

c) there has been compliance with any order made against the student as a consequence of any disciplinary proceedings.

G16 Conferment of qualification

16.1 Congregation

Qualifications must be conferred by the University at a meeting of the Congregation of the University convened for this purpose.

16.2 Issuing of a certificate

Degrees are conferred and Diplomas are granted at a University Graduation ceremony. A degree or diploma certificate will not be issued to a student/candidate prior to her/his name appearing in the official graduation programme.

16.3 Endorsement of certificate

Where a qualification is conferred or granted in a specific field, option or branch, the Senate may determine that the certificate attesting to such conferment or granting will bear a statement specifying that field, option or branch. The Senate may determine that where a person who has been granted such a certificate has satisfied the requirements for another field, option or branch, the original certificate be endorsed to reflect this fact.

16.4 Non-conferment of qualification

A student who otherwise qualifies for the conferment of a qualification may be deemed not to have done so unless and until –

a)   the student has paid all outstanding fees, levies, disbursements, fines and any other monies lawfully owing to the University;

b)   any disciplinary proceedings, pending or incomplete, have been completed;

c)   any order made against the student as a consequence of any disciplinary proceedings has been complied with; and

d)   in the case of the conversion from one higher qualification to another s/he has surrendered the certificate in respect of the former higher qualification. Where such surrender is impossible the Senate may permit the conferment of the qualification.

16.5 Permission to complete qualification by obtaining credits elsewhere

The Senate may, if it considers fit, permit a student who has only one or two, or, in a case considered by it to be exceptional, three courses or such number of courses as does not exceed 30 per cent of the total number of prescribed courses outstanding for a qualification and who satisfies the Senate that, by reason of a change of residence, or for some other good and sufficient cause, s/he is unable to continue attending at the University, to complete such course or courses at another university or at an institution recognised for this purpose by the Senate within or outside the Republic of South Africa.

The policy of the faculties on this issue is set out in the standing orders of each faculty.

G17 Conferment of Qualification with Distinction

The qualification is awarded with distinction or with distinction in a particular course to a student who has obtained the standard laid down by the Senate for that purpose.

G18 Honorary Degrees

18.1   A proposal to confer an honorary degree may be made either by a member of the Council or of the Senate and must be seconded by another member of either of these structures.

18.2   The proposal must be communicated in writing to the University Registrar.

18.3   The proposal must be accompanied by a statement setting out the reasons for making it.

18.4   A resolution to confer an honorary degree must be passed in the Council and in the Senate by an absolute majority of the members of each structure voting by secret postal ballot.

18.5   A person who sits on both structures is entitled to vote in each election.

G19   Intellectual Property

Students are advised to refer to the University Policy on Intellectual Property.

19.1   Any owner's right to intellectual property in any thesis, dissertation, Research Report or any other work is normally subject to the right of the University to make a reproduction of it or parts of it in any medium for a person or institution requiring it for study or research, provided that not more than one copy is supplied to that person or institution.

19.2   Where research includes a patentable invention, the University may keep the research confidential for a reasonable period if specifically requested to do so.

19.3   Where confidentiality has been agreed in advance the University must keep the research confidential for the period agreed.

19.4   Subject to 19.2 and 19.3 the University may distribute abstracts or summaries of any thesis, dissertation, research report or any other work for publication in indexing and bibliographic periodicals considered by the University to be appropriate.

G20   Ethical Clearance

S*tudents* who propose to conduct research of any kind on human or animal subjects must apply for ethical clearance from the appropriate University's Ethics Committee/s

SENATE RULES
FOR THE
FACULTY OF HUMANITIES

These Rules are subordinate to and should be read in conjunction with the General Rules. The Rules for degrees and diplomas published here are subject to change. They reflect the Rules and Regulations of the University as at 31 July 2021 but may be amended prior to the commencement of the 2022 academic year.

General Information

Definitions

Course levels: *course*s are offered at four levels, 1000, 2000, 3000 and 4000. The course levels are defined by the Senate according to its determination of the difficulty of the course. The most difficult are classified as being at the 3000 and 4000 level, the least difficult at the 1000 level and the others at the 2000 level. The levels 1000, 2000, 3000 and 4000 are denoted by numerals I, II, III and IV respectively.

Major consists of a series of *course*s in a single subject. At least 156 *credit*s have to be obtained from approved *course*s in a major subject of which at least 72 *credit*s are at the 3000 level, at least 48 *credit*s at the 2000 level and at least 36 *credit*s at the 1000 level.

Corequisite course is a prerequisite which may be taken concurrently with another course and which a requirement is for credit in that other course.

Prerequisite course is a course which must be passed before registration for a subsequent course.

For further definitions see Rule-G1 and Rule G2.

2.1.1 Admission Rules

Please see specific admission rules for the professional qualifications outlined below.

2.1.1.1 Admission under special conditions

The following students may be permitted by the Senate to proceed to a degree of bachelor in the Faculty of Humanities under such special conditions as the Senate considers necessary:

a) A student who has obtained credit in *course*s towards one of the degrees of bachelor in the Faculty of Humanities, and who wishes to proceed to another degree of bachelor in the faculty.

b) A student who holds a degree of bachelor in the Faculty of Humanities, hereinafter referred to as the first degree, and who wishes to proceed to a second degree of bachelor in Humanities, hereinafter referred to as the second degree.

c) A student who has obtained credit in *course*s towards a degree of bachelor in another faculty and who wishes to proceed to a bachelor's degree in the Faculty of Humanities.

d) A student who holds a degree of bachelor of another university or in another faculty of this University and who wishes to proceed to a degree of bachelor in the Faculty of Humanities.

Provided that a student mentioned in (b) or (d) above shall:

i) attend and obtain credit in *course*s yielding half the *credit*s required for the Bachelor of Arts which shall include all the *credit*s required at the 3000 level or, in the case of a degree other than the Bachelor of Arts with Honours all the *course*s required for the final two years of study, exemption by permission of the Senate in a case considered by it to be exceptional;

ii) not be permitted to complete the requirements for the second degree until at least two years have lapsed after s/he has satisfied all the requirements prescribed for the first degree of bachelor.

2.1.1.2 Admission into the Postgraduate Certificate in Education

*Student*s intending to proceed to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education should note that acceptance into certain subject methodology *course*s is not automatic as selection procedures may be applied (at present this applies to Psychology, Modern and African Languages). In particular, those intending to major in Psychology with a view to registering for Guidance Methodology are advised to include in their curricula at least two *course*s or a course at the 2000 level in a third teaching subject. In addition, students intending to proceed to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education are strongly advised to confirm with the Faculty Office that the curriculum chosen for the bachelor programme satisfies the requirements for admission to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education. *Student*s intending to teach may not substitute for a required course any *course*s from related disciplines or subjects. Not all *course*s will be offered in every academic year, and admission to any course is by approval of the Senate, who will take into consideration a student's prior experience in *course*work for the programme.

2.1.2 Progression Rules

i) Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student at the 3000 or 4000 level may register for courses in any of the professional disciplines provided that all prerequisites have been met and that the courses yield the required number of credits.

ii) Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student shall not be admitted to a subsequent year of study unless s/he has fulfilled all the requirements of the previous year of study.

iii) Music students who have not passed the Music Foundation courses may not proceed with the BMus degree. In some cases the successful completion of an audition may be accepted in lieu of the Music Foundation courses.

In all years of study:

i) a student is required to pass at least four courses of all registered courses unless fewer are needed to complete the programme;

ii) provided that in the case of a student who has failed to satisfy the minimum requirements of study, in terms of the rules applicable to him/her, for another programme in the Faculty of Humanities or any other faculty of the University or who has failed to satisfy the minimum requirements of study of any other university must pass at least six courses; and

iii) provided that in the case of a student who has been permitted to renew her/his registration after failing to meet the requirements of (i) or (ii) above must pass at least eight courses.

2.1.2.1 Admission to courses

i) In order to progress to the next level course a student must have completed the preceding level course at a standard considered by the Senate to warrant her/his admission to the next level.

ii) In exceptional circumstances, in accordance with Faculty rules pertaining to condonations and with the approval of the Senate, failure may be condoned to a pass.

iii) A failure condoned to a pass may result in the student not being allowed to progress to the next level course.

2.1.2.2 Readmission to and repeating courses

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student shall not be readmitted to a course for which s/he has twice registered but which s/he has not passed: Provided that a student who cancels her/his registration in such course timeously in terms of Rule G5.9.2 is deemed not to have registered for that course in that particular year or semester.

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student will not be permitted to repeat any foundation course.

2.1.3 Exclusion Rules

Students, that do not meet a minimum of 72 credits in any semester, may be academically excluded and must appeal to the Wits Re*admission* Council (WRC) for re*admission*.

2.1.4 Bachelor of Audiology

Qualification Name	Programme Code	NQF Exit Level	NQF Credits
Bachelor of Audiology	AFA13	8	561
Plan code: APAAUD20

2.1.4.1 Admission Rules

National Senior Certificate Requirements:

a) A pass in English First Language with at least 5 at the NSC level or a pass in English First Additional Language with at least 5 at the NSC level.

b) A pass of at least 4 in Mathematics at the NSC level.

Or

Matriculation requirements:

a) A pass in English First Language at the Higher Grade or a standard of at least 40 percent in English Second Language at the Higher Grade; and

b) a pass in Mathematics at the Higher Grade or a standard of at least 50 percent in Mathematics at the Standard Grade; and

c) a pass at the Higher Grade in one of the following subjects:

d) A language other than English, Art, Biblical Studies, Biology, Drama, Economics, Geography, History, Mathematics, Music, Physical Science, Physiology, Speech and Drama provided that if an applicant has passed Mathematics at the Standard Grade in (b) above s/he must have completed at least two of the subjects listed in (c). Provided further that if one of the subjects passed is Art, Drama, Music or Speech and Drama, the applicant must in addition pass one of the other subjects in the above list.

2.1.4.2   Length of study

The Bachelor of Audiology is a full-time four year undergraduate professional degree.

2.1.4.3   Credit rules

Special restrictions on credit for *course*s in Bachelor of Audiology

Unless the Senate determines otherwise, in a particular case, where the curriculum for a particular year of study includes *course*s in Audiology and Clinical Practical in Audiology, a student shall not obtain credit in either of such *course*s unless s/he completes both such *course*s in the same academic year.

2.1.4.4   Progression rules

In order to progress to the next course level a student must have completed the preceding course level at a standard considered by the Senate to warrant her/his admission to the next level. In exceptional circumstances, in accordance with Faculty rules pertaining to condonations and with the approval of the Senate, failure may be condoned to a pass. A failure condoned to a pass may result in the student not being allowed to progress to the next course level.

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student shall not be admitted

a) To the second year of study, unless s/he has obtained a minimum of 126 credits which must include Speech Pathology and Audiology I (SPPA1004A); Speech and Hearing Science (SPPA1003A), Anatomy and Physiology for Speech Pathology and Audiology students (ANAT1000A) and two other 1000 level courses noted in the syllabus section.

b) To the third year of study, unless s/he has obtained credit in all the courses prescribed for the first and second years of study.

c) To the fourth year of study, unless s/he has obtained credit in the subject of Psychology and in Psychological Research Design and Analysis IIA, Audiology III, and Clinical Practical in Audiology III.

Re*admission* to and repeating *course*s

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student shall not be readmitted to a course for which s/he has twice registered but which s/he has not passed: Provided that a student who cancels her/his registration in such course timeously in terms of Rule G5.9.2 is deemed not to have registered for that course in that particular year or semester.

2.1.4.5   Declaration rules

i) Prior to the commencement of the clinical practical work in the first year of study a student will be required to subscribe to the following declaration:

   'As a student of Audiology of the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, I do solemnly declare:

   That I will not improperly divulge anything I may learn in my capacity as a student of Audiology;

   And that in my relations with patients and colleagues I will conduct myself as becomes a student of the profession of Audiology.'

ii) Prior to being admitted to the degree a student will be required to subscribe to the following declaration:

'As a graduand in Audiology of the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, I do solemnly declare that:

I shall provide professional services with honesty and compassion and shall respect the dignity, worth and rights of those whom I shall serve;

I shall hold paramount the welfare of the persons that I serve and shall provide only those services and products that are in their best interest;

I shall provide accurate information about the nature and management of communicative disorders and about the services and products provided;

I shall maintain high standards of professional competence in rendering services, providing only those professional services for which I am qualified by education and experience;

I shall maintain the confidentiality of the information and records of those receiving services;

I shall uphold my responsibility to the public by promoting public understanding of the profession, and by supporting development of services designed to fulfill the unmet needs of the public;

I shall uphold the dignity and autonomy of the professions, maintain harmonious inter-professional and intra-professional relationships, and accept the professions' self-imposed standards'.

Special restriction on the curriculum of students on first year of study

Except where the Senate otherwise determines, the curriculum of a student in the first year of study may not include a course offered towards the Bachelor of Arts that does not enable a student to go on to a second-level course.

Cross-registration with courses from other faculties:

In a case considered by the Senate to be exceptional, a student may include in her/his curriculum a course at the third-year level in a subject/s offered for the Bachelor of Science if that subject is included in the syllabuses section of this book. Such a student shall be required to obtain credit in all the courses that may be required for the Bachelor of Science for him/her to obtain credit in that course and shall be bound by the rules for the Bachelor of Science insofar as they are applicable.

a) In a case considered by the Senate to be exceptional, a student may include in her/his curriculum a course at the third-year level in a subject selected from the list in the CLM Rules and Syllabus book offered for the Bachelor of Commerce if that subject is not included in the syllabuses section of this book. Such a student shall be required to obtain credit in all the *course*s that may be required for the degree of Bachelor of Commerce for him/her to obtain credit in that course and shall be bound by the rules for the Bachelor of Commerce insofar as they are applicable.

b) A student may include in her/his curriculum a first course in Chemistry (CHEM1012A) or Physics (PHYS1000A or PHYS1001A) if such course is considered by the Senate to be an appropriate complement to a subject in which the student is intending to register for as a major subject, provided that the curriculum of a student may not include more than one course at the 1000 level that does not lead to a course at the 2000 or 3000 level.

c) By permission of the Senate, a student in the second or third year of study may include in her/his curriculum a course in a subject not included in the subjects listed in the syllabuses section and which is offered by another Faculty in the University and be bound by any requirement laid down in the rules of that Faculty in respect of that course.

d) A part-time student registered for the Bachelor of Arts through the Centre for Part-time Studies may include in her/his *curriculum course*s offered in the Faculty of Commerce, Law and Management adding up to 180 *credit*s, including one major, from the curricula listed for part-time studies

e) If any one or more of the Marketing, Management or Human Resource Management courses are selected the student must satisfy the Senate that s/he has at least two years' relevant work experience in the commercial sector and the number of *credit*s from the Commerce *course*s listed in the CLM Rules and Syllabus book does not exceed 180 *credit*s as calculated in terms of these rules. Such a student may replace the prerequisite *course*s Applied Mathematics and Business Statistics with 36 credit from PSYC1009A Psychology I or Economic Concepts I.

f) At the discretion of the Senate a student may be granted a credit towards the Bachelor of Arts Degree for a course/s completed towards another programme in the University.

2.2.2 Credit Rules

Special restrictions on credit for all courses:

A student shall not obtain a credit:

a) in more than two of the following: Ancillary Mathematics I (18 *credit*s), Ancillary Statistics I (18 *credit*s), Mathematical Statistics I (18 *credit*s), Actuarial Science I (18 *credit*s), Business Statistics I (18 *credit*s) and Computational Mathematics I (18 *credit*s);

b) in more than one of the following: Mathematics I (Major) (36 *credit*s), Mathematics I (Auxiliary) (36 *credit*s), Ancillary Mathematics I (18 *credit*s) and Ancillary Statistics I (18 *credit*s), Business Statistics I (18 *credit*s) and Computational Mathematics I (18 *credit*s);

c) in more than one major in: African Political Studies in History and Politics; Political Studies; and Politics and Public Administration; or in Sociology and Labour and Economic Sociology;

d) in more than 36 *credit*s at the 1000 level, 48 *credit*s at the 2000 level and 72 *credit*s at the 3000 level in what, in the opinion of the Senate, constitutes a major;

e) for a course towards the second major when that course has been used as a credit towards the first major; and

f) for a course leading to a major in Law for the purpose of a BA General degree.

2.2.3 Length of Study

The Bachelor of Arts is a full-time three year undergraduate degree, the part-time Bachelor of Arts curriculum takes up to six years of enrolment.

2.2.4 Curricula for Bachelor of Arts

Note: *Student*s intending to proceed to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education should note that acceptance into certain subject methodology *course*s is not automatic as selection procedures may be applied (at present this applies to Psychology, and Modern and African Languages). In particular, those intending to major in Psychology with a view to registering for Guidance Methodology are advised to include in their curricula at least two *course*s or a course at the 2000 level in a third teaching subject. In addition, *student*s intending to proceed to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education are strongly advised to confirm with the Faculty Office that the curriculum chosen for the bachelor programme satisfies the requirements for admission to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education. *Student*s intending to teach may not substitute for a required course any *course*s from related disciplines or subjects.

Special restriction on the curriculum of students in the first year of study:

Except where the Senate otherwise determines, the curriculum of a student in the first year of study may not include a course offered towards the Bachelor of Arts that does not enable a student to go on to a second-level course.

A student is required to complete two semester courses in one of the following languages: isiZulu or Sesotho or South African Sign Language (SASL). If a student is proficient in any two of the three languages (isiZulu, Sesotho or SASL), the student is advised to do one of the following: (i) register in a first-language stream for two courses in isiZulu or Sesotho, (ii) register for two courses in any one of the following: French, German, Italian, Portuguese, or Spanish, or (iii) formally apply to the Dean for exemption from the requirement to register for a language subject. Where an exemption has been granted, students must add a course yielding 36 credits in a subject approved by Senate. A student may also be granted a credit if s/he has completed the same or an equivalent course.

Subject to Rule G7.1, a student may include in her/his *curriculum course*s identified in the syllabuses section provided that the entrance requirements for those *course*s are satisfied and the course is offered in the current academic year. For noting, not all elective *course*s listed below may be on offer during an academic year, refer to the Faculty timetable for available elective *course*s.

2.2.5 Progression Rules

Full-time students:

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate the curriculum of the full-time student must include:

a)   In the first year:

Courses yielding not less than 72 credits in any semester and 144 credits for the year; and

b)   In the second year:

Courses yielding not less than 96 credits in any semester and 144 credits for the year, students may include an additional 24 or 48 credits in second year provided they have obtained 144 credits in first year; and

c)   In the final year:

Courses yielding not less than 72 credits in any semester, unless fewer credits are needed to complete the degree and 144 credits for the year.

d)   Part-time students:

Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate the curriculum of a part-time student: may not include courses yielding more than 36 credits in any semester, students are required to register at the beginning of the academic year for all courses to be included in her/his curriculum for that year whether the courses are offered in the first semester or in the second semester.

2.2.6 Admission to courses

a)   In order to progress to the next level course a student must have completed the preceding level course at a standard considered by the Senate to warrant her/his admission to the next level.

b)   In exceptional circumstances, in accordance with Faculty rules pertaining to condonations and with the approval of the Senate, failure may be condoned to a pass.

c)   A failure condoned to a pass may result in the student not being allowed to progress to the next level course.

2.2.7 Year of study

A student is deemed to be:

a)   in the first year until s/he has obtained credit in courses which make up a total of 144 credits in terms of these rules;

b)   in the second year until s/he has obtained credit in courses which make up a total of 288 credits of which 96 credits must be at the second year level in terms of these rules;

c)   in the third year of study until s/he is taking courses which will enable him/her to complete the requirements of the programme in that year.

A student who does not meet the minimum requirements of study may be refused permission by the Senate to renew her/his enrolment. If however, a student is permitted to renew her/his enrolment after having failed to satisfy the minimum requirements of study s/he may be required to satisfy the following and such further conditions as the Senate may determine in her/his case.

2.2.8 Readmission to and repeating courses

a)   Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student shall not be readmitted to a course for which s/he has twice registered but which s/he has not passed: Provided that a student who cancels her/his registration in such course timeously in terms of Rule *G5.9.2 is deemed not to have registered for that course in that particular year or semester.

b)   Unless otherwise permitted by the Senate, a student will not be permitted to repeat any Foundation course.

2.2.9 Exclusion Rules

Full-time students:

Students, that do not meet a minimum of 72 credits in any semester, may be academically excluded and must appeal to the Wits Readmission Council (WRC) for readmission.

Part-time students:

*Student*s, that do not meet a minimum of 36 *credit*s in any semester, may be academically excluded and must appeal to the Wits Re*admission* Council (WRC) for re*admission*.

2.2.11 Completion Rules

To obtain a Bachelor of Arts degree a student must complete two majors and obtain a minimum of 432 credits of which 96 credits must be at the second year level and 144 credits must be at the third year level.

2.2.12 Conferment of degree with Distinction

The following criteria shall be applied to determine whether a student shall be awarded the degree with distinction:

a) A student must obtained a minumum of 48 points on the rating system as per the below.

b) A candidate must have obtained at least four first class passes in the eight third year *course*s that together comprise of the two majors.

c) A candidate who has majored in Law must have obtained at least 46 points, with a minimum of 18 credits from Law *course*s at 2000 and 3000 level. Note that only two of the three first year level Law *course*s will be considered when calculating the 46 points.

	First (75% and above)	Upper second (70% - 74%)	Second (60% - 69%)
Any 12, 18 or 24 credits	3	2	1
Any 36 or 48 credits	6	4	2
Any 72 credits	12	8	4

3.1.1.1   Admission Rules

The Senate may admit as a candidate for the diploma a person who is

a)   A graduate of this or another university who satisfies the Senate by means of an entrance examination that s/he is proficient in English and at least one other language approved by the Senate in her/his case.

b)   Or a person accepted by virtue of having passed at any other university or institution such examination as are, in the opinion of the Senate, equivalent to or higher than the *examination*s prescribed for the Bachelor of Arts.

3.1.1.2   Additional admission requirements

No person shall be registered as a candidate for the diploma unless or until:

a)   s/he has passed the matriculation examination or holds a certificate of full exemption issued by the Matriculation Board;

b)   s/he has submitted to the Head of the discipline of Fine Arts a portfolio of practical work in fine arts that, in the opinion of the Senate and the Senate, is of a sufficiently high standard to warrant her/his admission as a candidate for the diploma.

3.1.1.3   Exemptions and credits

The Senate may, in circumstances considered by it to be exceptional, exempting a candidate from, and grant credit for, any of the *course*s on the ground of her/his having obtained credit in the same or a similar course at this University or elsewhere.

3.1.1.4   Progression Rules

A candidate for the diploma shall:

a)   attend, perform the work of the class and, as the Senate determines, present her/him for examination or present such work in lieu thereof as may be required of him/her in the syllabuses of the *course*s;

b)   be required to obtain credit in every course at the first attempt provided that, by permission of the Senate in a case considered by it to be exceptional, a candidate who has completed all but one of the *course*s may be permitted to repeat such a course the next time it is offered: Provided further that if the candidate again fails the course her/his registration will be cancelled.

3.1.1.5   Languages in which practical work is offered for the Postgraduate Diploma in Translation and Interpreting

The practical work for the diploma, in both the interpreting and translation fields, is normally offered in the following languages or combinations of those languages: Afrikaans, English, French, German, Italian, Northern Sotho, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Sesotho, Setswana, isiXhosa, isiZulu or in any other language approved by the Senate from time to time.

Note: The University cannot guarantee practical work in all of these languages every year.

3.1.1.6   Additional language combinations for the Postgraduate Diploma in Translation and Interpreting

In the field of Interpreting, a candidate is required to work in one of the following language combinations:

Interpreting from Language B (second language) and from Language C (third language) into Language A (first language) and from Language A (first language) into Language B (second language).

In the field of Translation, a candidate is required to work in one of the following language combinations:

a)   Translation from Language B (second language) and from Language C (third language) into Language A (first language); or

b)   translation from Language B (second language) into Language A (first language) and from Language A (first language) into Language B (second language); or

c)   translation from Language B (second language) into Language A (first language).

3.1.1.7   Language Proficiency Definitions

Languages A, B and C may be defined as follows:

Language A: *Applicant*s are expected to possess the ability to write and speak so fluently in this language that the expression of thought is structurally, grammatically and idiomatically correct, and to demonstrate the range of vocabulary common to a person who has received his or her education at university level in a country of that language.

Language B: *Applicant*s are expected to possess the ability to understand fully the meaning of a text on a general subject in this language without the help of a dictionary or other references.

Language C: *Applicant*s are expected to possess the ability to understand this language for translation or interpreting purposes, possibly with the help of dictionaries or other reference works.

Languages in which the practical work is offered: The Practical work in both Interpreting and Translation fields is normally offered in the following Languages: Afrikaans, English, French, German, Italian, Northern Sotho, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Sesotho, Setswana, isiXhosa, isiZulu or in any other language approved by the Senate from time to time. (Note that the University cannot guarantee practical work in all of these languages every year). English is required to be one of the languages in the candidate's language combination.

In addition to obtaining a standard considered by the Senate to be satisfactory in any other major subject, a candidate shall be required to satisfy the Senate, by means of an entrance test, that s/he has the required level of proficiency in English and the other Language or Languages recognised by the Senate for the purposes of the degree.

3.1.1.8   Curricula

a)   The full-time degree of Postgraduate Diploma in Translation and Interpreting normally extends over no less than and no more than 12 months (save by permission of Senate). The part-time degree normally extends over no less than and no more than 24 months (save by permission of Senate).

3.4.1.6.5 Completion Rules

In order to qualify for this degree, candidates must fulfil all of the requirements stipulated above.

3.4.1.6.5.1   The award of the degree of Master by *course*work and research report will be approved in straightforward cases by the Chairperson of the Graduate Studies Committee. A straightforward case is considered to meet the following criteria:

a)   The *course*work marks fall broadly into the same range of pass, so that no discrepancy emerges, and both the internal and external examiners have awarded the research report a similar class of pass.

b)   Only minor corrections to typographical and grammatical errors or minor flaws in referencing and presentation are required.

3.4.1.6.5.2   In all other cases, the examiners' reports will be received by an appropriately appointed panel of the Graduate Studies Committee for a decision in respect of the award of the degree.

3.4.1.6.5.3   If the discrepancy in marks is less than 15% the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may determine the final mark in consultation with senior academics.

3.4.1.6.5.4   If the discrepancy is more than 15%, an ad hoc committee shall be called, comprising either the Chair or one of the Vice-Chairs of the Graduate Studies Committee, the supervisor, and two other academics in the School. The mark agreed upon by the ad hoc committee shall be considered final.

3.4.1.6.6 Award with Distinction

3.4.1.6.6.1   The degree may be awarded with distinction if a candidate obtains at least 75% for both the research report and the aggregate of the *course*work.

3.4.1.6.6. 2   Where a candidate obtained a mark of 75% or higher for either the *course*work component or the research report, the degree will not be awarded with distinction, but may be awarded with a first class pass in the appropriate component.

3.4.2.1.7.51.2 Completion Rules

a) A candidate will complete no fewer than three *course*s. Each candidate's selection of *course*s will be subject to the approval of the Senate.

b) A candidate will also complete a research proposal that is normally between 3000-4000 words in length and a research report that normally does not exceed 25,000 words in length, according to guidelines specified by the School.

c) A candidate shall normally be required to conduct her/his research in an area related to her/his *course*work and where there is expertise among appropriately qualified supervisors within the Faculty. A supervisor shall be appointed by the Senate. The duties of the supervisor are as set out in section 4 of the Faculty Standing Orders for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy and the Degree of Master by Research and in the Senate Standing Orders for Higher Degrees.

d) The research proposal shall be prepared in accordance with the Faculty Standing Orders for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy and the Degree of Master by Research.

e) The proposal shall be submitted for approval before the end of July of the first year of study for full-time *candidates*and before the end of March in the second year of study for part-time candidates. The proposal shall be submitted in both hardcopy and electronic form. Under exceptional circumstances an extension for submission of the proposal may be granted by the Faculty of Humanities, where endorsed by the supervisor.

f) The award of the degree of Master by *course*work and research report will be approved in straightforward cases by the Chairperson of the Graduate Studies Committee. A straightforward case is considered to meet the following criteria:

Where the *course*work marks fall broadly into the same range of pass, so that no discrepancy emerges, and both the internal and external examiners have awarded the research report a similar class of pass;

AND only minor corrections to typographical and grammatical errors or minor flaws in referencing and presentation are required.

In all other cases, the examiners' reports will be received by an appropriately appointed panel of the Graduate Studies Committee for a decision in respect of the award of the degree; if the discrepancy in marks is less than 15% the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may determine the final mark in consultation with senior academics. If the discrepancy is more than 15%, an ad hoc committee shall be called, comprising of the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee, the supervisor, and two senior academics within the Faculty of Humanities. The mark agreed upon by the ad hoc committee shall be considered final.

3.4.2.1.7.51.3 Award with Distinction

The award of the degree of Master by *course*work and research report will be approved in straightforward cases by the Chairperson of the Graduate Studies sub-Committee in Education. A straightforward case is considered to meet the following criteria:

Where the aggregate for the consolidated *course*work component is 75% or higher, and both examiners have given the research report a mark of 75% or higher, the degree shall be awarded 'WITH DISTINCTION'.

Candidates admitted by the Senate for the Master of Art by Research:

An applicant who meets the minimum qualifications for admission to a higher degree may be permitted to register for the degree on the recommendation of the Senate concerned.

Senate is under no obligation to recommend the admission of any person who wishes to undertake research for a higher degree; the fact that an applicant may be qualified for admission in terms of the rules is not in itself a ground for admission. Only those *applicant*s found to be satisfactory in all respects, and for whom suitable qualified supervisors can be found, would be recommended to the Graduate Studies Committee.

No student shall be admitted without a supervisor.

3.4.3.2 Progression Rules

3.4.3.2.1 Conditions for the Degree of Master in Social Work by Research

Conditions for the Degree of Master by research

A candidate shall:

a)   conduct advanced studies, research and field training under the guidance of a supervisor, as may be determined by the Senate;

b) after consultation with the supervisor, (if there be one), present for the approval of the Senate a dissertation on a subject approved by the Senate, that constitutes both an application of the methods of research and a contribution to the advancement of knowledge in the subject;

c) a candidate shall not submit her/his dissertation for examination until the Senate is satisfied that s/he has attained a satisfactory standard in her/his independent studies and field training: Provided that, if the Senate is not satisfied that the candidate has attained such a standard, it may permit him/her to change her/his registration from the degree of Master of Arts in Social Work, in the field of Occupational Social Work to that of Master of Arts;

d) not, save in circumstances considered by the Senate to be exceptional, be permitted to repeat Part I of the curriculum, if she has failed to complete the requirements of Part I within two years.

3.4.3.2.2 Conditions for the Degree of Master by Research with practical components

a) A candidate shall conduct such research as the Senate may determine under the guidance of one (or two, where deemed appropriate) supervisor(s).

b) After consultation with the supervisor(s), the candidate shall present original practical work and a dissertation to the satisfaction of the Senate. The research shall comprise 50% original practical work and 50% dissertation.

The dissertation shall, include an analysis of the practical work presented. The candidate must commence such practical work/creative research without delay after first registering for the degree. A permanent record of the practical work must be available for the scrutiny of the examiners at the time of the examination of the dissertation. The candidate may achieve this purpose by submitting appropriate diagrams, photographs, scripts, videos, audio recording devices or any other mode of recording, together with each copy of the dissertation.

Conditions for the Degree of Master by research

A candidate shall pursue such research as the Senate may determine under the guidance of one (or two, where appropriate) supervisor(s).

The research shall comprise 50% original creative practical work and 50% dissertation.

The dissertation must include an analysis of the practical work. Such practical work shall, unless the Senate otherwise determines, commence only on first registration for the programme.

A permanent record of the practical work must be available for the scrutiny of the examiners at the time of the examination of the dissertation. This may be achieved by presenting records such as scores and audio and video recordings, together with each copy of the dissertation.

3.4.3.2.3 Completion Rules

a) Where both examiners recommend that the degree is awarded.

b) Where both examiners recommend that the degree is awarded "WITH DISTINCTION".

c) Only the correction of minor errors is required, e.g. typographical mistakes, omissions from the list of references or the rewriting of certain sentences.

d) In all other cases, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall recommend to the executive members of the Graduate Studies Committee that the award of the degree be considered. In the case of unfavourable reports, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall set in motion the appointment of an ad hoc committee according to the procedures laid down in the Senate Standing Orders on Higher Degrees.

3.4.3.2.4 Award with Distinction

a) In straightforward cases where the examiners of a dissertation for the degree of Master unanimously recommend the award of the degree with distinction, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may approve the award of the degree with distinction.

b) In other cases, where only one examiner recommends the award of the degree with distinction, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may solicit comment from the examiner/s and/or convene an ad hoc committee. She/he shall then forward a recommendation to the executive members of the Graduate Studies Committee for the award of the degree with or without distinction.

3.4.3.3   Master of Music by Research

3.4.3.3.1 Admission Rules

3.4.4.4   Conversion of candidature from Master to PhD

By permission of the Senate, a person who has been admitted as a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts may:

a)   In circumstances considered by the Senate to be exceptional, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the supervisor and of the head of the school concerned, on the basis of written work towards the project, be allowed to proceed instead to the Doctor of Philosophy in that school; or

b)   on the successful completion of the requirements for the Master, at her/his request and on the recommendation of the head of the school concerned, be permitted by the Senate not to have the degree conferred on him/her, but to conduct, for not less than one academic year of further full-time study, or not less than two *academic year*s of further part-time study, additional research for the Doctor of Philosophy, which shall be a significant extension of the research already completed by him/her: Provided that, in a case considered by the Senate to be exceptional, the period of additional study or research (or both) may be waived or reduced by special permission of the Senate. Provided further that the Master of Arts shall be conferred on him/her in the event of her/his withdrawing her/his candidature for the Doctor of Philosophy or having her/his candidature for the Doctor of Philosophy cancelled.

3.4.4.5   Completion Rules

During the examination process, extracts of examiners' reports, without disclosure of the examiners' names, may be made available to a candidate to assist him/her in the revision of her/his work. The discretion as to how much may be disclosed to a candidate lies with the Chairperson of the Graduate Studies Committee.

The following applies for a Master of Arts by Research to be awarded:

a)   Where both examiners recommend that the degree is awarded.

b)   Where both examiners recommend that the degree is awarded "WITH DISTINCTION".

c)   Only the correction of minor errors is required, e.g. typographical mistakes, omissions from the list of references or the rewriting of certain sentences.

d)   In all other cases, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall recommend to the executive members of the Graduate Studies Committee that the award of the degree be considered. In the case of unfavourable reports, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall set in motion the appointment of an ad hoc committee according to the procedures laid down in the Senate Standing Orders on Higher Degrees.

Once the final submission has been made, the candidate is entitled to know the names of her/his examiners. Examiners should be advised of this at the point at which they are approached to examine the thesis.

Once the examination process has been concluded, the contents of examiners' reports are made available to candidates through their supervisors, in accordance with the Senate Standing Orders on Higher Degrees.

3.4.4.6   Award with Distinction

a)   In straightforward cases where the examiners of a dissertation for the degree of Master unanimously recommend the award of the degree with distinction, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may approve the award of the degree with distinction.

b)   In other cases, where only one examiner recommends the award of the degree with distinction, the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee may solicit comment from the examiner/s and/or convene an ad hoc committee. She/he shall then forward a recommendation to the executive members of the Graduate Studies Committee for the award of the degree with or without distinction.

EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 2. The qualifying student is able to communicate and produce information using a range of technologies.
2.1 understand academic conventions for writing and oral participation	2.1 use fluent accurate English for writing and speaking	2.1 awareness of responsibility and integrity in production and communication of information
2.2 computer literacy	2.2 use a limited range of presentation skills and technologies in a limited range of representations
2.3 communicate and produce information using a range of technologies	2.3 use appropriate writing skills in major subjects
	2.4 write musical compositions in various genres
	2.5 present results of listening, reading and studying aurally
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 3. The qualifying student demonstrates critical analytic competence and problem solving.
3.1 know how knowledge is reported within disciplines	3.1 analyse information and knowledge	3.1 value responsible decision-making
3.2 know and understand critical approaches to knowledge	3.2 extrapolate and use theory	3.2 sensitivity with regard to different ways of constructing knowledge
3.3 understand course debates, concepts, issues and concerns	3.3 suggest critical approaches to theory	3.3 take and recognise value positions on stylist and cultural issues
3.4 critical analytic competence and problem solving	3.4 informed ability to discuss and evaluate musical performances

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is able to:
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 4. The qualifying student demonstrates research competence.
4.1 knowledge for limited research enquiries	4.1 recognise and evaluate the status of evidence, arguments or theoretical positions in research	4.1 ethical responsibility to research subjects
4.2 recognise the disciplinary paradigms within which research is located	4.2 collect relevant data in relation to research questions	4.2 take and recognise value positions on stylist and cultural issues.
4.3 advanced knowledge of discography	4.3 evaluate research in relation to the debates within the discipline
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 5. The qualifying student shows competence to manage her/himself
5.1 know the repertoire of possible learning skills	5.1 be able to generate one's own solutions/strategies to difficulties	5.1 value the process of life-long learning
5.2 know and identify your preferred way of learning	5.2 be capable of being a purposeful student
5.3 know some of the skill requirements in the world of work	5.3 make connections between university knowledge and skills, and world of work
5.4 know how to address gaps in one's knowledge between university and the world of work
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 6. The qualifying student demonstrates social competence.
6.1 knowledge of individual and group dynamics and processes	6.1 work constrictively with diversity	6.1 recognise and value diversity
6.2 understand that a different kind of result is achieved through group experience	6.2 receive and execute tasks responsibly	6.2 recognise and value collaborative processes
6.3 awareness of multiple sources of knowledge	6.3 integrate feedback into own and group development
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 7. The qualifying student shows ecosystemic competence.
7.1 know and understand the complexity contexts and the existence of multiple realities	7.1 describe, analyse and synthesise of the complexities of social and physical contexts	7.1 respect and value the interconnectedness of context
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 8. The qualifying student shows disciplinary and/or professional competence (can substitute field of enquiry for discipline)
8.1 know the range of disciplinary practices in two disciplines	8.1 apply disciplinary practices to new information or situations	8.1 take seriously the social consequences of disciplinary practices
8.2 articulate the continuities and discontinuities between the two disciplines	8.2 take a position in relation to competing paradigms and debates within the discipline	8.2 show an open mind to diverse positions within the discipline
8.3 integrate elective courses with the two disciplines

4.1.10 Bachelor of Arts in Performing and Visual Arts

Qualification Title	Bachelor of Arts in Performing and Visual Arts
Qualification Abbreviation	BA (Performing and Visual Arts)
Minimum Period of Study	4
NQF Exit Level	8
SAQA Credits	554

Exit Level Outcomes

Typically, a programme leading to the award of a Bachelor of Arts Degree in the Humanities and Social Sciences aims to develop students who will:

	Have a systematic and well-rounded knowledge and understanding of important theories, scholarly positions and basic methodologies;
	• Act innovatively and pro-actively within a career;
	• Be using his/her critical attitude and communication skills to participate and contribute to the economy and general society; and
	• Have the capacity to interact effectively with others, operate in variable and unfamiliar contexts with responsibility, and become increasingly self-directed.

Students who have a Bachelor of Arts Degree in the Humanities and Social Sciences can:

1.	Demonstrate familiarity with and have an informed outline knowledge and understanding of the content, theories, and scholarly positions of the critical core of a number of disciplines at a basic and intermediate level (level 5).

Range:

The critical core of a number of disciplines should be appropriately represented in the learning programme.

2.	Demonstrate a systematic and well-rounded knowledge, and the ability to critically question the basic assumptions of the most important theories, scholarly positions and basic methodologies of one or more disciplines (level 6).

Range:

The one or more disciplines presented at level 6 should not exceed 60% of the learning for the programme across the full duration thereof.

3.	Show competence with the basic and elementary modes of inquiry of at least one or more core disciplines to specified, less complex problems (both concrete and abstract).

4.2 Degrees of Bachelor with Honours

4.2.1 Bachelor of Arts with Honours

Qualification Title	Bachelor of Arts with Honours
Qualification Abbreviation	BAHons
Minimum Period of Study	1 year full time or 2 years part time
NQF Exit Level	Level 8
SAQA Credits	Total minimum 122

Exit Level Outcomes and the Associated Assessment Criteria

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is aware of the importance of the need to:
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 1.The qualifying student is able to access and process information using a range of technologies.
1.1 identify specialist research resources, bibliographic and data base searches	1.1 apply appropriate data base search strategies and read and print electronic texts	1.1 represent and acknowledge intellectual property of others
1.2 explain meaning of texts and identify positions of argument	1.2 collect, select, organise, interpret different kinds of data
	1.3 read and critically evaluate texts and data
	1.4 represent own position in relation to debates
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 2. The qualifying student is able to communicate and produce information using a range of technologies.
2.1 identify appropriate computer software for producing assignments and research.	2.1 use effective argumentation skills	2.1 apply accurate representation and acknowledgement of the intellectual property of others
2.2 identify the appropriate information technology for conducting research	2.2 apply appropriate word processing technologies for conducting research	2.2 identify and evaluate published research in terms of its social effects
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 3. The qualifying student demonstrates critical analytic competence and problem solving.
3.1 identify and explain appropriate academic conventions with regard to how knowledge is reported	3.1 interpret and criticise subject matter of a discipline	3.1 value responsible decisions with respect to knowledge
3.2 identify and explain conventions of critical analysis	3.2 apply critical and innovative approaches to solving problems by integrating information and theory
	3.3 evaluate limitations of different theoretical models

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is aware of the importance of the need to:
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 4. The qualifying student demonstrates research competence.
4.1 identify one or more research methods and their appropriate applications	4.1 apply an appropriate research method whilst conducting a small scale research project	4.1 undertake socially responsible research
4.2 identify and outline the relevant literature and information sources	4.2 assess the findings by writing research and drawing conclusions arising from the research	4.2 show ethical responsibility to research subjects
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 5. The qualifying student shows competence to manage her/himself.
5.1 apply knowledge to the challenges and problems posed in the world of work	5.1 set goals and time management with minimal supervision	5.1 evaluate personal opportunities for life-long learning
	5.2 demonstrate the ability to shape one's own learning	5.2 optimise resourcefulness
5.2 demonstrate self-directed, independent learning	5.3 demonstrate the ability to respond appropriately to feedback from peers
5.3 identify knowledge that new tasks demand	5.4 demonstrate ability to assess oneself on oral and written presentations
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 6. The qualifying student demonstrates social competence.
6.1 identify basic group dynamics and processes	6.1 identify and execute tasks responsibly	6.1 value collaborative processes
6.2 evaluate own group role and role of others	6.2 demonstrate the ability to work constructively with diversity	6.2 value diversity
	6.3 demonstrate ability to work collaboratively
	6.4 give effective feedback both as a member of a group and individually
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 7. The qualifying student shows ecosystemic competence.
7.1 identify the relationship between discipline and ecosystemic contexts	7.1 apply research to relevant social and ecosystemic contexts	7.1 value the interconnectedness of social and natural environments
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME 8. The qualifying student shows disciplinary and/or professional competence (can substitute field of enquiry for discipline).
8.1 demonstrate competence in basic disciplinary and/or professional knowledge and specific knowledge of selected specialisations or professions	8.1 identify own lines of enquiry within the discipline and track the necessary information	8.1 determine the social consequences of their disciplinary and/or professional practice
8.2 outline methods of knowledge production	8.2 conduct reading in a specialised area	8.2 respect the integrity of the discipline and/or profession

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is aware of the importance of the need to:
	8.3 demonstrate the ability to engage in higher order cognitive tasks as described under 3 within a selected discipline and/or profession	8.3 show an open mind to diverse interests at work within the discipline and/or profession
	8.4 apply academic research and critical evaluation within disciplinary specialisation and/or profession

Exit Level Outcomes and the Associated Assessment Criteria

A. MA (by dissertation)

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is aware of the importance of the need to:
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A1. The qualifying student is able to access and process information using a range of technologies.
1.1 use full range of terminology and key concepts in different disciplines in South African and international literature	1.1 use sophisticated selection and search strategies for appropriate databases and information resources	1.1 commit her/himself to evaluate published research
1.2 use specialist primary and secondary research resources, materials, methodologies	1.2 process and critically evaluate different kinds of data and texts
1.3 show extensive in-depth meta-cognitive understanding of own position in relation to debates within a text	1.3 articulate own position within debates
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A2. The qualifying student is able to communicate and produce information using a range of technologies.
2.1 show sophisticated understanding of generic, academic, oral and written conventions for discipline-specific content	2.1 use appropriate written conventions and representational technologies to sustain clear coherent argument throughout dissertation	2.1 produce a dissertation which respects and acknowledges the ownership of intellectual property (Bibliography)
2.2 understand current debates and research findings required for dissertation	2.2 present effectively in oral form, ideas, theories and discipline-specific information	2.2 adhere to ethical standards of discipline applicable to research project
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A3. The qualifying student demonstrates critical analytic competence and problem solving.
3.1 apply knowledge of critical and analytic approaches to subject matter of discipline	3.1 develop and critically examine innovative approaches	3.1 be sensitive with regard to different ways of constructing knowledge
3.2 contribute to furthering understandings within the discipline	3.2 integrate information, theory and context to solve problems	3.2 recognise the importance of applying knowledge in an ethically sensitive manner
3.3 demonstrate competence in basic disciplinary knowledge and specialised knowledge in focused area	3.3 critically evaluate limitations of different theoretical models and suggest alternatives
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A4. The qualifying student demonstrates research competence.
4.1 demonstrate advanced knowledge of research methods and their application	4.1 assess significance of findings in published research	4.1 commit her/himself to ethical research and responsible decision making

ASSOCIATED KNOWLEDGE The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED SKILLS / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA The qualifying student is able to:	ASSOCIATED VALUES The qualifying student is aware of the importance of the need to:
4.2 show an in-depth understanding of relevant literature	4.2 design, execute and write up a scholarly dissertation in a satisfactory written style that contributes to the advancement of knowledge OR replicate an existing study in a different context OR design a circumscribed investigation
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A5. The qualifying student shows competence to manage her/himself.
5.1 apply knowledge of the importance of individual responsibility in generating ideas for executing a research study 5.2 possess advanced knowledge needed for self directed independent learning	5.1 be a purposeful, self-directed, resourceful scholar and researcher 5.2 demonstrate a capacity to balance and manage a range of academic and life commitments	5.1 pursue excellence, accountability and resourcefulness
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A6. The qualifying student demonstrates social competence.
6.1 know when to seek academic interaction with others in order to test your own ideas or to gain stimulation	6.1 demonstrate independence, initiative, creativity, purposefulness and leadership in professional relationships	6.1 respect and value research participants and colleagues and what they have to offer
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A7. The qualifying student shows ecosystemic competence.
7.1 have an in-depth knowledge of the world eco-systemically	7.1 plan, execute and evaluate research and practice within an eco-systemic paradigm at an advanced level	7.1 recognise and deal sensitively with the multiple perspectives of people
		7.2 value the ability to adapt and live with change
EXIT LEVEL OUTCOME A8. The qualifying student shows disciplinary competence (can substitute field of enquiry for discipline).
8.1 on the basis of independent reading understand the concepts, methods, theories and analytical processes which are accepted and/ or contested in the discipline 8.2 explore related fields of enquiry as required by the dissertation	8.1 apply concepts, methods, theories and analytical processes to information and situations relating to the research project 8.2 understand the connections and conflicts between writers in the field and articulate how the project is situated in relation to them 8.3 apply knowledge and methods from related fields where necessary	8.1 adhere to the ethical standards of the discipline as they apply to the research project

This course is designed for students who have no knowledge of SeSotho. The courses familiarises students with speaking, reading, writing and hearing SeSotho. An understanding of grammatical structures is introduced through the close reading of simple graded texts. Students are taught to function in situations that require basic knowledge of SeSotho.

Course Code: AFRL2003A/2004A
Course Description: Intermediate SeSotho Language and Culture IIA and IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

Graded texts from different literary genres are studied as part of the language components which includes approaches to the reading of folktales and other genres. Students are required to study the linguistic structure of SeSotho in the context of morphology, phonology and syntax.

Course Code: AFRL3011A
Course Description: Introduction to Computational Linguistics
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course develops models that reflect aspects of the human faculty and implements these in computational form; at this introductory level this course concerns itself with theoretical aspects of computational linguistics only. It also introduces students to available applications and demonstrates how these are utilized.

Course Code: AFRL3012A
Course Description: History and Development of African-Languages Media
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with solid synthesised sociolinguistics and media theoretical models and explores language-related issues in African-language media. The course broadens students' understanding of underlying macro factors which negatively impact and hinder the development and proliferation of these media forms.

Course Description: Performing Power in Post-independence Africa II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

Drawing on novels, plays, poetry and film, this course explores the centrality of language, culture and ideology in imagining and contesting the nation state in Africa after independence. The post-independence state in Africa is frequently depicted as a 'theatre state' in African Literature. The relations between government officials and ordinary people, men and women, are structured and negotiated through a wide range of social acts that serve as physical and symbolic enactments of power. The staging of power is embedded in social events as different as the political rituals of government, popular culture and its spaces/occasions of expression, gendered encounters in the home, youth league rallies and many other instances.

Course Code: AFRT3001A

Course Description: Contemporary Trends in African Literature III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to a cross-section of contemporary writers whilst simultaneously looking critically at shifts in literary theory. The popular image of African Literature both without and sometimes even within the academy is largely based on the literature that emerged during and shortly after the decolonising years. This movement included figures like Mahfouz, Soyinka, Achebe, Armah, Ngugi, Beti, Oyono, and Laye and it is often from these writers that a canon has been formulated which in some instances may take in a few 'second wave' writers, like Farah, Head and Aidoo.

Course Code: AFRT3002A

Course Description: East African Fiction III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

ANTHROPOLOGY

Course Code: ANTH1004A

Course Description: Social Anthropology A: Culture and Humanity

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

 This course examines how African thinkers have debated basic anthropological questions about humanity and its diversity. It also explore how African thought has taken up these questions about humanity and diversity in the context of the continent's experiences of colonialism and its aftermaths. Topics include: the place of the precolonial past and its heritage in the imagining of present-day and future African worlds; debates about the meaning of being human and the nature of the human person; questions about the incorporation of strangers through institutions of hospitality, care, and sovereign power; and reflections on the denial of humanity in contexts of violence, slavery, and racism.

Course Code: ANTH1005A

Course Description: Social Anthropology B: Practices of Identification

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course draws on a tradition of African scholarship on identification practices. The course, pay attention to historiography and ethnographic practice, where students will have the opportunity to explore topics of sexualities, kinship, lifecycles and health. Drawing on their lived experiences, students have the opportunity to engage in the comparative work of anthropology, exploring the effects of colonial and post-colonial statehood, engaging the shifting notions of subjecthood and citizenship, within the intersections of race and ethnicity. This course is designed to familiarise students with moves anthropologists make to not only study unfamiliar worlds, but also critically examine familiar worlds to better understand the diverse, entangled and divergent routes which have come to shape how we make sense of questions of personhood and belonging.

Course Code: ANTH2001A

Course Description: Development and Gender II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

The course covers interlinked issues of gender and development in the contemporary first world, third world and developing societies, and shows how anthropological approach combines insights into local knowledge or culture with considerations of political economy. The culture of corporate and non-governmental organisations is examined and the anthropology of work' theme is developed. This course is essential for students involved in applied development to gain an insight into the key socio/cultural issues underlying development, and for students in the social sciences, in urban and rural planning, and for students entering the public and private sector.

Course Code: ANTH2003A

Course Description: Ritual and Power II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course explores the central tenets of these institutions and also the role of religion in domination and resistance. Religion and politics are two of the most important but disputed parts of our lives, conventional approaches to the study of these institutions separates them from one another. An anthropological approach shows the complex and powerful manner in which they are intertwined both in church and government, and in everyday life.

Course Code: ANTH2005A

Course Description: Sex, Culture and Society II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course develops an anthropological perspective on the interplay between the human sexual instinct, culture and society. It examines different theoretical perspectives on human sexuality and ethnographic studies on culture, cultural constructions of gender and societal relations. The course complements studies in the field of gender and provides insights into the cultural and political dimensions of sexuality.

Course Code: ANTH2007A

Course Description: Cultural Citizenship

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course engages students in thinking about their relationship with urban cultural life. Drawing on literature that exposes the relationship between culture and capital, this course seeks to interrogate the urban condition of commodification and the growing privatization of public space. Students read canonical texts concerning cultural mediation and control, and radical traditions of cultural/artistic agency, in order to encourage an understanding of what it means to be an active cultural citizen not only of this particular city, but of a global cultural polity.

Course Code: ANTH2008A

Course Description: Life Course, Kinship and Core

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

The course introduces the anthropology of the human life course, focusing on patterning of life histories, organisation of transitions between life phases, and socialities and cultural forms that develop around the production of the life course in a range of sociocultural contexts. The course covers both theoretical and ethnographic literature, with an emphasis on placing southern African anthropology on this issue in a global comparative context.

Course Code: ANTH2009A

Course Description: Lifeworlds of the City

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces social and political life particular to living in cities, especially cities of the Global South. It focuses on a range of urban anthropological key concepts and questions which serve to analyse city life. A key concept is that of 'the stranger' and relates to how the city is a space of freedom or alienation. The course further engages the contemporary concept of 'the right to the city'. This connects to the questions of how people claim or are being denied a sense of citizenship to the city.

Course Code: ANTH2010A

Course Description: Embodied Relations

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course focuses on how we experience our social lives and our interactions with other people through and within our bodies. It examines the politics that develop around the reproduction of human life, the life course, kinship, and intergenerational sociality.

Course Code: ANTH3001A
Course Description: Anthropology of Medicine and the Body III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Medical anthropology provides a comparative perspective on the social and cultural aspects of sickness, the body and healing. This course examines different theoretical paradigms in medical anthropology; anthropological interventions in public health care; and also the nature of folk healing and divination. The course is recommended to students in the humanities and health sciences who wish to understand the impact of culture on sickness and healing.

Course Code: ANTH3003A
Course Description: Race, Ethnicity and Culture III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides insights into race, ethnicity and culture as fundamental anthropological concepts. In examining the complex interrelations between these concepts, students investigate how they are internalised by individuals and segments of society. The impact and influence in social transformation are examined, allowing students to analytically reflect on cultural diversity or multiculturalism. This course provides incisive debate on social change and the reconstruction of society.

Course Code: ANTH3005A
Course Description: The Anthropology of Community III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines expression of domestic arrangements and community structures through local cultural values, knowledge, and practices. Issues such as conflict, hierarchy, political relations, kinship systems, and caste are analysed and located within the theoretical domain of political and organisational anthropology. The course is suitable for students specialising in town planning, management and law and students interested in development, gender and women's studies, sexuality and reproductive health.

Course Code: ANTH3006A
Course Description: The Anthropology of Popular Media and Performance III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines popular culture, media and performance in a rich variety of forms and settings, and analyses these expressions in relation to recent theoretical debates. The last three decades have seen rapid growth in the related fields of popular culture, media and performance studies in anthropology in America, Britain and France. Developments in the study of ritual, local level politics and political communication, public events and theories of social interaction have made performance a powerful analytical concept in cultural anthropology. The analysis of mass electronic media, popular art and performance genres, cinema, journalism and popular market literatures, music and theatre, popular religious and secular festivals, political events; in short, the entire range of forms of 'public culture' comprise a major sub-field in social anthropology.

Course Code: ANTH3007A
Course Description: The Development of Anthropological Thought III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines the intellectual and historical development of anthropological ideas and methods from their early roots in the 16th century through to the state of the discipline today. Anthropological concern with the problem of the human and the problem of difference is traced from early colonial contact and European debates around slavery, through Victorian preoccupation with racial categorisation, the development of fundamental concepts such as 'culture', 'kinship' in the Functionalist turn, and to disciplinary debates about history and 'political economy'. The course charts the post World War II anti-colonial critiques of the discipline into the 'representational crisis' of the 1980s and 90s, and concludes with a survey of current trends in the discipline, including the concern with the 'post-human' and the anthropocene.

Course Code: ANTH3008A

Course Description: Anthropology of Material Culture III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course explores the varied cultural means by which people attribute significance (or "value") to the world of objects. Anchored in anthropology, but drawing upon an interdisciplinary body of theory, including semiotics, psychoanalysis, art criticism, cultural studies, feminist theory and science studies, the course pursues a set of closely interlinked problems concerned with the culturally situated desire that people feel to create, possess, classify, collect, exchange, consume, display or venerate 'things' of various kinds. The course also examines ways in which circulation of objects serve to establish, sustain, and transform social and political relationships in diverse historical and ethnographic contexts.

Course Code: ANTH3009A

Course Description: Anthropology of the State

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course charts the history of this development, and its implications for how students confront the complex figure of the contemporary state with an ethnographic sensibility. The state became an important object for anthropological analysis in the wake of anthropology's disciplinary crisis of the 1980s. Drawing on key texts from political philosophy, anthropologists began to think about the state less as an object than as a set of social and cultural processes.

Course Code: ANTH3010A

Course Description: Expression, Representation, Practice

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to expression, representation and the idea of practice as pillars. It bridges the gap of literacy in, and the practice of, audio-visual methodologies towards reimagining aspects of an Ethnographic Museum and an anthropological text as a public platform. The course focuses on the practice of photography, film, exhibition making and digital platforms in ethnographic research and presentation.

Course Code: ANTH3011A

Course Description: 'Race' and What It Means to be Human

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduction ideas of human difference in the Western imagination from the 16th to the 19th century and examines the articulation of 'race' with ideas of what it means to be human. It explores the place of 'race' in science in 19th century South Africa and draws attention to ways in which the concept was contested. The course then considers how these ideas and contestations shape the ways in which 'race' is used today by examining classification during apartheid as a backdrop against which critically to consider practices of and debates about race classification. The course examine recent and contrasting ways of thinking about the concept 'race': biological theories of 'race' in the 21st century, and thinking about 'race' as a set of articulated political relations

Course Code: ANTH4024A

Course Description: The Craft of Anthropology: Research Methods

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course is designed to teach postgraduate students the craft of ethnography. Ethnography, the methods that distinguishes Anthropology as a research practice, is a form of qualitative research attentive to everyday forms of human life and practice. Ethnography is the form of research method that lies beyond the structured interview and the survey, paying attention to the complexity of the social. It is a form of enquiry that seemed out the intimate, the banal, the taken-for-granted and the relational as the vehicles for understanding lifeworlds. This kind of research practice requires a sophisticated set of social and analytical resources and can only be generated by prolonged, deep engagement with a 'field'. It also requires the production of what we call 'field notes', the recording practice central to the ethnographic method. The course will provide students with the opportunity to engage ethnography by reading some excerpts of its classic iterations as well as following it into their directions it has been taken more recently; and to carry out multiple practical exercises in ethnographic research.

Course Code: ANTH4027A

Course Description: Sociocultural Theory

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores the themes in theory, social theory, cultural theory, critical theory, often just plain 'theory': these terms denote a literature that lies between philosophies on the other hand and empirical work conducted in the humanities and social sciences on the other.

Course Code: ANTH4018A

Course Description: South African Ethnography

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores the anthropology and ethnographies of sub-Saharan Africa. Specifically, it explores different genres and forms of what might legitimately be considered an 'ethnographic' text in an African context where Africans have produced different types of self-representational texts that lie outside the 'traditional' anthropological canon of ethnography.

Course Code: ANTH4025A

Course Description: Ethnographic Analysis and Writing

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course assists candidates in writing their first long piece of ethnographic writing. It focuses on producing, reading and interpreting ethnographic accounts. It also includes engagement with 'classic' and contemporary examples of ethnographic writing, exploring diverse traditions of ethnographic, essay and narrative non-fiction writing.

Course Code: ANTH4021A

Course Description: Medical Anthropology

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course helps make sense of suffering and recovery as a social experience; it carries into refugee camps, birthing centres, factories, boardrooms, goals, rehabilitation centres and schools, across countries and between communities.

Course Code: ANTH4004A

Course Description: Identity and Culture

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course considers key questions around identity and culture. As the notion of identity proliferates, it troubles anthropology as a discipline which emerged out of the Enlightenment period where classifications of persons became a raison d'etre of the discipline. Seeking to understand, unravel and possibly reverse primordial, essentialist and ethnocentric descriptors in processes of identification, whilst attempting to think through the mobilisation of hard notions of identity in everyday social practice, is a daunting task for contemporary anthropologists. Identity and culture are two of the most ubiquitous terms in anthropology.

Course Code: ANTH4028A

Course Description: The place of 'Race' in Western Medicine

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the place of 'race' in Western medical knowledge and practice. The course examines high-profile historical examples of the use of 'race' in medicine and biomedicine. It explores the relationship between the biological and social sciences, biological and social facts, including 'race' as a social fact.

Course Code: ANTH7030A

Course Description: The place of 'Race' in Western Medicine

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This kind of research practice requires a sophisticated set of social and analytical resources and can only be generated by prolonged, deep engagement with a 'field'. It also requires the production of what we call 'field notes', the recording practice central to the ethnographic method. The course provides students with the opportunity to engage ethnography by reading some excerpts of its classic iterations as well as following it into their directions it has been taken more recently; and to carry out multiple practical exercises in ethnographic research.

Course Code: ANTH7029A

Course Description: Sociocultural Theory

NQF Credits: 30   NQF Level: 9

Social theory, cultural theory, and critical theory, often just plain 'theory': these terms denote a literature that lies between philosophies on the one hand and empirical work conducted in the humanities and social sciences on the other. The thread that runs throughout is a critical attention to the notion of the human: anthropology's defining object but one that is deeply problematised by ongoing political and intellectual developments.

Course Code: ANTH7020A

Course Description: South African Ethnography

NQF Credits: 30   NQF Level: 9

This course explores the anthropology and ethnographies of sub-Saharan Africa. Specifically, it explores different genres and forms of what might legitimately be considered an 'ethnographic' text in an African context where Africans have produced different types of self-representational texts that lie outside the 'traditional' anthropological canon of ethnography.

Course Code: ANTH4025A

Course Description: Ethnographic Analysis and Writing

NQF Credits: 30   NQF Level: 9

This course assists postgraduate students in the writing of ethnographic text. It focuses on producing, reading and interpreting ethnographic accounts. It also includes engagement with 'classic' and contemporary examples of ethnographic writing, exploring diverse traditions of ethnographic, essay and narrative non-fiction writing.

Course Code: WSOA1025A

Course Description: Arts and Global Citizenship 1A

NQF Credits: 18   NQF Level: 5

This course provides an embodied engagement with human rights issues on personal, local and global levels using Applied Drama and Theatre frameworks alongside other arts-based processes. The course offers the student a context and historical timeline of the relationship between theatre and human rights built on Freire's Pedagogy of the Oppressed and Boal's Theatre of the Oppressed.

Course Code: WSOA1026A

Course Description: Arts and Global Citizenship 1B

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides an embodied engagement with human rights issues on personal, local and global levels using Applied Drama and Theatre frameworks alongside other arts based processes. The course introduces the arts as a political and activist tool in engaging human rights and social justice issues. Through a series of contemporary case studies, the course examines the particularity of arts activism through the notion of 'the everyday activist'.

Course Code: WSOA5057A

Course Description: Performance Project

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course serves as a rigorous introduction to performance studies theory. Students are introduced to performance laboratory as a research space, to concepts of physical intelligence, emotional intelligence and the 'body as archive'. Students are required to undertake social research, investigate a social change issue through PaR, and create a theatre for social change project through performance.

Course Code: WSOA5053A

Course Description: Introduction to Applied Drama

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course focuses on effective story and storytelling. This course also engages students with the conceptual understanding of story and the many forms story takes, with reference to traditional and contemporary forms of orality. Students explore through theory and practice methods of storytelling and how story and storytelling can be effectively used to build social cohesion. The course further engages students in an understanding of the dramatic elements present in storytelling, how to creatively use these elements to build a relationship with an audience, and how stories can be applied for education and social transformation purposes. The course further develops student's capacities to share and perform a story, enhancing the skill of listening, spontaneous speech, theatre-making and improvisation appropriate to the storyteller.

Course Code: WSOA5054A

Course Description: Introduction to Applied Theatre

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course uses the theatre elements of play, ensemble, improvisation and storytelling as initiators for the creation of material, students explore how theatre can be used to enhance, support and convey specific educational objectives in this performance practice. This course draws upon various skills of performance and sharpens creative skill in-action and a critical awareness in creating content, all while learning how to perform beyond the traditional 'fourth-wall' of conventional theatre. The course engages a praxis-based pedagogy, a teaching ethos based in 'doing' as well as 'reading'.

Course Code: WSOA5055A

Course Description: Introduction to Reflective Practice in Applied Drama and Theatre

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 8

This course encourages the growth of self reflective Applied Drama and Theatre facilitators. Students are expected to critically engage with the notion of the Drama Facilitator and how this may differ from other ways and means of facilitating group processes. This introduction course finds points of intersection between sexual health, education and cultural knowledge systems within human rights and social justice paradigm, exploring content and themes, and Applied Drama and Theatre practice; to empower individuals with the tools to transform the self for community and social transformation.

Course Code: WSOA5056A

Course Description: Introduction to Cultural Leadership in Applied Drama and Theatre

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 8

This course continues the process-orientated reflective learning started in the first semester within the context of cultural leadership. The course encourages the growth of self reflective Applied Drama and Theatre facilitators as project leaders. Students are expected to critically engage with the notion of the Cultural Leader and how this may differ from other ways and means of managing and facilitating group processes and projects. This introduction course finds points of intersection between development and cultural studies and practice; it explores cultural leadership in Applied Drama and Theatre practice as a means to empower individuals with the tools to transform the self for community and social transformation.

Course Code: WSOA5058A

Course Description: Dance in Education, Communities and Social Contexts A

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

The course focusses on the application of dance movement whilst demonstrating knowledge of the anatomy including expressive / expression range and the relevance of dance in South African education, culture and history. Students develop facilitation competency using dance and movement education with children, youth and adults to engage in dance and movement experiences that take into consideration artistic traditions, preferences for materials, musical preferences, and beliefs and practices related to the creation of imagery, choreography, storytelling and other applications. Furthermore the course investigates how dance is a carrier of cultural and aesthetic values across a wide spectrum of forms.

Course Code: WSOA5059A

Course Description: Dance in Education, Communities and Social Contexts B

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

The course aims to focus on the "When I am dancing, I am everyone...and only one". ~ Bill T. Jones This approach to dance, education and culture is designed to promote student agency and the co-construction of knowledge in the classroom, urging students to see themselves as architects of their own understanding as well as agents of change. While completely "safe spaces" are impossible to create, we will strive to create inclusive spaces where various identities and perspectives are valued, respected and students freely share their ideas. This course will approach teaching as a transformative process, and thus hope to create a classroom community of diverse learners where each person grows more committed to their professional training and emerging professional identity development and feels more equipped to act to create meaningful change within themselves and for others.

Course Code: WSOA7108A

Course Description: Building Democracy through Theatre-Making

NQF Credits: 38	NQF Level: 9

This course introduces a unique, intersectional arts-based pedagogical approach to democarcy building within a community context. The course focuses on the relational aspects of theatre, society and democracy and, more specifically, the role of applied theatre-making as a method of building community. The course also unpacks the transformative power of drama for the purposes of fostering community and social justice and focuses on becoming a self-reflective, collaborative theatre-making practitioner in the context of democarcy building.

Course Code: WSOA7114A

Course Description: Cultural Policy and Leadership

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course examines the cultural governance frameworks (policy, legislation, programmes, strategies and measures) within which arts, culture and heritage leaders, strategists and managers operate in South Africa, Africa and internationally. It analyses the nature of cultural leadership and the governance required in the organisations and institutions of arts, culture and the heritage sector. It further, considers the disciplinary origins of cultural knowledge and the decolonisation of knowledge.

Course Code: WSOA4130A

Course Description: Cultural Entrepreneurship

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course expands on entrepreneurship in the arts and cultural sector to demonstrate how it contributes to a broader understanding of planning for business activities and modelling for revenue generation. These three components are critical to understanding the shape and size of an arts enterprise. The notion of "entrepreneurship" is associated with the discovery and pursuit of new business opportunities through the creation of firms. The ultimate aim of entrepreneurial activity is seldom profit or personal wealth-creation, realizing new ideas and being free from restraints.

SCHOOL OF GEOGRAPHY, ARCHAEOLOGY AND ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Course Code: ARCL1000A

Course Description: Archaeology I

NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to the basics of the practice of archaeology. Themes include the political and contextual aspects of the archaeological past, the nature of archaeological evidence, the analysis and interpretation of archaeological evidence, and relationships between archaeology and the wider public. The course comprises four modules and some day trips to archaeological sites. The modules covered are: Fundamentals of Archaeology, Guide to Human Evolution, World Hunter-Gatherers, and Origins of Civilization.

Course Code: ARCL1006A

Course Description: Fundamentals of Archaeology I

NQF Credits: 9	NQF Level: 5

This course looks at the nature of the archaeological record. It covers ways in which sites are found and recorded, the different dating methods available to archaeologists, the preservation of organic and inorganic material, classification techniques, and interpretation. It also introduces basic skills employed by archaeologists in the field and laboratory. Students obtain practical skills in surveying, excavating and curation, and are challenged to reflect on professional practice and ethics.

Course Code: ARCL1008A

Course Description: World Hunter-Gatherers I

NQF Credits: 9	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces global debates in the study of hunter-gatherers, whose activities represent a significant part of the archaeological record. The course explores the origins of hunting and gathering, social organisation of forager communities, hunter-gatherer economics, religion and ritual, hunter-gatherer art, complex hunter-gatherers, and the use of ethnographic analogy to understand part hunter-gatherer communities.

Course Code: ARCL1007A

Course Description: Guide to Human Evolution I

NQF Credits: 9	NQF Level: 5

This course explores the development of human cultural behaviour within the framework of the major stages of human evolution. The course considers non-human primates and the analogies they provide for the origins of cultural behaviour in our earliest ancestors. It further considers cultural adaptations, from the time of the development of lithic technology from 3.3 million years ago until the evolution of modern humans 200 000 years ago. The most important and lasting adaptations are discussed, and a major theme of how modern humans mingled with other groups outside of Africa to give rise to the humans of today.

Course Code: ARCL1009A

Course Description: Origins of Civilisation I

NQF Credits: 9 | NQF Level: 5

This course explores domestication events, how they formed preconditions to the rise of civilization, and how and when they spread through Africa. The course also considers the rise of complex societies, defining complex society and recognising it's archaeologically. The course further considers key traits of some famous ancient complex societies, such as Babylon, ancient Egypt, the Maya, and Great Zimbabwe and the future of our civilization.

Course Code: ARCL2002A

Course Description: Archaeology II

NQF Credits: 48 | NQF Level: 6

This course comprises the following:

1)	World Rock Art.

2)	Earlier and Middle Stone Age.

3)	Archaeobotany.

4)	Archaeology of the Last 2000 Years.

5)	Osteoarchaeology.

6)	Space and Time in Archaeology.

Course Description: World Rock Art II

NQF Credits: 12 | NQF Level: 6

This course examines rock art (cave paintings and open air engravings) from around the world. It considers the times and spaces in which they were executed and the possible reasons as to why images were made at all. The ways in which scholars of different regions have tackled these questions engender lively debate regarding intercontinental similarities and differences. Rock art is a highly contested field worldwide and with a large amount of visual content, it is essential for students to familiarise themselves with the literature and debate surrounding its interpretation.

Course Code: ARCL2004A

Course Description: Earlier and Middle Stone Age II

NQF Credits: 12 | NQF Level: 6

This course covers the cultural and paleoanthropological evolution of African hominins from 3.3 million until 40,000 years ago. The major cultural milestones include the invention of different types of tools, fire, language and music. How and whether these developments can be related to observable paleoanthropological changes is discussed. The interaction of evolutionary processes with climate and environmental change is also a major theme explored in this course.

Course Code: ARCL2008A

Course Description: Archaeobotany II

NQF Credits: 12 | NQF Level: 6

The course considers the integral role of plants in people's lives and how the study of plants recovered from archaeological contexts can be used to investigate subsistence, social organisation, trade and contact, gender and power issues. This course incorporates:

1)	The identification and analysis of past vegetation, which can be used for studies of past climate and climate change;

2) The effects of people on vegetation and vice versa, including discussion of domestication of plants and the consequences for people and plants; and

3) Southern Africa's rich ethnographic record and ancient and contemporary indigenous knowledge of the use of indigenous plants.

Course Code: ARCL2005A
Course Description: Archaeology of the Last 2000 Years II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course examines the archaeology of hunter-gatherer and farming communities who lived in southern Africa during the last two thousand years. The course covers:

1) The archaeology of the Later Stone Age hunter-gatherers in southern Africa during the Wilton period.

2) The archaeology of pastoralists during the Later Stone Age.

3) The occupation of southern Africa by farming communities.

4) The archaeology of the colonial period in southern Africa.

5) The major debates that have a bearing on the interpretation of hunter-gatherer material culture, the origins of livestock herding and crop farming, and the consequences of interaction between these communities during the last 2000 years.

Course Code: ARCL2006A
Course Description: Osteoarchaeology II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course covers the analysis of human and animal bones and teeth from archaeological sites, it is crucial that professional archaeologists are able to identify bone and distinguish human from other animal remains:

1) Identifying human and animal bones and teeth recovered from archaeological sites and to differentiate animal from human skeletal material.

2) Describing techonomic processes that play a role in determining what skeletal elements are preserved and how bones are altered before and after death or deposition.

3) Outlining subsistence behaviour or the types of strategies people used to obtain meat in the past.

4) Describing the human body and populations affected by behaviour, disease and health through time.

5) Introducing the legal and ethical problems encountered when working with human remains.

Course Code: ARCL2007A
Course Description: Space and Time in Archaeology II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course provides students with the skills needed to recognise different archaeological contexts, and plan multidisciplinary research protocols to take advantage of a broad range of evidence:

1) Describing the modification of the archaeological record in space through time, in different archaeological contexts.

2) Introducing basic archaeological excavation methods and their applicability in different archaeological contexts.

3) Discussing different types of archaeological evidence and how they are modified in space and through time by different biological, geological and anthropological processes.

4) Outlining basic professional archaeological excavation planning and application processes, in preparation for third year field schools.

Course Code: ARCL3002A

Course Description: Archaeology III

NQF Credits: 72	NQF Level: 7

This course covers archaeological data analysis and report writing, southern African rock art, the archaeology of death, archaeobotany: people and plants in the past, the history of archaeological thought, the archaeology of transformed clay, and lithic. There is a compulsory, week-long field trip. Students can choose between excavations on a Later Stone Age or an Earlier Stone Age site.

Course Code: ARCL3003A

Course Description: Archaeological data analysis and report writing III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the practicalities of data analysis of different common sources of evidence in archaeology including documentary, lithic, faunal, botanical and spatial evidence. The course teaches students to apply a range of analyses to different forms of data and set the results and interpretations within the current national legislation on archaeological practice and ethics.

Course Code: ARCL3006A

Course Description: Southern African Rock Art III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course discusses rock art traditions and meanings, in particular San rock art, but also those made by other groups including Khoe-speaking herders, Bantu-speaking farmers and groups from mixed backgrounds. Studying the rock art of these groups helps us understand their beliefs and the nature of interaction between cultures, from an anthropological approach.

Course Code: ARCL3008A

Course Description: Archaeology of Death III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on the corpse, the grave or the memorial to obtain insight to the socio-psychological fabric of society, and corpses, death and dying which are culturally constructed entities that form part of a network of knowledge and memory.   This course examines:

1)   Different theoretical and practical approaches to mortuary studies.

2)   Evidence for the earliest forms of ritual body disposal and current thinking about the evolution of beliefs about death.

3)   The growth of the world's religions, and systems of governance and death.

4)   The symbolic role of mortuary architecture, and monuments and how they function(ed) in the socio-economic landscape of the past and present.

5)   The cross-cultural treatment of the body, and what this tells us about attitudes towards and beliefs about bodies in this and the afterlife.

Course Code: ARCL3007A

Course Description: Archaeobotany III - People and Plants in the Past

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on the intimate relationships people have with plants, from basic subsistence, including food, clothing, shelter and technology, to specialised uses for medicine, ritual and recreation. This course approaches these issues through the recovery and analysis of plant remains and considers the theoretical and practical considerations, which influence interpretations of the entangled interrelationships between people and plants. Issues considered in depth are:

1) Different theoretical and practical approaches to archaeobotanical studies.
2) Evidence for and effects of theuse of fire and other forms of food processing.
3) Taphonomy of archaeobotanical remains.
4) Identification of culturally constructed groupings through plant usage.
5) The use of Indigenous Plant Knowledge Systems and ethnoarchaeobotany.
6) Theory and practice of experimental archaeobotany.

Course Code: ARCL3004A
Course Description: History of Archaeological Thought III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course equips students with a framework for understanding the issues that affect the ways in which we understand the past. The course covers antecedents to archaeology in Egypt and the classical world, proceeding to the Mediaeval and Renaissance periods; this sets the foundation for understanding modern forms of archaeological thinking from the nineteenth Century to present.

Course Code: ARCL3005A
Course Description: Archaeology of Transformed Clay III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines the archaeology of clay based material culture and covers:
1) The processes involved in the manufacture of clay based material culture.
2) The social and symbolic context in which clay based objects are produced, used and discarded.
3) Various archaeological approaches to the study of clay based objects.
4) Key debates relating to the archaeology of clay based material culture.

Course Code: ARCL3009A
Course Description: Lithics III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course develops the capacity of students to recognise, classify and analyse stone tools. The course covers:
1) The technological approach to classifying stone tools with hands on practical exercises.
2) The morphological approach to classifying stone tools with hands on practical exercises.
3) Quantifying and analysing stone tool data.

Course Code: ARCL4015A
Course Description: Archaeobotany
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course discusses theoretical and practical aspects of archaeobotany, including the social, political and economic issues that can be addressed through archaeobotanical studies, and their environmental contexts. In practical classes, candidates receive training on how to excavate, recover, identify, quantify and analyse archaeobotanical remains, and applying appropriate statistical methods. Candidates also learn how to collect modern comparative materials, and how to curate this material and the ancient remains.

Course Code: ARCL4016A
Course Description: Archaeology in the Field/Laboratory
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course is based on at least thirty days of practical field excavation, basic field techniques of recording, curation or analysis, and associated laboratory work including faunal analysis and rock art recording. This course is a requirement for those wishing to work as a professional archaeologist.

Course Code: ARCL4017A
Course Description: Archaeological Ethics
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course equips candidates with the decision-making skills necessary to make ethical decisions in cultural resource management archaeology, and is based on seminar discussions and critical readings. The course covers the definition and scope of ethics in archaeology, and draws on global examples to illustrate some of the complex ethical choices that need to be made when dealing with human remains, material culture of indigenous minorities, and the global context of illegal trafficking.

Course Code: ARCL4018A
Course Description: Archaeometry
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course presents the theory and practice of radiocarbon dating, including sampling requirements, sample preparation and analysis, and interpretation of radiocarbon dates. This course also discusses the importance of calibration and the limitations presented by multiple intercepts; radiocarbon fluctuations through time; and global carbon dynamics in the context of Earth System Science. The course comprises a theoretical component (lectures), a technical visit to the Accelerator Mass Spectrometry (AMS) facility at iThemba laboratories, and the possibility the preparation and analysis of candidates' own samples.

Course Code: ARCL4019A
Course Description: Archaeology of Food Production
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the origins of food production during the Neolithic era, with a particular focus on Africa. The production of a food surplus through farming and herding allowed the rise of a non-food producing class of specialists, and this so-called 'Neolithic Revolution' ultimately made complex societies and civilizations possible. This course also explores the domestication of key species, responses to the introduction of new domesticates, and the development of intensive agriculture.

Course Code: ARCL4020A
Course Description: Geoarchaeology
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course focuses on understanding the dynamic nature of the archaeological record across different contexts, and the development of description, recording, and analytical skills within the framework of these contexts. Different contexts (e.g. floodplain gravels, rock shelter, deep cave, settlements) are introduced, with relevant geomorphological theoretical frameworks and case studies, which form the conceptual basis for the discussion of different geoarchaeological approaches. The value of each approach/technique is then discussed and assessed with reference to the specific context, research question and archaeological assemblage. Candidates learn how to record, describe and analyse deposits, sediments and landscapes in the field and laboratory using a range of traditional and contemporary techniques and technologies.

Course Code: ARCL4021A
Course Description: Historical Archaeology
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course interrogates different social, political and economic approaches to historical archaeology and considers how these impact on the ways in which material culture is interpreted. The course looks at the impact of capitalism and colonialism on local markets, hierarchies and state development, and considers the political nature of knowledge production, and how memory, oral or written history operates within contemporary systems of knowledge and power. Candidates learn how to record and describe objects and buildings and how to analyse and excavate historical sites.

Course Code: ARCL4022A

Course Description: Archaeology of the Last 2000 Years

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the archaeology of hunter-gatherer and farming communities who lived in southern Africa during the last two thousand years. The course discusses the major debates regarding the Later Stone Age of southern Africa, and the development of farming communities. These have a bearing on the end of hunting-gathering activities, the origins of livestock herding and crop farming, and the formation of modern cultural identities in southern Africa.

Course Code: ARCL4023A

Course Description: Rock Art Management IV

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course discusses the intellectual and practical challenges in the management of rock art, including its audience, the role of conservation, rights of access, traditional cultural practices, site display, and technical aspects of recording, conservation and control of human agency, development and implementation of management plans.

Course Code: ARCL4024A

Course Description: Rock Art of Africa IV

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course explores methodological approaches to understanding rock art. A wide variety of rock art traditions occurs across Africa. These traditions were made for different purposes and studied in different ways. This course draws on examples from across Africa to investigate topics of international relevance in the study of rock art.

Course Code: ARCL4025A

Course Description: Research Project: Archaeology

NQF Credits: 40	NQF Level: 8

In this compulsory course for Archaeology Honours degree, candidates must produce a research essay on an approved topic in Archaeology.

Course Code: ARCL4026A

Course Description: Stone Age Archaeology

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course focuses on key developments in stone tool technology and behaviour from the Earlier to the Middle and the Later Stone Age in southern Africa, and with an emphasis on understanding issues and debates in technological behaviour. Practical classes in this course are designed to give candidates experience with original research collections.

Course Code: ARCL4027A

Course Description: Theory of Archaeology

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course provides candidates with an in-depth understanding of contemporary theoretical issues in Archaeology.

This course considers:

1)   Post-processual archaeology;

2)   Agency and practice theories;

3)   Embodiment and landscape;

4)   Gender and feminism;

5) Post colonialism; and

6) Materiality.

Reading and writing requirements for this course are substantial and candidates are expected to deal with the original theoretical texts as well as their archaeological applications.

Course Code: ARCL4028A
Course Description: Classification in Archaeology
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course discusses what classification is and how it can determine the outcome of archaeological enquiries. The course covers the typological debate, and candidates will examine a variety of classificatory systems currently used in southern African archaeology (lithics, ceramics, rock art, etc) in the light of this debate. The art (or science) of classification is fundamental to all scientific enquiry, and archaeology is no exception.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AND PLANNING

Course Code: ARPL3023A
Course Description: Politics, Governance and the City
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with theoretical as well as practical responses to these types of questions, theories of urban regimes, urban governance, participation, social movements and political mobilization are presented including their relevance for African cities debated through different case studies.

SCHOOL OF MOLECULAR AND CELL BIOLOGY

Course Code: BIOL1000A
Course Description: Introductory Life Sciences I
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course comprises the following:

1. Introductory Molecular and Cellular Biology

This module examines the relationship between structure and function at the molecular and cellular levels. It studies the cell as the basic unit of life, and examines how cells capture and use energy, communicate and react to molecular signals.

2. Growth and Development

This module explains the flow of genetic information in the cell and focuses on how genes and chromosomes play a role in the storage, expression and transmission of genetic material from one generation to the next. Candidates also examine the different sources of genetic variation.

3. Structure and Function Influenced by the Environment

This module introduces students to the relationship between structure and function using homeostasis as a common theme linking anatomy, physiology and evolution. The module is designed to familiarise the students with the relevant vocabulary and important principles involved in animal physiology.

4. Ecology and Diversity

This module consists of two further components, diversity and ecology and the environment. The diversity component introduces students to the spectacular range of plants and animals. The ecology and environmental components cover ecological theory, knowledge of field practice, knowledge of southern African ecosystems, environmental problems and knowledge of the environment of organisms.

Course Code: BIOL1006A
Course Description: Complementary Life Sciences I
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course offers enrichment in areas that lead into teaching and research programmes within the Biological Sciences and comprises of the components below:

1.   Molecular and Cellular Biology

This component centres on identification of major principles recognised in modern molecular and cellular biology. Emphasis is placed on how the study of DNA may be used to study evolution, and how recombinant DNA technology and biotechnology is used in research in the field.

2.   Principles and Applications of Microbiology

The component studies microbial diversity including the structure and function of bacteria and viruses and explains the principles of host-microbe interactions.

3.   Life in its Diversity

This component explores the patterns of diversity, evolution, relationships and biology of major groups of protists, animals, plants and fungi. This component also equips students with the skills on how to recognise these organisms, how to identify organisms and access information about them via a knowledge of their classification. This component focuses on the importance of these organisms in the natural environment and to man, and the need for their conservation.

WITS SCHOOL OF ARTS

Course Code: WSOA3021A
Course Description: Introduction to Cultural Policy and Management A
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Thia course responds to contemporary cultural policy and management challenges faced by cultural institutions in the African context. It grooms arts professionals, managers, curators, producers, fundraisers and marketers in innovating, developing and facilitating sustained production, distribution and consumption of cultural and creative goods and services in a 'mixed economy' context.

Course Code: WSOA 4119A
Course Description: Arts Management IVA: Cultural Entrepreneurship
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces cultural entrepreneurship and business planning in the arts, culture and heritage sector. It covers mission, vision, institutional arrangements and formations, organisational design, budgeting, risk management, monitoring and evaluation.

Course Code: WSOA7115A
Course Description: Cultural Entrepreneurship
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course expands on entrepreneurship in the arts and cultural sector to demonstrate how it contributes to a broader understanding of planning for business activities and modelling for revenue generation. These three components are critical to understanding the shape and size of an arts enterprise. The notion of "entrepreneurship" is associated with the discovery and pursuit of new business opportunities through the creation of firms. The ultimate aim of entrepreneurial activity is seldom profit or personal wealth-creation, realizing new ideas and being free from restraints.

SCHOOL OF COMPUTER SCIENCE AND APPLIED MATHEMATICS

Course Code: APPM1004A/APPM1011A/APPM1005A
Course Description: Computational Mathematics I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course offers an introduction to differential calculus, including the product and quotient rules, composite rule and higher order derivatives of polynomial, exponential and logarithmic functions. Introduction to integral calculus including the fundamental theorem of calculus, integration by substitution and parts, tables of integrals, numerical integration, improper integrals, volume and average value, density functions, double integrals, differential equations and Euler's method is also covered, amongst others.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

Course Code: POLS4058A
Course Description: Decentralising the African State
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores how the structure and organisation of the South African state, and similar African state, necessarily creates patterns and issues in state's governance and public administration. The course consists of two modules. The first module comprises two primary principles: decentralisation and administrative traditions. The second module is a critical examination of the role of decentralisation and administrative traditions in governance and public administration. This critical examination will be conducted using 5 topics that demonstrate patterns and issues of governance in African states: law fare, pockets of effectiveness, regulation and compliance, recentralisation and provincial governance. This course covers a broad history of musical theatre, including dance, music, and theatre genres and techniques. It is framed by the concepts of modernity, modernism and postmodernism, and considers both canonical and alternative works as they have emerged in the west and in Africa. The course examines twentieth-century musical production by looking at libretto and the scores of music composed and performed during the period and debates the role of music as an articulator of the avant-garde. It also introduces Speech Level Singing, a revolutionary vocal technique designed for contemporary sound.

Course Code: WSOA4179A

Course Code: WSOA7116A

Course Description: Arts Marketing and Creative Markets

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

The course focuses on marketing, fundraising and audience participation as management functions within an art organisations. The course explores traditional and social media marketing concepts as essential tools for communicating with audiences and funders in a changing arts and culture environment.

Course Code: DRAA7032A

Course Description: Radical Theatre Research

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course provides candidates with the necessary tools to undertake rigorous research on their own performances, live performance, practice in the theatre laboratory, digital performance, scenography, body in or as performance, play texts as well as theatre historiography. This course encourages students to explore various types and modes of theatre research in radically new ways and to develop a plan of research toward a final project.

Course Code: WSOA7113A

Course Description: Digital Humanities

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course explores a range of body-technology intervolvements from a number of interdisciplinary critical perspectives. It enhances the cultural political and ethical dimensions of divergent technosomic practices. Topics include biomechatronics (e.g. prosthetics); biomedical technologies that reshape corporealities (e.g. transsexual and transplant surgeries of different kinds); technologies that confound distinctions between life and death states; drone technologies; biomedicine; artificial intelligences, and various cyber practices.

School of Accountancy

Course Code: ECON1016A/1017A

Course Description: Economics Theory IA: Microeconomics for Economists

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course establishes the core microeconomic theory for students intending to major in economics. The course investigates the optimising behaviour of consumers and firms and the coordination of their decisions through markets. It takes a rigorously technical approach to exploring the theory while guest speakers from within the economics profession share their insights with students. The primary focus of the course is to critically engage with the technical and mathematical aspects, as well as the underlying logic, of the theory and models that form the core of the discipline.

Course Code: ECON1018A/1019A

Course Description: Economics Theory IB: Macroeconomics IB for Economists

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course establishes the core macroeconomic theory for students intending to major in economics. The course investigates the phenomenon of economic growth and its fluctuation, and considers the roles of both fiscal and monetary policy in this process. It takes a technical approach to exploring this theory. The primary focus of the course is to critically engage with the technical and the underlying logic of the theory and models that form the core of the discipline. The topics covered include: measuring output, unemployment, and inflation; business cycle; aggregate expenditure & demand, aggregate supply, ISLM models; fiscal & monetary policies; interest rates determination; the BOPs; and economic growth analysis.

Course Code: ECON2000A
Course Description: Economics IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course comprises of two modules: Intermediate Microeconomics and Intermediate Macroeconomics. Microeconomics introduces students to the theory of consumer behaviour and its empirical applications. The module explores key concepts such as constrained and unconstrained preferences, demand, equilibrium, revealed preference and the Slutsky equation. Macroeconomics consists of an in-depth critical analysis of major conventional macroeconomic theories and their policy implications. Especially, as they relate to current economic conditions in South Africa and the rest of the world over the short- and medium-run.

Course Code: ECON2001A
Course Description: Economics IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course comprises of two modules: International Economics and Mathematics and Statistics for Economists. International Economics exposes students to a critical analysis of classical and neoclassical theories that determine observable trade patterns. The module also provides a background of the basic principles of international monetary economics. This lays the groundwork for understanding why individuals and institutions trade in financial assets and how international financial transactions affect and in turn are influenced by the real and financial sectors of an economy. For Mathematics and Statistics for Economists, it equips students with elementary mathematical and statistical tools to apply in real economic analysis.

Course Code: ECON3007A
Course Description: Economic Science III
NQF Credits: 72	NQF Level: 7

This course equips students with a detailed analysis and application of conventional and modern competing theories on how the economy functions at the micro and macro levels, and reinforces the theoretical and quantitative tools acquired in second-year economics, with a strong emphasis on developing analytical skills, i.e. measure, explain and predict economic and non-economic phenomena. Furthermore, in the topic of International economics, students will explore the effects of international trade and macroeconomic policy.

Course Code: ECON3009A/3010A
Course Description: Economic Theory III
NQF Credits: 72	NQF Level: 7

This course equips students with a detailed analysis and application of conventional and modern competing theories on how the economy functions at the micro and macro levels, and reinforces the theoretical and quantitative tools acquired in second-year economics, with a strong emphasis on developing analytical skills, i.e. measure, explain and predict economic and non-economic phenomena.

Economic Concepts

Course Description: Economic Concepts IA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces economic concepts relevant to social science students. It explains core concepts that underpin most economic discourse. It introduces principles and methodological approaches to economics. The course has a strong South African focus and is empirically based. Necessary arithmetical knowledge is restricted to the calculation of percentages, percentage change and ratios.

Course Code: ECON1003A/1006A

Course Description: Economic Concepts IB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course develops and extends knowledge of concepts covered in Economic Concepts IA. The course covers macroeconomics topics. Course content includes the private and public sectors in South Africa, measuring domestic output and national income, basic macroeconomics relationships, the aggregate expenditure model, aggregate demand and aggregate supply, economic growth, unemployment, inflation, fiscal policy, money markets and monetary policy and macroeconomic debates.

SCHOOL OF LITERATURE, LANGUAGE AND MEDIA

Course Code: ENGL1001A/ENGL1007A(PT)

Course Description: English Literatures in Context I

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

Students explore the breadth and diversity of literature in English, focusing on prose, plays and films from Southern Africa and the Renaissance. Work covered includes context of a work and the interpretation and understanding of the work, how authors interact with their historical and cultural settings are investigated.

Course Code: ENGL1009A/ENGL1008A(PT)

Course Description: Global Literary Studies

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course engages both 'literary' and 'popular' texts drawn from world literatures in English: prose (novels, short stories and creative non-fiction) as well as poetry, drama and film.

Course Code: ENGL2008A/ENGL2009A(PT)

Course Description: Literary Origins and Legacies IIA

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces the contrapuntal curriculum that creates a dialogue between traditional historical periods associated with the study of English literature and more recent, contemporary and global texts and contexts. It explores the literatures of pre-modern and early modern periods, as well as individual works and broader artistic movements that respond to these literatures.

Course Code: ENGL2010A/ENGL2011A(PT)

Course Description: Literary Origins and Legacies IIB

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course continues the contrapuntal curriculum that places major periods of (and movements within) English literary history alongside their subsequent regional and global counterparts. It expands on the material introduced during the first semester by exploring, for example, satire - from the 'Age of Satire' to twentieth century texts - the evolution of the novel, 'high Romanticism' and the manifestations of Romanticism in American and South African literatures.

Course Code: ENGL3013A/ENGL3012A(PT)

Course Description: Literary Studies in English IIIA

NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 7

This course explains, applies and critically interrogates the historical periods and movements traditionally associated with the study of English literature. It builds on the foundational first- and second-year courses on "Literary Origins and Legacies". Topics include: realism in nineteenth- and twentieth-century novels; the poetry and prose produced by modernist writers; more recent global developments in literary, visual and filmic cultures under the rubric of postmodernism (exploring the place of elements such as metafiction, history, fantasy and the technological imaginary); and major postcolonial writers and studies (modernity in colonial spaces, landscape and representation, race, immigration, exoticism, cultural transitions, language and identity).

E-Science (COMS AND SOSS)

Course Code: SOSS7098A

Course Description: Statistical Computing and Inference for the Social Sciences and Humanities

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course introduces statistical social research, with applications in the social sciences and humanities. It emphasises the development of practical skills for conducting quantitative research using statistical software.

Course Code: SOSS7092A

Course Description: Advanced Topics in Quantitative Social Research

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course intensively examines advanced topics in quantitative research, with applications to substantive themes in the social sciences and related fields. "Advanced" refers primarily to topics that go beyond ordinary-lesat-squares (OLS) multiple regressions.

Course Code: SOSS7099A

Course Description: Statistical Modelling for the Social Sciences and Humanities

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course focuses on statistical modelling methods applied in the social sciences and humanities. These include multiple regression models, generalised linear models, multilevel models and structural equation models. It emphasises the identification of appropriate models based on the type of data and research objective, as well as the replication and critical analysis of applications in the students' substantive areas of expertise.

Course Code: SOSS7096A

Course Description: Applied Data Science for the Social Sciences and Humanities

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course focuses on applying data science methods, including relevant programming skills, in the social sciences and humanities. It emphasises practical applications, such as compiling and analysing textual and georeferenced data sets.

Course Code: COMS7063A

Course Description: Statistical Foundations of Data Science

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course covers an understanding of multivariate statistical methods such as hypothesis testing and confidence intervals, the ability to model data using well known statistical distributions as well as handle data that is both continuous and categorical, the ability to perform statistical modelling including multivariate regression and adjust for multiple hypotheses. Forecasting, extrapolation, prediction and modelling using statistical methods, Bayesian statistics and an understanding of bootstrapping and Monte Carlo simulation are included.

Course Code: COMS7055A

Course Description: Data Privacy and Ethics

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course introduces candidates to the ethical and legal foundations of data science governance. The topics covered are technical processes of data collection, storage, exchange and access, ethical aspects of data management, legal and regulatory frameworks in South Africa and in relevant jurisdictions, data policy, data privacy, data ownership, legal liabilities of analytical decisions, and discrimination, algorithms and technical approaches to enhance data privacy, and relevant case studies.

Course Code: COMS7056A

Course Description: Data Visualisation and Exploration

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course introduces the field of data visualisation that determines and presents underlying correlated structures and relationships in data sets from a wide variety of application areas. The prime objective of the presentation is to communicate the information in a dataset and enhance understanding. The course comprises the following subjects, data and image models, visualisation attributes (colour) and design (layout), exploratory data analysis, interactive data visualisation, multidimensional data, graphical perception, visualisation software (Python & R) and types of visualisation (animation, networks and text).

Course Code: COMS7057A

Course Description: Large Scale Optimisation for Data Science

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

Advanced areas of data science require a deeper understanding of the large scale discrete optimisation methods pertaining to the field. In order to bridge this mathematical gap and provide a foundation for further learning this course places more emphasis on topics such as convex optimisation, subgradient methods, localization methods, decomposition and distributed optimisation, proximal and operator splitting methods, conjugate gradients, and nonconvex problems.

Course Code: COMS7058A

Course Description: Mathematical Foundations of Data Science

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

Advanced areas of data science require a deeper understanding of the fundamental mathematics pertaining to the field. In order to bridge this mathematical gap and provide a foundation for further learning this course places more emphasis on topics such as high-dimensional space, best-fit subspaces and singular value decomposition, random walks and Markov chains, statistical machine learning, clustering, random graphs, topic models, non-negative matrix factorization, hidden Markov models, graphical models, wavelets, and sparse representations.

Course Code: COMS7059A

Course Description: Large Scale Computing Systems and Scientific Programming

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 9

This course focuses on the software stack but addresses hardware issues as necessary. The course covers a selection of following topics:

1) Introduction to programming environments for scientific computing (e.g. Pandas, Numpy, matplotlib)

2) Principles of distributed systems, and overview of parallel architectures and environments (e.g, FPGA, GPU, multi-core, cluster, grid).

3) Large scale data transfer and storage.

4) Frameworks for large scale data analysis (relational databases, map-reduce, streaming).

5)   Scientific workflow management: provenance and replication, introduction to cloud computing and virtualisation and Project (for example Programming large-data applications on open-source infrastructures for data processing and storage systems).

WITS SCHOOL OF ARTS

Course Code: WSOA1015A
Course Description: Visual Storytelling IA
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course focuses on history and development of film genres and movements and their impact on television content. It also offers a general introduction to genre theory and theories of authorship.

Course Code: WSOA1016A
Course Description: Visual Storytelling IB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course focuses on scriptwriting, visual narrative and film form with a view to grounding students in the basic skills and techniques relevant to visual storytelling for the screen. Students learn general principles of narrative storytelling and film form, key dramatic principles pertaining to screenwriting, and in moving from script to screen, analysing, planning, and previsualising the scene.

Course Code: WSOA1017A
Course Description: Image Creation IA
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course covers evolution of a visual language of film in the early years of cinema as it relates to techniques for photography. It uses the development of film technique from the rudimentary one-reelers of the Edison/ Méliès period to D.W. Griffith's highly crafted 'action continuity' and shot variation as a theoretical starting point for image creation. The course also introduces students to history of camera technology and basic image creation techniques through the use of DSLR cameras and image manipulation technology. This aspect of the course critically analyses components of image composition, exposure, lighting and mise-en-scene.

Course Code: WSOA1018A
Course Description: Image Creation IB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course covers film techniques of moving image medium and post production techniques of montage and editing through the processes of image sequencing. Students are exposed to the use of sound in still and moving images at an introductory level. Students apply theoretical concepts to the practice and craft of filmmaking through the making of projects that reflect their understanding of image composition, exposure, lighting and mise-en-scene.

Course Code: WSOA2015A
Course Description: Visual Storytelling IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course covers an introduction to conceptual, ethical and aesthetic concerns in relation to specific practices of filmmaking. The course offers students an introduction to the styling and staging of purely fictional visual images (both still and moving pictures) that are bound to narrative, mise-en-scene and/ or portraiture. Aspects of design, use of space, colour, composition and perspectival construction of the image are the central concerns. The course further introduces students to the theory and practice of documenting 'visual events'. This section is divided into two components, one focusing on documentary filmmaking, the other on documentary photography.

Course Code: WSOA2016A
Course Description: Visual Storytelling IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces basic elements of screenwriting on a theoretical level. It also focuses practically on conceptualising, researching and writing creatively for the screen. In exploring key principles and techniques for screenwriting, it covers both fictional (drama) and factual (documentary) forms. Students are also introduced to progressive stages of a script development process, as well as the professional world of screenwriting. Factual screenwriting such as how to develop a working hypothesis and proposal, conduct research, and write a narrative treatment for a documentary are also covered. The course also looks at documentary form and structure, identifying the relative strengths of various design principles and narrative strategies at work in classic and contemporary documentary practice.

Course Code: WSOA2013A
Course Description: Image Creation IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course is a foundational technical core course that introduces the moving image. It also offers a practical-focus in video production processes, operating video and sound equipment and deploying basic filmmaking techniques and conventions. The course augments theoretical and practical components offered in foundational courses in the main disciplines of film and video production.

Course Code: WSOA2014A
Course Description: Image Creation IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course builds on the technical core course and gives students skills and concepts for creating fiction films, exploring in more detail the principles and building blocks available to filmmakers in planning, previsualising, preproduction and production processes. The emphasis is on investigating how to utilise these components to exploit the emotive and expressive potential of visual storytelling in film fiction. Students continue to learn practically through a series of progressive interpretative exercises, each geared towards a deeper directorial understanding of fictional film genres (although these are also to some extent applicable to modes of documentary filmmaking).

Course Code: WSOA3009A
Course Description: Directing Fiction III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course focuses students on directing tools, techniques and understanding required for directing fiction films and drama for television. The course places equal emphasis on interpreting the script, directing the camera as well as working with actors to achieve engaging performances.

Course Code: WSOA3010A
Course Description: Documentary Filmmaking III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course focuses on conceptualising, research, directing, editing and other filmmaking processes employed in contemporary documentary filmmaking practice. The course places emphasis on documentary form(s), interpreting the subject matter from a consciously subjective point of view, choosing the appropriate documentary mode, as well as questions of representation and the filmmaker's ethical obligation to represent the documentary subject authentically.

Course Code: WSOA3011A
Course Description: Principles of Sound Design III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to all aspects of sound for picture. It commences from a basic understanding of acoustics, the course and emphasizes the importance of both conceptual thinking and a strategic design approach. Students are taught the use of the practical tools and techniques of contemporary sound recording and designing of sound. Sound is explored as a physical material to be captured, sculpted and designed in a creative and playful but professional manner.

Course Code: WSOA3012A
Course Description: Principles of Studio Production III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course offers students an overall experience of the functions, possibilities and constraints of studio production. It examines the multiple uses and functions of recording video and sound within a studio: the use of sets and flats, green screen, lighting in the studio, special effects and multi-camera shooting, as well as the general workflow and protocols on set.

Course Code: WSOA3013A
Course Description: Screenwriting IIIA
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on short film script, examining the appropriate scale and other factors and nuances required when writing for this format. Specifically, it offers students the opportunity to plan, develop and write a 24 - 26 minute screenplay.

Course Code: WSOA3014A
Course Description: Screenwriting IIIB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course focuses on development tools and screenwriting convention pertaining to television drama series. It offers students an opportunity to work with design aspects of a series, including story world, character development and story lining, including working at the level of the episode (with beat sheets, dialogue and other screenwriting elements).

Course Code: WSOA4078A
Course Description: Screenwriting IVA
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course offers students an opportunity to focus on adaptation for film. It allows students to work through the possibilities and challenges of developing a short film script based on a previously published text ('text' being inclusive of images). The course also addresses how adaptations are informed by different contexts and markets.

Course Code: WSOA4079A
Course Description: Screenwriting IVB
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This workshop-based course introduces students to basic processes required in the development of a feature film script within a specified genre, and is modelled on the processes, definitions and concepts established in the feature film industry. Students identify and shape an appropriate feature film idea, and further develop the film through stages of writing a synopsis, a treatment, a step outline, and then finally writing out of the first act of a feature film script.

Course Code: WSOA4080A
Course Description: Fact and Fiction IV
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The course explores the construction of the Self and positions research in the context of an imagined representation. The divide between documentary and fiction has been increasingly contested and fewer film festival programmers or commissioners seek to maintain this as a curatorial or programming distinction. While strategies for research and ethical considerations are still informed by historical and contemporary documentary debates, there is an increasing awareness of the space for subjectivity and interpretation in the presentation of "facts."

Course Code: WSOA4081A

Course Description: Experimental Film IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces history and development of experimental cinema, with a view to examining its contribution to contemporary cinematic and televisual practice. The course provides students with a theoretical framework around experimental cinema, encompassing traditions from the early avant-garde to contemporary practices incorporating new media technologies. The course also looks at how technological development has influenced experimental expression.

Course Code: WSOA4082A

Course Description: Fundamentals of Cinematography IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces cameras, equipment, cinematography operations and philosophies of filmmaking. The course demonstrates and exercises the various tools and some of the available techniques to students. In addition, the course familiarises students with the roles and responsibilities of the camera department, as well as onset protocol and communication, with emphasis on co-ordination and collaboration between the crew members on the film set to achieve a common goal.

Course Code: WSOA4083A

Course Description: Fundamentals of Post-Production I

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces post-production techniques and develops an understanding of post-production work-flows. It is designed using a series of small short exercises with a guided application process to monitor a student's ability to apply principles learnt in theory to the practice of editing and effects. Students also explore new techniques and developments in the field of digital image acquisition, including practices such as green screen compositing.

FINE ARTS (FINA)

Course Code: FINA1005A

Course Description: Design and Contemporary Practice IA

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 5

An introduction to concepts of drawing including both analytical and interpretive approaches is covered in this course. The course provides students with both perceptual and conceptual skills to explore functions and expressive possibilities of a range of media.

Course Code: FINA1006A

Course Description: Design and Contemporary Practice IB

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 5

Consolidation of analytical and interpretive approaches to drawing and the application of principles of design, the character and use of traditional and contemporary drawing media and techniques is covered in this course

Course Code: FINA1003A

Course Description: Fine Arts IA

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 5

An introduction to conceptual and perceptual skills in visual production study and application of the principles of painting, sculpture, printmaking and photography is covered in this course.

Course Code: FINA1004A

Course Description: Fine Arts IB

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 5

This course covers consolidation of conceptual and perceptual skills in visual production, including study and applications of the principles of painting, sculpture, printmaking and photography.

Course Code: FINA2007A/2008A

Course Description: Design and Contemporary Practice IIA (24 credits) and Design and Contemporary Practice IIB

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 6

This course investigates advanced design and drawing, through theoretical case studies and related practical projects.

Course Code: FINA2003A

Course Description: Fine Arts IIA

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 6

This course investigates advanced study in a range of fine arts media and genres in painting, sculpture, printmaking, photography and digital media.

Course Code: FINA2004A

Course Description: Fine Arts IIB

NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 6

This course investigates advanced study in a range of fine arts media and genres in painting, sculpture, printmaking, photography and digital media.

Course Code: FINA3011A/3012A

Course Description: Design and Contemporary Practice IIIA (18 credits) and Design and Contemporary Practice IIIB

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 7

Advanced study in drawing and design with emphasis on an individual development of style, form and content are covered in this course.

Course Code: FINA3009A

Course Description: Fine Arts IIIA

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 7

Students investigate contemporary techniques and media. Student works through an individually negotiated programme of study geared towards developing a professional level of practice. The student must show a high level of individual mastery of craft and a sense of engagement with the critical discourse of their chosen medium.

Course Code: FINA3010A

Course Description: Fine Arts IIIB

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 7

Students produce a proposal that is strongly embedded in theory and practice. Student works through an individually negotiated programme of study geared towards developing a professional level of practice. The student must show a high level of individual mastery of craft and a sense of engagement with the critical discourse of their chosen medium.

Course Code: FINA4012A

Course Description: Fine Arts IVA

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

Student work through an individually negotiated programme of study geared towards developing and achieving a professional level of practice, and produces a proposal that is strongly embedded in theory and practice. Student works through an individually negotiated programme of study geared towards developing a professional level of practice. The student must show a professional level of individual mastery of craft and a sense of engagement with the critical discourse of their chosen medium.

Course Code: FINA4013A

Course Description: Fine Arts IVB

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course covers advanced professional level practice in fine art and investigates selected contemporary techniques and concepts. Students produce a proposal that is strongly embedded in theory and practice. Student works through an individually negotiated programme of study geared towards developing a professional level of practice. The student must show a professional level of individual mastery of craft and a sense of engagement with the critical discourse of their chosen medium.

Course Code: FINA4017A

Course Description: Critical Theories and Visual Cultures

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course develops an idea of critical theory in its relation to critique, understanding as a conceptual, theoretically driven engagement with social, cultural and political questions across of an expanded field of cultural production. This understanding of critique enables students to see and develop their own artistic practice as a form of and/or in relation to ideas of critical thinking.

GAME DESIGN / DIGITAL ART

Course Code: WSOA1022A

Course Description: Game Design IA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces the theory and practice of game and interactive system design. All theory is underscored with practical assignments that require the analysis and production of analogue games.

Course Code: WSOA1021A

Course Description: Game Design IB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course develops the theory and practice of game and interactive system design. All theory is underscored with practical assignments that require the analysis and production of analogue games.

Course Code: WSOA1019A

Course Description: Digital Arts Practice IA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides students with a solid foundation in the narrative design and production skills relevant to an analogue gaming environment. In this course students are introduced to the skills necessary in producing the art assets and written components for an analogue board game.

Course Code: WSOA1020A

Course Description: Digital Arts Practice IB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides students with a solid foundation in the visual narrative design, production and skills relevant to an analogue gaming environment. In this course students are introduced to the skills necessary to produce the visual narrative components required for an analogue card game.

Course Code: WSOA2006A

Course Description: Digital Art Design Project

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course focuses on applied game design. The fundamental focus of the design project is proper procedure in practice research and development; documentation of the project and writing up of the project results.

Course Code: WSOA2024A

Course Description: Game Design IIA

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces software development skills through the creation of small scale digital games.

Course Code: WSOA2026A

Course Description: Game Design IIB

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course development skills through creating digital games and apply different game development techniques.

Course Code: WSOA2020A

Course Description: Digital Art Theory II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course addresses the growing field of technology arts. The course introduces students to key concepts and vocabularies in Digital Arts. Students are introduced to the history of Digital Art and the theoretical frameworks that influence the field, these include the development of computer assisted art creation, interactive art, networked art, and game studies.

Course Code: WSOA3028A

Course Description: Interactive Media IIIA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores creative and technical exploration of the capabilities of the internet as a tool to communicate artistic and political ideas to a global viewership. It introduces students to the main currents of contemporary Net. Art with an understanding of web functionality as a communicative system. At a practice level students receive an introduction to basic web coding techniques and creative projects.

Course Code: WSOA3029A

Course Description: Interactive Media IIIB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course expands on the development cycles, software and theories of Interactive Media. Through the creation of a range of data driven practices, the students receive practical experience in data visualisation. The course encompasses a range of essential skills and techniques in software development, and structural elements of subject matter and narrative. The course also covers theories of interactivity and data narration and critically analyses historic work in the field.

Course Code: WSOA3026A

Course Description: Animation IIIA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides a working knowledge of practical and technical possibilities of animation. The course encompasses a range of essential skills and techniques in animation, and structural elements such as subject matter and narrative. Through the creation of short-animated films, the students receive practical experience in animation and story-telling. The Students also engage with theories of animation by critically analysing the works of key figures in the development of animation as an art form.

Course Code: WSOA3027A

Course Description: Animation IIIB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course further develops the students skills and theoretical knowledge of animation. The course builds on the range of skills and techniques learnt in Animation IIIA in order to develop longer and more sophisticated works. Through the creation of short-animated films, the students receive practical experience in animation and story-telling. The students also engage with theories of animation and critically analyse, through screenings and readings, the work of key figures in the development of animation as an art form.

Course Code: WSOA3006A

Course Description: Theories of Art

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course offers a systematic overview of twentieth century theories of art and aesthetics against an historical background. Students are introduced to the three great historical phases in approaches to art: Mimesis from Plato to Aristotle until the end of the nineteenth century, the rise of Romanticism (art as expression of the individual), and twentieth century semiotic and constructionist approaches. The course further focuses on the most prominent movements in art-theoretical approaches during the twentieth century including semiotics and constructionism, formalism and structuralism, and postsructuralism and postcolonialism. Students read key texts and are guided towards an understanding of the origin and context of each approach, as well as towards an accurate use of relevant concepts.

Course Code: WSOA3030A

Course Description: Writing and Interactivity IIIA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course investigates the theory and practice of interactive literature, storytelling and writing. Students are introduced to selected tools for interactive writing, as well as the conceptual and creative framework of the field.

Course Code: WSOA3031A

Course Description: Writing and Interactivity IIIB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course further develops investigates the theory and practice of interactive literature, storytelling and writing. Students extend their knowledge of selected tools for interactive writing, as well as the conceptual and creative framework of the field.

Course Code: WSOA3002A
Course Description: Sound Design
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course entails a technical and theoretical technological stream and addresses the history, theories, processes and methods pertaining to sound design in the respective fields, as well as guiding students through the activities of small discipline-specific projects.

Course Code: WSOA3003A
Course Description: Game Design IIIA
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course expands and builds a clear knowledge of the core elements of game design as well as the academic debates surrounding these. The course includes sections covering technical and artistic use of game mechanics, game world, system, level and interface design, content and narrative development as well as creative writing and image use.

Course Code: WSOA3004A
Course Description: Game Design IIIB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course expands and builds a clear knowledge of the core elements of game design as well as the academic debates surrounding these. The course includes sections dealing with the technical and artistic use of game mechanics, game world, system, level and interface design, content and narrative development as well as creative writing and image use.

Course Code: WSOA3005A
Course Description: Online Worlds and Networked Games
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces key theories and debates surrounding the cultures, politics and environments of online communities. Students engage critically with areas ranging from social interaction in game-play to the use of online societies in artworks. The course introduces students to well known theorists and artists and explores trends in the development of online communities themselves.

Course Code: WSOA4173A
Course Description: Interactive Media: Advanced
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the creation of experimental interactive art works. It provides both technical and analytical skills that focus on the successful production of interactive media. In the course, students develop their knowledge in order to create challenging works of art that explore unique forms of interaction and reception.

Course Code: WSOA4055A
Course Description: Game Design Project
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The course is an intensive practical course where students design and produce a digital game using the theoretical and practical experience they have gained over the previous four years of study.

Course Code: WSOA4125A

Course Description: Game Design: Advanced

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course is an intensive theoretical and practical course in which students engage critically with different and advanced game development methodologies, technologies and theories

Course Code: WSOA4124A

Course Description: Animation IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The course explores techniques of motion graphics, animation, compositing and visual effects. Students are exposed to the concepts and techniques of non-linear editing, special effects, camera movements in space, cinematic points of view, and experimental design and animation. It provides an analysis of existing experimental artists to demonstrate many techniques in a number of examples and reference materials

Course Code: WSOA4128A

Course Description: Animation: Advanced (4th year and Honours)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The course explores techniques of motion graphics, animation, compositing and visual effects. Students are exposed to the concepts and techniques of non-linear editing, special effects, camera movements in space, cinematic points of view, and experimental design and animation. It also provides an analysis of existing experimental artists to demonstrate many techniques in a number of examples and reference materials.

Course Code: WSOA4175A

Course Description: Interactive Media IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the creation of experimental interactive art works. It provides both technical and analytical skills that focus on the successful production of interactive media. In the course, students develop their knowledge in order to create challenging works of art that explore unique forms of interaction and reception.

Course Code: WSOA4089A

Course Description: Writing and Interactivity IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course investigates theory and practice of interactive literature, storytelling and writing for an interactive environment. The course is theoretically grounded with the selected case studies, but focuses on the practical production on interactive writing.

Course Code: WSOA4127A

Course Description: Game Design IV

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course is an intensive theoretical and practical course in which students engage critically with advanced game development methodologies, technologies and theories.

Course Code: WSOA4176A

Course Description: Writing and Interactivity: Advanced

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course investigates the theory and practice of interactive literature, storytelling and writing. The course covers selected case studies and focuses on the practical production of interactive writing.

Course Code: WSOA4174A

Course Description: Interactive Media: Introduction

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores interactive development and the theory of web and networked based media as a creative medium. It criticaly examines networked media and its use internationally, regionally and locally. The course expands on technical skills in design and networked media. It development cycles, software and theories of Interactive Media. Through the creation of a range of data driven practices, the students receive practical experience in data visualisation. The course encompasses a range of essential skills and techniques in software development, and structural elements such as subject matter and narrative. The students also engage with theories of interactivity and data narration and critically analyse and assess historic work in the field.

Course Code: WSOA4123A

Course Description: Animation Introduction (Hons)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to the skills and theories of animation. Through the creation of short-animated films, the students receive practical experience in animation and story-telling. The course covers a range of skills and techniques to produce increasingly sophisticated works. The students also engage with theories of animation and critically analyse, through screenings and readings, the work of key figures in the development of animation as an art form.

Course Code: WSOA4126A

Course Description: Game Design: Introduction (Hons)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course builds a clear knowledge of the core elements of game design and the academic debates surrounding it. The course includes sections dealing with the technical and artistic use of game mechanics, game world, system, level and interface design, content and narrative development as well as creative writing and image use. The focus of this course is on theory and close case studies of selected games, as well as on applying these in practical game design.

Course Code: WSOA4177A

Course Description: Writing and Interactivity: Introduction

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course investigates the theory and practice of interactive literature, storytelling and writing for an interactive environment. Students are introduced to selected tools for interactive writing, as well as the conceptual and creative framework of the field.

GEOGRAPHY (GEOG)

Course Code: GEOG1000A

Course Description: Geography I

NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course offers new perspectives on the importance and role of geography to a wide range of contemporary issues. The fields of study covered relate to aspects of both physical and human geography and a strong emphasis is placed on the development of geographical skills and the application of geographical ideas to the real world.

The course consists of four topics:

1) Landscapes of southern Africa;
2) Environmental Change;
3) Space and Society; and
4) Atmospheric Science.

Course Code: GEOG2010A
Course Description: Earth and Atmospheric Processes II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course is based on three interlinked components of global climate dynamics, geomorphological processes and landforms, and the biosphere. The course first examines atmospheric circulation patterns and climate dynamics with particular reference to southern Africa. The role of climate as a control to both geomorphic and ecosystem processes is then explored. Climate as an environmental factor driving various geomorphic processes is critically assessed, including the development of landforms and landscapes, which influence the distribution of biomes, habitats and species. In turn, the biosphere influences global climate. These topics are explored using case studies from around the world and from local to global scales.

Course Code: GEOG2011A
Course Description: An Introduction to Climate Change and Society II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course examines the relationships between climate changes that take place within the Earth system, and impacts of these changes on different aspects of the human world and societies. The course considers climate dynamics on a global scale and the impacts of climate on geomorphology and ecosystems. The course then considers how climate can impact on the human world and society, including cultural constructions of climate, vulnerability and resilience, climate politics and the IPCC, climate ethics and social justice, climate hazards and risk, and climate science communication.

Course Code: GEOG2012A
Course Description: Environmental Governance: From Local to Global II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course considers the relationships between unequal access to resources (including natural resources, knowledge, decision making processes, the law, etc), and unsustainable environmental outcomes.

This course consists of:

1) Environmental problems and protests in developing world cities;

2) Global environmental governance and how inequalities at the global level result in the disproportionate ability of nation states to address global environmental issues; and

3) Changing patterns in governance away from the nation state and towards a stronger role for sub-national (local) governments and non-state actors.

Course Code: GEOG2013A
Course Description: Geographic Information Systems, Science and Mapping II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces student to key epistemological and ontological issues that relate spatial thinking and GIS, and tracks how changes in technology have led to Geographic Information Systems as we use them today. The course also examines how improvements in the availability and quality of data have led to the increased use and abuse of GIS, and how GIS can be used as both a source of information and propaganda. Further, the course examines how differential access to digital resources influences participation and capacity in decision making processes.

Course Code: GEOG2015A
Course Description: Thinking Geographically: Concepts and Practices in Human Geography
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces student to key theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches within the discipline of human geography. The course teaches students to understand and apply theoretical perspectives in analysing contemporary issues in the disciplines of human and environmental geography, through a mixture of class-room based lectures, laboratory tutorials and off-campus field research.

Course Code: GEOG3017A
Course Description: Geographic Information Systems and Remote Sensing III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the operations of Geographical Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing. Lectures introduce and describe operations of specific software packages.

Three different types of software operations will be introduced to investigate their applicability in different disciplines such as environmental change detection and hydrology:

1) The raster based software IDRISI Kilimanjaro, with integrated modules for image processing operations, to develop basic practical skills in GIS and remote sensing that can provide the basis for more advanced study and work;

2) The vector based software ArcGIS for handling vector based operation including specific modules for spatial analysis; and

3) Open-source software (GRASS), including the programming components for personal customisation of all software. Useful and popular add-ons to the software packages will be introduced and discussed. The idea is to broaden the knowledge base of GIS and remote sensing software within the discipline.

Course Code: GEOG3019A
Course Description: Economic Geography III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on selected issues in the field of economic geography. Issues of concern include theoretical and policy debates around spatial inequality and regional development, the informal economy, and small business development. Contemporary debates in economic geography in South Africa are further discussed in this course.

Course Code: GEOG3020A
Course Description: Climate and Environmental Change III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines patterns of climate change through the Quaternary, and in particular during historical and recent times. Causes of climate change (such as Milankovitch, volcanic forcing etc) are addressed. The use of various proxies in climate reconstructions, such as pollen, dendrochronology, varves, geomorphology and historical documentary sources are highlighted. Consideration is given to the impact that climate change has on the environment and human livelihoods. Particular reference is made to the southern African region throughout the course.

Course Code: GEOG3021A
Course Description: Advanced Atmospheric Science III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course discusses atmospheric processes and the interactions of the atmosphere with other earth systems. The course deals with heat and energy exchange in the atmosphere, physical oceanography, ocean-atmosphere interactions, and mesoscale atmospheric processes like thunderstorms and air pollution.

Course Code: GEOG3022A
Course Description: City Cultures III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores the concept of culture as a feature of urban life, from Lefebvre's discussion of the citadin to de Certeau's influential work on the politics of everyday life. The course then considers identity and the politics of inclusion and exclusion, and critically analyses different theoretical approaches to urban citizenship. These tools enable students to develop an appreciation of the poetic complexity of urban life.

Course Code: GEOG3023A
Course Description: Theory and Practice in Sustainability Science and Sustainable Development
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course considers the theoretical background and practical skills in issues of Sustainability Science and Sustainable Development. The course integrates theoretical knowledge and application of real world sustainability issues through a mix of lectures, seminars and field excursions. The course covers a range of contemporary society and industry-relevant ecological and environmental issues associated with sustainable development, such as the workings and dynamics of biogeochemical (or the natural environment) systems and the role of human activities as a land surface agent. The course includes considerations and applications of key elements and aspects such as environmental impact assessments, environmental monitoring and management tools, technology and the environment, habitat conservation and protected area design, community participation and engagement, as well as knowledge development and transfer within and across communities. These elements are explored and discussed within the broader 'weak' and 'strong' sustainability frameworks.

Course Code: GEOG3025A
Course Description: Urban Futures: The Political-Economy of Population and Scarcity III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course offers an historical and theoretical account of contemporary challenges in the governance of cities, as well as a set of intellectual tools for understanding and critically engaging with these challenges. The course develops skills in explaining, interpreting and developing innovative responses to social, political and economic issues related to the governance of large and complex cities. These skills are developed through seminar discussions, group-work and student-led course content.

Course Code: GEOG3024A
Course Description: Environmental Monitoring and Modelling III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides a broad introduction into the theory and methods of environmental data collection and the practice of environmental monitoring. Examples and case studies are drawn from a wide range of environmental fields including meteorological and hydrological monitoring, air and water pollution monitoring and other aspects of environmental change science. The course covers a range of environmental data collection approaches from citizen science to professional environmental monitoring using specialist equipment, with an exploration of the role and limitations of each. The course includes a mixture of lectures, seminars, practical exercises in data analysis and practical experience of varied monitoring and environmental data collection methods in the field.

Course Code: GEOG3026A
Course Description: Food: Security, Politics and Culture III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on the socio-political, economic and cultural aspects of food production, acquisition, utilisation and consumption. Eating is a basic drive, and food acquisition and the safety of food are core aspects of our everyday life, and are discussed in this course.

Course Code: GEOG4015A
Course Description: Geographical Information Systems
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 8

This course provides candidates with an advanced and practical understanding of GIS. The course aims to develop skills in pre-processing, analysing and critically assessing a variety of datasets and applying the findings to a range of topics addressed by GIS professionals. In this course, in-depth knowledge of the sourcing of primary quantitative and qualitative data and their processing to create fundamental datasets for spatial analysis and problem solving is presented. Candidates will learn to analyse surface terrain characteristics and derived properties (i.e. slope, hydrology, curvature), to create continuous surfaces from a set of points, analyse spatial patterns using geostatistical methods, and integrate GIS with remote sensing.

Course Code: GEOG4033A
Course Description: Advanced GIS and Remote Sensing
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course provides candidates with an advanced understanding of the theory and practice of remote sensing. The course aims to develop skills in the pre-processing, analysis and critical assessment of a variety of remotely sensed data in different subject fields across the physical and social sciences, such as monitoring vegetation health and productivity, mining, surface water, change detection and the mapping of contamination from sources such as acid mine drainage.

Course Code: GEOG4034A
Course Description: Environmental Management: Water Challenges in Southern Africa
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course provides a broad introduction to the fields of water resource management and conservation, with a focus on the challenges associated with economic development, population growth, improved access to resources, and global environmental change in a water scarce region. This course discusses concepts and debates in environmentalism, environmental issues around water management, pollution, aquatic ecology, political ecology, and sustainable livelihoods related to water resource use and management.

Course Code: GEOG4035A
Course Description: Environmental Geomorphology and Geohazards
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course discusses the most common groups of geohazards affecting environments worldwide, including earthquakes, volcanoes, tsunamis, storm surges, mountain and hydrological hazards. It focuses on their forcing mechanisms, physical properties, impacts and implications with respect to the physical and human environments. Throughout, there is emphasis on predictability, risk and mitigation of hazard impacts, including their implications for modelling, management and policy.

Course Code: GEOG4037A
Course Description: Environmental Policy and Practice
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course explores the different ways in which environmental issues are managed and integrated into planning and development policy. It discusses the different methods, practices and roles of government and other interested stakeholders in formulating and implementing environmental policies, the various forms of policy mechanism and tools that are employed in environmental management, and the constraints upon their effective implementation. Discussed in this course is how environmental strategies such as Environmental Impact Assessments, Strategic Environmental Assessments, Environmental Management Frameworks, Environmental Risk Assessments and Environmental Management Systems are formulated and implemented both as environmental management tools and as operational and analytical frameworks.

Course Code: GEOG4039A
Course Description: Local and Regional Economic Development
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course provides a critical geographical and historical introduction to 'development', both economic and more broadly. It draws on ideas in economic geography, development geography and critical development studies to consider a range of theoretical approaches that geographers use to theorise development. Also discussed in this course are current debates around the definition, measurement and spatialities of development, as well as its agents, subjects and instruments. The course emphasises the complex, powerful and uneven nature of development, but also the contextual and contested dimensions in theory, policy and practice.

Course Code: GEOG4040A
Course Description: Chemistry of the Global Atmosphere
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course considers an interpretation of past climates from different records, the causes of climate change, climate modelling, and climate change impacts.

Course Code: GEOG4041A
Course Description: Understanding Cities in Africa
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course focuses on development geography and institutional approaches to cities in Africa, urbanisation, poverty, urban agriculture, management and growth in rapidly growing cities, infrastructure delivery, informal economy, development and urban environmental issues.

Course Code: GEOG4042A
Course Description: Air Pollution Meteorology
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course allows candidates to gain a balanced understanding of energy transfer mechanisms, global winds and regional pressure belts, atmospheric circulation and weather affecting southern Africa, pollutant transport under different circulation patterns, and the lifecycle of air pollutants. In this course, candidates will be able to understand atmospheric and climatological processes in an applied context.

Course Code: GEOG4043A
Course Description: Integrated Environmental Management
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course draws on debates in political ecology and political economy to critically interrogate the concept of 'environmental management'. Topics covered include: the social production of nature and the environment; the relationship between economic processes and environmental problems; and the economic and political underpinnings and effects of different approaches to 'managing' environmental issues. Key outcomes include: being able to critically analyse different ways of framing and resolving environmental problems; and being able to identify the political, theoretical, and practical implications of adopting different approaches to environmental management.

Course Code: GEOG4044A
Course Description: Global Atmosphereric Change IV
NQF Credits: 20	NQF Level: 8

This course explores Global Atmospheric Change through geologic time periods, from the Great Oxidation event, to the formation of the ozone layer and glacial-to interglacial cycles of carbon storage. Contemporary atmospheric change is then explored, first in the context of increasing concentrations of greenhouse gases, greenhouse gas sequestration, and projections for climate change under an altered atmospheric composition. Isotopic changes in Oxygen, Carbon and Nitrogen are explored as indicators of the changing contemporary atmosphere. This course engages with the contemporary debates regarding the Anthropocene: the timing of commencement, the impact of human activity on the atmosphere, and the absence of prior analogues of contemporary atmospheric and environmental conditions.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Course Code: GAES2001A

Course Description: Nature, Climate and Society II

NQF Credits: 24 NQF Level: 6

This course considers how people make use of environametal resources, the values attributed by society to the physical environment and its varied recources in different contexts, environmental management and environmental governanace properties and societal responces to climate change, using contemporary examples with a focus on South Africs.

Course Code: GAES2000A

Course Description: People and the Environment in Africa

NQF Credits: 24

This course covers the deep time history of people in Africa and their interactions with, usesof and impact on their environment, drawing from interdisciplinary ideas in Archeology, Geography, Anthropology, History, Cultural Studies and Politics. It specifically explores social and cultural responses to climate change and resource availability encouraging sensativity to and understanding of the long-term context of environmental change. Topic include human evolution\, exploration, colonisation and settleement history in Africa, up to the present

Course Code: GAES3001A

Course Description: Political Ecology and Environmental Justice

NQF Credits: 18 NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to current debates in the fields of political ecology and environmental justice. The course begins with an exploration of the differences between political and apolitical ecology and how these relate to questions of environmental justice. The course then considers how different approaches within political ecology and environmental justice critically investigate environmental issues. This is accomplished by developing a multi-faceted analysis of one or more case studies, with each week focusing on how a different key issue shaped the specific, geographically situated environmental problem and how 'solutions' are framed. These issues include: colonialism and apartheid; the economy; gender, race, class and intersectionality; how evidence is generated and validated; social mobilisation; and unequal power relations between different parties affected by and seeking to address the environmental problem. Case studies will focus on South Africa as well as other countries. The course will develop skills to conduct holistic critical analysis of the social, political and economic aspects of environmental issues and to develop proposals to address these environmental issues that advance environmental justice and are appropriate for the South African context.

Course Code: GAES3004A

Course Description: Heritage Resources Management III

NQF Credits: 18 NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to contemporary issues in heritage resources management, drawing on the interconnections of natural and cultural heritage management and conservation issues and set in a southern African context. The course considers the history and practice of heritage resources management and conservation in South Africa; an overview and critique of natural and cultural heritage management legislative frameworks; the principles of identifying and evaluating cultural and natural heritage resources and their varied uses; case studies of the processes and practices of heritage resource management; and consideration of the intellectual and practical challenges in achieving sustainable heritage management. This course draws from interdisciplinary ideas in Archaeology, Geography, Development Studies, Cultural and Natural Heritage Studies.

Course Code: GAES3003A

Course Description: Human Biometeorology

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the discipline of Human Biometeorology, exploring the role of climate in human communities. The course begins with a brief overview of the scientific discipline of Biometeorology and specifically Human Biometeorology, its development and separation from field of Applied Climatology, and its key subdisciplines. The course will thereafter consider the subdisciplines of Human Biometeorology in detail, including thermal comfort and stress in the contemporary and as evidenced from the archaeological record, tourism climatology and the role of tourism in driving global change, and climate epidemiology, the study of the spread of climate- sensitive disease. The course will consider key ideas in the related fields of aerobiology, climate- sensitive design, and microclimate assessments. Students will actively engage in critical assessments of quantitative methodologies in Biometeorology, including basic statistics and indices developed for each thematic application, and with an active and rigorous engagement with the literature.

Course Code: GAES3002A

Course Description: Communicating Environmental Issues III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to environmental communication issues. History of science communication globally and in South Africa, and the changing socio-political imperative for shaping the public's attitude towards environmental issues, is today framed in an effort to change public and political behaviour to mitigate climate and environmental change. Using discourse and framing theory, the course unpacks the ways in which communication of issues in the natural and social sciences have been used to direct public and political behaviour, to perpetuate social discrimination and dissent, and in some cases create a mistrust of science and scientists. The course will critically examine how the public encounter environmental issues through different media forms (newspapers, art, film, radio, social media) in formal, informal and lived spaces and contexts. This course will develop social awareness and skills to foster effective communication of contemporary environmental issues.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

Course Code: HIST1011A

Course Description: Global Encounters and Contemporary Realities IA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This introductory course leads to a set of topics that address key issues relevant to the contemporary world: the massive economic and political influence of the United States, the contemporary environmental crisis, the gap between rich and poor regions of the world, the emergence of syncretic cultural forms, the rise of China and radical Islam. The course focuses on broader historical transnational flows and networks and offers a more detailed case study on the rise of the United States during the twentieth century. Students are able to choose between two different case-study based courses both linked coherently to the introductory course.

Course Code: HIST1012A

Course Description: Global Encounters and Contemporary Realities IB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course offers more detailed case studies on the history of China and the Middle East. It begins by comparing China, Europe and other regions of the world in the 1300s and 1400s and establish why it did not become a great imperial power, turning in on itself rather than expanding outwards. The course deals with dramatic events of the twentieth century: the great civil war between the nationalists and communists; the communist revolution ; the 'Cultural Revolution'; the pragmatic rapprochement with the United States and the 'liberalisation' of the 1980s, culminating in the particular brand of market communism which characterises China today.

The course further discusses some of the salient historical processes that have shaped the Middle East and its multiple connections to other parts of the world. It probes the historic role of imperialism, the centrality of oil and the role of ruling elites in the shaping of contemporary Middle East. The historic spread of Islam are considered by discussing how it has shaped the political landscape of the Middle East, as well as large parts of Africa and the Far East, and how, in turn, this religion has been shaped by the local social and cultural contexts where it took root.

Course Code: HIST1013A

Course Description: Global Encounters and Contemporary Realities IC

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Following the introductory course (HIST1011A Global Encounters A) this course includes case studies of Africa and Latin America. African diaspora in the Americas, both anonymous Africans and iconic figures, retained some elements of their cultures, adapting them to the new contexts in which they had to make sense of their lives. Through a variety of case-studies, this section will then analyse how imported items and cultural forms (music styles, clothes, movies) were received, debated and 'localised' in different African regions during the colonial and postcolonial periods. The course also focuses on the space now known as Latin America and concentrates on issues of ecology and disease.

Course Code: HIST2003A

Course Description: History of Sub-Saharan Africa II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course focuses on many essential topics in the history of Sub-Saharan Africa. The course explores the impact of cross-cultural exchange on the formation and re-formation of African political and economic institutions through examining the trans-Saharan trade, Africa's role in the transatlantic slave trade, and East Africa in the Indian Ocean World. The course also explores Africa on the eve of colonial occupation, patterns of colonisation (especially British & French), colonial initiatives and African responses, such as resistance and collaboration, forced labour, settler colonialism, the construction of ethnicity, the impact of Christian education, the formation of African elites, the involvement of African townswomen in the anti-colonial struggles, liberation movements and the struggle for independence in Southern Africa and multiparty democracy in Southern Africa.

Course Code: HIST2004A

Course Description: History of the United States II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course is a survey of American history from the Revolution to the civil rights movement of the 1960s. Particular attention is given to the evolution of the American political system, the sectional conflict over slavery, the growth of capitalist production and the rise of big business, labour unions and a powerful federal government, immigration, urbanisation and suburbanisation, the civil rights struggles of blacks and women and the emergence of the United States as a world power.

Course Code: HIST2005A

Course Description: South Africa before 1880 II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course covers South African history from earliest times and including the mineral revolution of the 1870s. It starts with the origins of South Africa populations (San, Khoi, early and late Iron Age societies), the beginning of the European settlement, the introduction of slaves, and the creation of a racially exclusive political order in the colonial Cape. It further considers the rise of larger African States beyond the borders of the Cape, war in the interior, the "Great Trek" of the 1830s, the intense cultural struggle triggered by heightened mission activity, the mineral revolution of the late 1860s and 1870s and the processes of transformation that it set in motion.

Course Code: HIST2007A

Course Description: The Making of Urban South Africa

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

he course explores the social, political and economic history of urbanisation in South Africa from the late nineteenth to the late twentieth centuries. Its central focus is the Witwatersrand, but it also examines parallel and especially divergent processes in Cape Town, Durban, East London, Bloemfontein, Port Elizabeth and Pretoria. A central spine to the course is provided by a set of related questions about what impelled people to the towns and how they became fully urban. It examines the new cultures and identities, communities and political organisations which emerged in the multi-racial and multi-ethnic urban melting pot. It explores the idea of 'ungovernability' between the 1940s and 1980s and the new laws and policies formulated (segregation, apartheid and post apartheid reform) to regulate and repress these processes and forces. It asks how central the cities were to understanding the more general processes of historical change in South Africa and the sub-continent.

Course Code: HIST4022A
Course Description: Histories of the Global South: The Indian Ocean since 1750
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This seminar-based course explores the connected histories of Africa and Asia - through their shared migrations of labour, capital, religion, and the circulation of ideas - in the making of modernity. Typical themes that the course addresses in the first half include slavery and indenture, commercial networks created by indigenous merchant houses, and manifestations of race and racism in the Indian Ocean World. In the second half the course examines transnational religious and creole identities, the creation of textual networks and Indian Ocean public spheres, and the emergence of later 20th century ideas such as the "Third World","the Global South" and "Afro-Asian Unity." Throughout, students are introduced to a wide range of texts by scholars of African and Asia in the emergent fields of transnational/global history.

Course Code: HIST7033A
Course Description: Selected Topics/Histories of the Global South
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course charts a new post-colonial history by working against 'nation-centred' conceptions of historical processes. The course explores the linked histories of Africa and Asia through the connections that the two regions have shared in religion, commerce, the movements of labour and capital and not least the circulation of ideas, from about 1800 to 2000. The course questions inherited periodisations of the past that sharply divide the precolonial, colonial and post-colonial, and critique colonial and nationalist maps that have paid little attention to alternative geographies created by the movement of people. Themes that emerge through seminars and readings include: colonial governmentality, resistant indigenous political and social philosophies, currents of capital and labour, religious networks, the conception of an Indian ocean public sphere, movements for political freedom, development and modernity in the post colony, and various cosmopolitanisms that are rooted in the movement of people and ideas rather than the prison house of colony and nation.

This course provides an understanding of the dynamics of domestic, regional and international politics in the Middle East and to place the Middle Eastern system of states in the world system. The course inter alia examines the Arab-Israeli conflict, prospects for peace, the impact of political Islam and the foreign policy of selected Arab states.

Course Code: INTR3012A/ INTR3026A(PT)

Course Description: Transnational Issues in International Politics III

| NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7 |

This course analyses the nature of new or newly recognised transnational concerns to the international community. It examines the history and contribution to the international system. The course concentrates on the following issues in particular: international drug trafficking, the international media, land mines proliferation and international organisations.

Course Code: INTR3013A

Course Description: US Foreign Policy III

| NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7 |

This course considers the issues and concerns which influence the foreign relations of the strongest state in the international system. The goals and priorities of America's global role are analysed with special emphasis on United States-Africa policies during the post-Cold War era. The domestic roots of foreign policy are also considered, including their impact on America's treatment of the United Nations and other multilateral organisations, intervention in regional conflicts, and international trade and investments.

Course Code: INTR3021A/ INTR3027A(PT)

Course Description: Regional Studies – Africa

| NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7 |

This course focuses exclusively on the International Relations of Africa. It expands on issues such as the impact of colonialism as well as the roles played by Africa states in regional organizations, the African Union and in international fora. The International Political Economy of Africa is examined critically and theories are analysed to ascertain their relevance in explaining Africa's economic situation. The roles of sub state actors in shaping African states International Relations are also discussed.

Course Code: INTR3022A/ INTR3028A(PT)

Course Description: Intermediate International Political Economy

| NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7 |

This course introduces more complex economic subject material as well as explanations with regard to actors' behaviours in this area. Student's use of quantitative research skill to analyse economic data is expanded. Students are required to critically evaluate existing policies of IPE actors and then synthesise alternative ones.

Course Code: INTR3023A
Course Description: Foreign Policy Analysis
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course analyses advanced theoretical explanations and methodological approaches to the study of foreign policy. Variables that determine the construction and execution of foreign policy are examined through the use of case studies. By adopting a critical theorist and constructivist approach to the field, more subjective independent variables such as history, culture and personality are introduced and the explanatory value is evaluated.

Course Code: INTR3024A
Course Description: South African Foreign Policy
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course defines and analyses the goals and objectives of the South Africa's foreign policy agenda. Specific attention is paid to South Africa's foreign policy aspirations both in Africa and globally. Domestic influences shaping South Africa's foreign policy such as the need for economic development is studied.

Course Code: INTR3025A/ INTR3029A(PT)
Course Description: International Relations Theory and Research Methods
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course introduces students to the various sub schools and expands the positivist based theories. It introduces students to critical theory and constructivism which form part of the post-positivist school of International Relations. Student also study and learn to apply various quantitative and qualitative research methods used by International Relations specialists.

Course Code: INTR4005A
Course Description: African Human Security in an International Context
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course probes the evolution of the concept of human security in international relations, its core components, and relevance to myriad challenges facing Africa and the rest of the world in the twenty first century. The course introduces students to the debates about the concept and its relevance in the contemporary era. It combines political, military, legal and economic approaches to human security implementation. The course also covers topics including: intellectual foundations and debates over the concept of human security, new and old wars, persistent conflict, just war thinking and whether it can be applied to human security, international humanitarian law and human rights law, humanitarian intervention and the responsibility to protect; international capabilities for human security, counterinsurgency, stabilization, and state building; transitional justice. The course also examines the ongoing shifts in international practices and norms toward protecting vulnerable and marginalized communities

Course Code: INTR4054A
Course Description: International Politics of Elections in Sub-Saharan Africa
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores the regional and international dimensions of elections in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA). The course is exposes students to major issues, concepts, debates, themes, and actors in the analysis of elections in Africa. The course makes considerable reference to continental, regional and international legal and normative frameworks that guide the holding of elections in SSA Africa.

Course Code: INTR7071A
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course explores the regional and international dimensions of elections in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA). The course exposes students to major issues, concepts, debates, themes, and actors in the analysis of elections in Africa. The course makes considerable reference to continental, regional and international legal and normative frameworks that guide the holding of elections in SSA Africa.

SCHOOL OF LITERATURE, LANGUAGE AND MEDIA

Course Code: SLLS4066A

Course Description: Journalism Practice A (Part-time)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to the skills of professional journalism, and aims at students pursuing their studies on a part-time basis.

Course Code: SLLS4067B

Course Description: Journalism Practice B (Feature-Writing)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course builds on Journalism Practice A (Part-time) and introduces students to more advanced journalistic skills, focusing particularly on feature writing. The particular formats covered include news features, profiles, science/health, film reviews and narrative pieces.

Course Code: SLLS4065A

Course Description: Editing Media Texts

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course covers the theory and practice of sub-editing for print or online media.

Course Code: SLLS4061A

Course Description: Communicating for Social Change

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the paradigmatic shifts within international development cooperation, from the top down modernisation strategies of the 50s and 60s to today's processes oriented models that emphasise participation and dialogue. As a result of globalisation, development communication has entered a dynamic phase of reappraisal regarding the role of the media in social change.

Course Code: SLLS4064A

Course Description: Investigative Journalism A

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course involves reading and discussion on the role of investigative reporting and its history and ethics, as well as contemporary investigative skills using data bases and making freedom of information requests. Candidates undertake a short investigation under mentorship as part of their portfolio.

Course Code: SLLS4063A

Course Description: Reporting on Children

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course challenges the common representation of children and their issues in and by the media, as well as open up new possibilities for alternative representations. It allows candidates to develop practical strategies in the development of human rights centred approach to reporting on children and allows candidates to integrate the learnings and experience of other journalists and experts into the way in which they report children's stories.

Course Code: SLLS4062A

Course Description: South African Narrative Non-fiction

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course covers compelling story-telling, both from oral traditions and written texts. Authors include Kabbo [from the Bleek-Lloyd archive), Jan van Riebeeck, William Burchell, Louis Trichardt, David Livingstone, Olive Schreiner, Sol Plaatjie, Nat Nakasa, Noni Jabavu and Henry Nxumalo.

Course Code: SLLS7081A

Course Description: Photojournalism

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course focuses on the technique and language of news photography and combines hands-on workshops, reading and discussions. Alongside practical work, students learn how to engage in the issue of representation and its significance in photojournalism. Students also learn to take newsworthy pictures and view them critically.

Course Code: SLLS7079A

Course Description: Editing Media Texts

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course covers the theory and practice of sub-editing for print or online media.

Course Code: SLLS7078A

Course Description: Communicating for Social Change

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course examines the paradigmatic shifts within international development cooperation, from the top down modernisation strategies of the 50s and 60s to today's processes oriented models that emphasise participation and dialogue. This specialisation examines potential and techniques for utilising mainstream, community and social media to involve stakeholders in development initiatives.

Course Code: SLLS7080A

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course challenges the common representation of children and their issues in and by the media, as well as open up new possibilities for alternative representations. It allows candidates to develop practical strategies in the development of human rights centred approach to reporting on children and allows participants to integrate the learnings and experience of other journalists and experts into the way in which they report children's stories.

Course Code: SLLS7082A

Course Description: South African Narrative Non-fiction

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course covers compelling story-telling, both from oral traditions and written texts. Authors include Kabbo [from the Bleek-Lloyd archive), Jan van Riebeeck, William Burchell, Louis Trichardt, David Livingstone, Olive Schreiner, Sol Plaatjie, Nat Nakasa, Noni Jabavu and Henry Nxumalo.

SCHOOL OF LAW

Course Code: LAWS1010A

Course Description: Commercial Law (part-time WitsPlus)

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides an introduction to the study of law, being an elementary study of the basic legal concepts, the principles of criminal and delictual liability in broad outline, basic procedural law, the South African legal system (including a reference to the structure of the courts, sources of law and officers of the courts), a description of the main divisions of the law and contractual capacity. It also examines general principles of the law of contract and the features of some specific contracts, including sale, lease and agency.

Course Code: LAWS1011A/LAWS1016A(PT)
Course Description: Introduction to Law
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course explores law in general, the purpose and function of law, the intersection between law, morality , religion and justice, the subject matter of law, the main divisions of the law, the role of the Constitution in the South African legal system, the South African state and its principal components, and the administration of justice. This course introduces students to the skill of identifying, interpreting and using the sources of law. The course equips students with an introduction to legal reasoning, in particular the doctrine of precedent and the interpretation of statutes. The course also explores South African legal history, giving an overview of the Roman-Dutch law and of customary law and their relevance in modern South African law and introduces students to certain key rules of Roman law.

Course Code: LAWS1012A/LAWS1017A(PT)
Course Description: Law of Persons
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course comprises the concepts of legal personality, legal capacity and legal status, the commencement and termination of legal personality, factors affecting status, constitutional and international protection of children's rights, the status, capacity, rights and duties of minors, the parental duty of support, parental duties of residence and contact, extra marital birth, and mental disability.

Course Code: LAWS1013A/LAWS1015A(PT)
Course Description: Family Law
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to the legal concepts regulating different family forms in South Africa. The course covers married and unmarried families, same-sex families, customary families and Islamic families. Students consider what constitutes a family, both socially and in law, and to know and apply the rules relating to the acquisition and exercise of parental rights and responsibilities, marriage divorce, division of assets and post-divorce spousal and child maintenance. The course also teaches basic legal research and writing skills and basic legal problem solving, embedded within the context of family law. Students are further introduced to essential legal research and writing techniques, including how to identify and find legal resources, how to read and analyse cases and how to write a basic legal research essay.

Course Code: LAWS2013A/LAWS2019A(PT)
Course Description: Constitutional Law
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 6

This course covers the history of the formation of the Union and the Republic and the transition to the Interim Constitution, basic principles of federalism and separation of powers, the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 and in particular basic features of the legislative process as well as of the executive and judicial branches in all spheres of government. It also covers customary law and the constitutionally mandated structures of traditional authority in South Africa and cooperative government.

Course Code: LAWS2022A
Course Description: Constitutional Law: Bill of Rights
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces the Bill of Rights in the 1996 Constitution and to the adjudication of Bill of Rights claims. The course consists of a primary in-depth analysis of the basic features of the Bill of Rights, such as the application of rights, the limitation of rights and constitutional remedies. The course also elaborates on the content and enforcement of specific, selected rights in the South African Bill of rights, notably selected civil liberties, the right to equality and socio-economic rights.

Course Code: LAWS3040A
Course Description: Criminal Law
NQF Credits: 27	NQF Level: 7

This course comprises the study of legality, theories of punishment, elements of criminal liability, actus reus, conduct, voluntariness, causation, mens rea, versari in re illicita, intention, negligence, mistake of fact, liability under s332 of the criminal procedure act amongst others.

Course Code: LAWS3042A
Course Description: Jurisprudence
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course comprises the theories of law, including natural law, positvistism, realism, the historical sociological and materialist approaches; theories of justice and contemporary though. It includes critical approaches to law andfocuses on legal essay writing skills.

Course Code: LAWS3041A
Course Description: Delict
NQF Credits: 27	NQF Level: 7

The course examines critical the nature and basis of delictual liability. Students are exposed to key concepts such as pure economic loss, unlawful competition and liability for nervous shock.

Course Code: LING1001A/LING1004A(PT)
Course Description: Introduction to the Structure of Language I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides a survey of language structure based on data from many different languages. Students are introduced to the fundamental levels of linguistic structure such as sounds, words, phrases and meaning, and simple modelling of each of these levels. Special attention is paid to data from the languages of South Africa, both Indo-European and African.

Course Code: LING1003A/LING1005A(PT)
Course Description: Language, Mind and Society
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course examines a variety of language-related issues to do with human behaviour both from a psychological and social perspective. The course focuses on language and cognition, specifically on issues such as the evolution of the brain to become uniquely adapted to language. The course also investigates topics such as language acquisition, bilingualism, and developmental and acquired language problems. This course considers how language varies depending on a series of social factors such as geographical locale, social class, ethnicity, gender and so forth.

Course Code: LING2006A/LING2008A(PT)
Course Description: Linguistics Structures
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course outlines the structures of South African languages, such as IsiZulu and SeSotho. It looks at the phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax and semantics of these languages. It also contains a general overview of articulatory phonetics.

Course Code: LING2007A/LING2009A(PT)

Course Description: Applied Linguistics

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course develops student's engagement with the applied aspect of linguistic scholarship and entails a two-pronged approach that focuses both on psycholinguistics and sociolinguistics. The course covers a variety of topics including:

1) A psycholinguistic perspective, second-language acquisition, gesture acquisition, theory of mind and brain and multilingualism.

2) A sociolinguistic perspective, societal multilingualism, issues of bilingual and multilingual education, as well as techniques for the critical analysis of text.

Course Code: LING3003A/LING3011A(PT)

Course Description: Morphology and Syntax III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on two closely linked Linguistics subfields:

1) Syntax (the study of structural constituency), this section looks at the rules and principles that determine the architecture of phrases and sentences in human language and discuss contemporary analyses of a variety of phenomena.

2) Morphology (the study of word formation). This section addresses the major topics, such as derivation, inflection, compounding, and the interaction between syntax and word formation.

Course Code: LING3005A/LING3010A(PT)

Course Description: Phonology III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course covers core research topics from theoretical phonology. It investigates in detail sound patterns, both segmental and supra-segmental and from different theoretical paradigms, including generative and declarative models. The course also pursues the description and modelling of universal and language-particular local and non-local phonological patterns, focusing on the parameters of what constitutes a possible human phonology.

Course Code: LING3006A/LING3013(PT)

Course Description: Semantics III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course deals with a variety of topics that have arisen in the study of natural language semantics: meaning and reference, truth and truth conditions, semantic relations such as entailment, presupposition, ambiguity, synonymy, compositionality and the productivity of linguistic meaning. It examines these topics from the perspective of a formal semantic theory, and considers the interaction of semantics with related modules of language.

Course Code: LING3008A

Course Description: Selected Topic III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course allows a range of topics and interests in linguistics, it includes topics such as language and gender, computational linguistics, close study of a linguistic theory, word grammar or category combinatory grammar, advanced study of a topic in psycholinguistics (speech pathologies), discourse linguistics, text linguistics, or any other topic that it may occasionally be possible to offer.

Course Code: LING3009A/LING3012A(PT)
Course Description: Sociolinguistics III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with an introduction to sociolinguistics, a field of inquiry that studies the complex relationships between language, society and culture. In the first part of the course, it begins by considering how language varies in relation to certain social categories (e.g. age, ethnicity, gender, race, etc.). The course then investigates how language not only reflects pre-existing social categories, but is also a crucial mean through which the social world is constituted. It also focuses in particular on the central symbolic role that language plays in identity processes. The course also investigates how language is used and implicated in power relationships. The course draws upon students' own experiences of the cultural and social importance of language use in (South) Africa and other contexts.

Course Code: LING4013A/LING7001A
Course Description: Psycholinguistics/Advanced Psycholinguistics
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course examines the notion of a cognitive approach to language processes that underlie the relationships between language, memory and cognition. The course looks at the various methodologies for data collection and analysis used to investigate the psychological aspects of language. This course covers a number of topics including language acquisition, language comprehension, language production, non-verbal communication and how we use language in conversation. The course further examines how humans perceive sounds, how children acquire language, how people learn foreign languages later in life, how is language stored in our minds as well as what happens to language when specific areas in the brain are damaged.

Course Code: LING4024A/LING7007A
Course Description: Sociolinguistics/Advanced Sociolinguistics
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course introduces students to Critical Sociolinguistics, a strand of research which focuses on unveiling the ways in which power and ideology operate in society through language. The course examines different theoretical and methodological tools through which to analyse a broad range of texts. The course draws upon students' own experiences of the cultural and social importance of language use in South Africa and other contexts

Course Code: LING4025A/LING7008A
Course Description: Syntax
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level:8/9

The course concentrates on the Chomskyan Principles and Parameters and Minimalist Program (MP) approach to syntax. Students are introduced to basic concepts, namely generativism, constituency, c-command, binding, phrase-structure theory, thematic roles, movement and control. The MP approach is contrasted with other approaches such as Lexical Functional Grammar and Construction Grammar.

Course Code: LING4012A/LING7005A
Course Description: Phonology/Advanced Phonology
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This courses provides students with advanced knowledge of Optimality Theory; the dominant analytical framework in the field of phonology today. The course exposes students to a wide range of theoretical, empirical and methodological issues in current phonological research within the Optimality Theory framework. The empirical coverage of this course includes African (Bantu and non-Bantu) languages from southern Africa and beyond.

Course Code: LING7025A
Course Description: Research Methods in Linguistics
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course assists the student to timeously produce their research proposal for their own study while gaining invaluable knowledge and skills of research which can be applicable to both the academic and the workplace. The Linguistics field's heterogeneity is complex, split not just by theoretical, descriptive, and applied approaches, but also by divergent research interests related to form, meaning, and context. This course seeks to equip students with an understanding and application of tools by sharing best practices relevant across linguistic disciplines.

Course Code: LING7025A
Course Description: Research Methods in Linguistics
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course aids the student to timeously produce their research proposal for their own study while gaining invaluable knowledge and skills of research which can be applicable to both the academic and the workplace. This course equips students with an understanding and application of tools by sharing best practices relevant across linguistic disciplines.

School of Mathematics

Course Code: MATH1010A
Course Description: Ancillary Mathematics and Statistics I
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

This course comprises the following:

1) Ancillary Mathematics:

Functions and graphs, limits, differentiation and applications (curve sketching, optimisation, approximations), exponential and logarithmic functions. Integration techniques and applications, functions of two variables, partial differentiation, differential equations (separable and exact), infinite series, Taylor approximations, trigonometric functions and applications.

2) Ancillary Statistics:

i) Part I: An elementary coverage of common statistical methods used in the applied sciences. These include descriptive statistics (graphical as well as numerical summaries); simple random sampling; basic probability, the Binomial; Geometric; Poisson and Normal distributions; hypothesis testing and confidence intervals; non-parametric tests; chi-squared tests; correlation; regression and an introduction to ANOVA.

ii) Part II: Two-way ANOVA, more advanced graphical techniques, more advanced distributions; sampling finite populations.

Course Code: MATH1008A
Course Description: Ancillary Mathematics I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course covers functions and graphs, limits, differentiation and applications (curve sketching, optimisation, and approximations), exponential and logarithmic functions.

Integration techniques and applications, functions of two variables, partial differentiation, differential equations (separable and exact), infinite series, Taylor approximations, trigonometric functions and applications are also examined.

Course Code: MATH1034A
Course Description: Algebra I
NQF Credits: 21	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing the deductive and logical skills of students. The courses consists of real numbers, proof by mathematical induction, inverse trigonometric functions, polar coordinates and polar graphs, the binomial theorem, conics, vectors in 2 and 3 dimensions including equations of lines and planes, linear equations and Gaussian elimination, matrix algebra and determinants, complex numbers. Together MATH1034A (Algebra 1) and MATH1036A (Calculus 1) make up the full 36 credits needed to pass first year mathematics major.

Course Code: MATH1035A
Course Description: Algebra IB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing the deductive and logical skills of students. Material includes: the real numbers, proof by mathematical induction, inverse trigonometric functions, polar coordinates and polar graphs, the binomial theorem, conics, vectors in 2 and 3 dimensions including equations of lines and planes, linear equations and Gaussian elimination, matrix algebra and determinants, complex numbers.

Course Code: MATH1036A
Course Description: Calculus I
NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing the analytical skills of students with regard to introductory undergraduate calculus. The course consists of the following topics: functions; limits; continuity; differentiability; integration; differentiation techniques; applications of differentiation; hyperbolic functions; integration theory and applications; advanced integration techniques; improper integrals; infinite sequences and series and convergence; and first order differential equations. These topics include an introduction to the students of key concepts in: trigonometric, logarithmic and exponential functions; partial differentiation; implicit differentiation; rates of change; maxima and minima; applications to curve sketching; antiderivatives; the indefinite and definite integral; Riemann sums; and Taylor and Maclaurin series.

Course Code: MATH1037A
Course Description: Calculus IB
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing the analytical skills of students. Material includes: functions, limits, continuity and differentiability, l'Hopital's rule, rules for differentiation, applications to curve sketching, maxima and minima, and rates of change. Antiderivatives, techniques of integration Riemann sums, the definite integral, applications to areas and volumes, the logarithmic and exponential functions. Further techniques of integration, improper integrals, sequences and series, Taylor and Maclaurin series, partial differentiation, ordinary first order differential equations are also covered.

Course Code: MATH1041A
Course Description: Auxillary Mathematics I
NQF Credits: 36	NQF Level: 5

The course comprises the following:

1) Calculus: This course focuses on developing the analytical skill of students. Material includes aspects of the following:

Points and vectors in the plane, rules for differentiation (product rule, quotient rule, chain rule) and maxima and minima and physical interpretation of derivatives, applications of differentiation including curve sketching, techniques of integration (direct and indirect substitution, integration by parts), areas, volume, parametric equations, arc length and curved surface area, partial differentiation, chain rule and first approximation and irst order differential equations (linear, separable, homogeneous and exact) are also included.

2) Algebra: This course focuses on developing the deductive and logical skill of students. Material includes aspects of the following: Radian measure and trigonometric functions. Proof by mathematical induction, series and polynomials (Binomial, Taylor, and Maclaurin). Matrices: Algebra of matrices, inverses, laws of determinants, system of linear equations, Cramer's rule. Quadratic forms and change of axes. Three dimensional vectors and geometry, equations of lines and planes, distances between points, lines and planes, complex number arithmetic.

Course Code: MATH2001A

Course Description: Basic Analysis II

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces students to areas of mathematics and develops the student's ability to reason logically and to express this reasoning clearly in the form of mathematical proof. The course covers modules such as: denseness of Q and R; completeness of R; sup and inf; convergence and divergence of sequences; rules for limits of sequences; various tests for convergence of series; limits of functions; continuity; property of functions continuous on a closed bounded interval.

Course Code: MATH2003A

Course Description: Differential Equations II

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course comprises the following:

Solution of 7th order constant co-efficient linear differential equations, Laplace transforms, Fourier series, solution of boundary value and initial value problems for constant coefficient partial differential equations.

Course Code: MATH2006A

Course Description: Algebra Techniques II

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course provides algebraic results of practical value. It includes: Linear spaces; subspaces; linear dependence; bases and dimensions; rank and nullity of matrices; eigenvalues and eigenvectors; change of basis; diagonalisation, Jordan canonical form, inner products and orthogonality.

Course Code: MATH2007A

Course Description: Multivariable Calculus II

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course provides applicable results in calculus of several variables. Materials covered include: differentiation of maps from Rn to Rm; differentials, divergence, gradient and curl; path integrals; integrals over regions in R2; change of variables in IR2; Jacobians; extrema; Green's theorem is proved.

Course Code: MATH2015A

Course Description: Abstract Mathematics

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course concentrates on discrete and algebraic aspects of mathematics. The material covered includes: finite, countable and uncountable sets; equivalence relations and classes; mappings and their inverses; binary operations; Well-ordering axioms; the division algorithm; modulo arithmetic; groups and rigid motions.

Course Code: MATH2016A

Course Description: Advanced Mathematics

NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course is a continuation of Basic Analysis and Multivariable Calculus. Material covered includes: integrals over parametric surfaces, Stokes' and Gauss' theorems, conservative vector fields, integrals over regions in R^3, subsequences, Cauchy sequences and the Cauchy convergence criterion, continuity and properties of continuous functions on closed bounded intervals, differentiation, the chain rule, Rolle's theorem and the 1st mean value theorem.

Course Code: MATH2021A
Course Description: Multivariable Calculus II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course provides the student with applicable results in calculus of several variables. The courses consists of differentiation of several variable vector valued maps; the several variable chain rule; differentials; gradient, divergence, curl; path integrals; integrals over regions; change of variables for several variable integrals; extrema; Green's theorem; 2-dimensional surfaces in 3-dimensional spaces, surface integrals, Stokes' theorem; conservative and gradient vector fields, potential functions; triple integrals and Gauss' theorem.

Course Code: MATH2022A
Course Description: Introductory Analysis II
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 6

This course focuses on developing the basic analytical skills of students: understanding axioms and definitions and proving all statement using axioms, definitions and already proven results. Material includes: axiomatic definition of the real numbers, limits of sequences and series; completeness of R, supremum and infimum of sets of real numbers, Cauchy sequences; limits of functions and proofs of their rules; continuity and the properties of continuous functions on closed bounded intervals; differentiation, Rolle's theorem and the first mean value theorem; construction of the Riemann integral, Riemann integrability of continuous functions; metric spaces, open and closed sets; fixed point theorems; existence and uniqueness of solutions to ordinary differential equations.

Course Code: MATH3001A
Course Description: Number Theory III
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 7

This course provides the student with an introduction to number theory. Topics covered include a selection of the following: Exact and asymptotic enumeration of sums; prime numbers and factoring; basic techniques of enumeration, inclusion-exclusion, identities; enumeration under symmetries; continued fractions, arithmetical functions, sums of squares; partitions of integers, q-series.

Course Code: MATH3002A
Course Description: Applied Metric Spaces III
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 7

This course comprises of the following:

Open and closed sets, convergence and uniform convergence, sequential compactness, continuity and uniform continuity.

Course Code: MATH3003A
Course Description: Coding and Cryptography III
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on the basic mathematics of coding and cryptography. The topics covered include classical cryptosystems; Ceasar and affine ciphers; block and stream ciphers; one-time pads; public key cryptosystems; the RSA cryptosystem; digital signatures; discrete logs and the ElGamal cryptosystem; primality testing and factoring; pseudorandom numbers; error detecting codes.

Course Code: MATH3004A

Course Description: Complex Analysis III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This is an introductory course in complex analysis which explores properties of analytic functions of one complex variable. The topics covered include complex differentiability, the Cauchy-Riemann equations and analytic functions; functions defined by power series; path integrals in the complex domain; the index of a closed curve; Cauchy's Integral Theorem, Cauchy's Integral Formula and Taylor Series; singularities and Laurent Series; the Residue Theorem and Rouch'e's Theorem; evaluation of integrals of real valued functions via complex methods; Open Mapping Theorem, Maximum Modulus Theorem, Schwarz's Lemma.

Course Code: MATH3006A

Course Description: Group Theory III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on elementary group theory and provides the students with insight into the structure of an algebraic system. The course will introduce many diverse groups through which the properties of groups may be viewed. This course consists of the theory of groups, subgroups, cyclic groups, normal subgroups, quotient groups and direct product groups, homomorphisms and isomorphism theorems, group action on sets, orbits stabilisers and conjugacy, Lagrange and Cauchy theorems, simplicity and A_n and the Sylow theorems.

Course Code: MATH3009A

Course Description: Rings and Fields III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This course focuses on elementary ring and field theory and builds on the theory of groups providing the students with another example of the structure of an algebraic system. The course will introduce many diverse rings and fields through which the properties of rings and fields may be viewed. This course consists of the theory of rings, subrings, ideals, factor rings, homomorphisms; integral domains, Euclidean domains, principal ideal domains, unique factorisation domains, Eisenstein's criterion, Gauss' lemma and field extensions.

Course Code: MATH3010A

Course Description: Topology III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This course provides an introduction to the theory of topological spaces. Contents covered include basic definitions (topological spaces, subspaces, closed sets); bases for topologies; closure, limit points and convergence; continuous maps and homeomorphisms; the Hausdorff condition and other separation axioms; connectedness and path connectedness; compactness.

Course Code: MATH3028A

Course Description: Elementary Algebraic Geometry III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This course will include the study of solutions of polynomial equations as geometric objects (varieties) and the corresponding algebraic objects (ideals). The relationship between the ideals and varieties will be explored to reveal the links between algebra and geometry. The course will cover topics such as Nullstellensatz, Hilbert's Basis Theorem, invariant theory, dimension theory and projective geometry.

Course Code: MATH3031A

Course Description: Differential Geometry III

NQF Credits: 12   NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with an introduction to the theory of differentiable manifolds and calculus on them. Contents include differential forms; oriented manifolds; vector fields and differential forms on manifolds; integration of differential forms over oriented manifolds; and the generalised Stoke's Theorem.

Course Code: MATH3032A
Course Description: Real Analysis III
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 7

This course is a continuation of the MATH II course Introductory Analysis II, further developing students' understanding of analytical properties of real functions and analysis of metric spaces. Contents include lim sup and lim inf (revision - self-study); applications to convergence of series (revision - self-study); improper integrals (revision - self-study); the notion of a metric space; analysis in metric spaces; differentiability of functions of several variables; the Implicit and Inverse Function Theorems; completeness and compactness in metric spaces; uniform convergence in metric spaces; Fourier Series and the Weierstrass Approximation Theorem; introduction to Lebesgue integration (time permitting).

Course Code: MATH3034A
Course Description: Leontief Systems III
NQF Credits: 12	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to mathematical economics. Topics covered include equilibrium in linear economic models; Hawkings-Simon condition; outputs and prices, profit rate; matrices and linear mappings, irreducible matrices; product planning, activity analysis; Koopman's postulates, production possibility set.

Course Code: SLLS1005A/SLLS1008A(PT)
Course Description: Media and Society 1A
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to critical analytical media studies in its historical and contemporary contexts through an exploration of key concepts and theoretical traditions. The course also focuses on the nature of mediated communication, the functions and roles of media and institutions that help to define media's place in society.

Course Code: SLLS1006A/SLLS1009A(PT)
Course Description: Reading Media Forms 1B
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to methods of critically analysing different media forms (print, radio, television and new media) and genres using key concepts and theories in Media Studies. The course focuses on individual media forms of print and visual cultures, broadcast and new media and their various genres.

Course Code: SLLS2003A/SLLS2008A(PT)
Course Description: Media Studies IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course covers theories and debates about media texts, processes of reception and text and audience relations. Central to the course is how different theories conceptualise media texts and construct audiences, and the processes of reception of media texts.

Course Code: SLLS2011A/SLL2010(PT)
Course Description: Sociology of Media Production
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course will cover approaches to media as social constructions of reality. It focuses on the internal processes in media production. It also explores the external influences and forces that shape media creation in a converged industry production. The course will also focus on how structures within and outside media organisations can be viewed as constraints. We will also think about how media workers and outside groups negotiate these constraints in processes of doing their work production. The role of the public in the creation of media in today's world will also be assessed.

Course Code: SLLS3004A
Course Description: Issues in Alternative Media in South Africa III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the various approaches to the study of alternative media. Through an exploration of the theoretical perspectives, in combination with the content, practices and politics of alternative media and cultural forms, the course offers both empirical and theoretical approaches to the study of alternative media forms. The lecture series begins with the introduction of key theoretical debates, after which the course is organized to address alternative media from specific thematic perspectives. Themes include Activism, Culture, News and Community.

Course Code: SLLS3005A
Course Description: Issues in South African News Media III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces theories of democracy using case studies in SA media and journalism. With regards to print media, it considers the state of the newsroom, media freedom, state and corporate/commercial impediments on the news media and how this impacts on journalists' ability to do their jobs. The course questions how the media is a subject of the state and how it resists state subjectivisation. It discusses independence of the media vis-a-vis broadcasting: what, for instance, is the public broadcaster's mandate and how politics (for example factional politics in the ANC) impacts on this fulfilment. The final part of the course deals with online and cyber bullying and trolling as a major issue of subjection that journalists experience.

Course Code: SLLS3009A
Course Description: Media and Global Culture III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to debates and issues from a theoretical standpoint, and enables students to engage and participate in debates critically and analytically. Media globalisation and cultural imperialism are enduring debates that concern media scholars, researchers, policy makers, the media sector and the general public.

Course Code: SLLS3011A
Course Description: Media, Democracy and Development in Southern Africa III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to debates and enables them to critically analyse the role of the media in Southern Africa from a theoretical standpoint. The question of the role of the media in politics and socio-economic development is a topical and an enduring debate that concerns media scholars, researchers, policy makers, the media sector and the general public.

Course Code: SLLS3010A
Course Description: Media Policy and Regulation in South Africa III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course examines public policy and regulation of media as political, cultural and economic institutions. It covers debates on ownership regulation, promotion of pluralism and diversity, independent broadcasting regulation, broadcast licensing, local content regulations, issues of convergence and new technologies as well as satellite broadcasting.

Course Code: SLLS3033A

Course Description: Digital Media and Society

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with a working knowledge of key theories of new digital media and society and gives them experience of applying these to a set of global and contemporary case studies. Using ideas from broad theoretical frameworks within Media Studies and other social science and humanities fields, students discuss some of the important ways in which new digital media influence, reflect and react to significant and pervasive social trends. Scholarly literature and non-traditional media forms are combined to offer a dynamic and immersive perspective on the important position of new digital media trends, technologies, communities and narratives in shaping contemporary society.

Course Code: SLLS3003A

Course Description: Interactive Media III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course introduces students to debates and emergent theoretical perspectives and enables students to critically analyse the extent to which digital or new media are interactive or enable 'dialogue' communication in the sense that they enable audiences to receive and send, manipulate and produce information and have meaningful interaction with the media and other audiences.

Course Code: SLLS3021A

Course Description: South African Media History III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course discusses the history of various media forms within South Africa, from the early twentieth century to the present. The role of the media in specific contexts, especially during periods of historical, political and social change or transitions to change, is an enduring interest among researchers and a broad range of social commentators and scholars. Historical studies can also be used as a background to studies of contemporary societies. The course enables students to gain critical and analytical insights into the origins of the media in South Africa and extent to which contemporary society has been influenced by the media as an institution.

Course Code: SLLS3014A

Course Description: Political Economy of the Media in Southern Africa III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course discusses media systems and structures, how to analyse them and relate them to the broader macro-societal context and the institutional role of the media. The course enables students to gain critical insights into the interplay between political and economic power and how they influence and are influenced by media systems and structures. It also enables them to use political economy as an approach in understanding African media systems.

Course Code: SLLS3024A

Course Description: Research Methods

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides a broad grounding in research methodologies in media and cultural studies and in so doing offers third year students a toolbox of theoretical perspectives on and practical training in research methods. The course equips students with the ability to design a research project, identify the appropriate methodologies to employ in the course of that project, and develop a convincing and solid research design. The course examines quantitative and qualitative methodologies in researching media texts, audiences and institutions, and covers the precise aspects of key research methods in use in the field: textual analysis, interviewing, ethnography and survey.

Course Code: SLLS3026A

Course Description: Consumer Culture and the Media

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores from both empirical and conceptual perspectives key questions about the relationship between consumer culture and the media in South Africa, the Global South and beyond. It brings together a variety of theoretical and research perspectives ranging from histories of consumption, the links between consumption and race, class, and gender, as well as the mediated aspects of various forms of consumption, from shopping to tourism and so-called green consumption.

Course Code: SLLS3027A

Course Description: Postcolonial Media in the Global South

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course critically engages with media forms and cultural systems from the Global South within a demanding twenty first century. It moves away from theorisations of media as produced in and steered by the Global North. The course takes a distinctly decolonial reading of cultural productions and takes seriously media forms and systems produced in the Global South.

Course Code: SLLS4002A

Course Description: Critical Media Analysis

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course deepens students' critical and analytical abilities in media and cultural studies. It offers students a more thorough understanding of crucial theoretical concepts that they have encountered in their undergraduate degrees as well as introducing them to new ideas from across a multi-disciplinary spectrum within the humanities and social sciences. In investigating these theoretical notions and forms, students are given the opportunity to explore advanced conceptual material and consider how they would like to frame their research. The course is delivered by Media Studies staff and by a diverse array of exciting and expert guest lecturers.

Course Code: SLLS4001A

Course Description: African Media Systems

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course offers a critical understanding of the roles of the media in African contexts. The topics include, among others, institutional roles of the media in relation to democratisation and development, issues of media freedom, historical development of the media, media structures, media content and audiences as well as policy and regulatory environments.

Course Code: SLLS4011A

Course Description: Media Economics

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to the economic structures of commercial media, cultural and creative industries. The course explores questions to do with ownership, profit structures, marketing and corporate communications, labour and social responsibility from both Marxist and managerialist angles, thereby equipping students to both understand how media industries function and to think critically about the role of media economics in culture and society.

Course Code: SLLS4057A

Course Description: Global Cinema and Society

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores the concept of globalisation. The course consists of both a theoretical component which unpacks key notions of globalisation and film form, as well as a selection of films from around the world which expose students to different modes of filmmaking. The course also explores how cinema overlaps with gender, by tracing how different movie genres aimed at men and women change as they move from country to country.

Course Code: SLLS4010A
Course Description: Media and Politics
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course investigates ideas of radical democracy, particularly Chantal Mouffe's on the Political, applying them to case studies in the South African context. Within this theoretical framework journalists are viewed as 'legitimate adversaries' or agonists in a democracy and not enemies. But is there enough diversity and pluralism and voices from the margins in the South African media? The key concepts and case study areas in this course are: freedom and responsibility; media and democracy; freedom of expression; access to information; censorship; and fake news. The Course questions why media freedom is relevant in South Africa today and investigates the connection between the public's right to know and the media's duties and responsibilities. The course is highly topical and packed with current political affairs.

Course Code: SLLS4059A
Course Description: Media and Gender
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces candidates to a variety of theories and concepts around gender and the media. The course consists of extensive analyses of advertising texts, newspapers, television, new media and documentary and/or narrative film for discussions of how gendered structures of meaning are set up. Adopting critical lenses to power in the analysis of the media, discussions in the course also examine those media sites, moments and events that offer departures from hegemonic gender representations towards more nuanced and dynamic presences. It includes debates on representations of masculinities and femininities as well as varied media idioms around subaltern sexualities (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex) informed by developments within interdisciplinary Queer, Feminist/womanist and Postcolonial Studies.

MIGRATION AND DISPLACEMENT (SOSS)

Course Code: SOSS4055A
Course Description: Introduction to Migration and Displacement
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course reviews the dynamics of international migration, forced and formal and informal responses to it. Human migration and displacement affect societies around the world. Movements of people in Africa due to war, political persecution, and deprivation have long shaped the continent's political, economic and social configurations are covered.

Course Code: SOSS4057A
Course Description: Migration, Mobility and Health in South Africa
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides a critical introduction to the health and psychosocial consequences of migration. The course examines the intersections of humanitarianism, vulnerability and displacement from a health perspective.

Course Code: SOSS4059A
Course Description: The Logistics and Methods of Inquiry for Migration Research
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course strengthens an understanding of, and capacity to conduct, social research on issues related to migration. The focus develops an understanding of what social research is, the various methods employed and their logics and the challenges and questions different kinds of social research present. Candidates also develop the skills of evaluating the merits of published material, analysing data and developing strategies for conducting methodologically sound and theoretically relevant research in the contexts in which migrants are typically found.

Course Code: SOSS4058A

Course Description: Critical Perspectives on Labour Migration and Livelihoods

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course helps candidates understand the origins, scope and current dynamics associated with labour migration globally and with more specific empirical material in the Southern African region.

Course Code: SOSS4056A

Course Description: Selected Topic: Migration and Displacement

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course is a detailed study of an advanced thematic or historical topic (or set of topics) in Migration and Displacement which compliments the contents of other Migration and Displacement courses offered during the same academic year.

Course Code: SOSS7088A

Course Description: Migration, Mobility and Health in South Africa

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course provides a critical introduction to the health and psychosocial consequences of migration. The course also examines the intersections of humanitarianism, vulnerability and displacement from a health perspective.

Course Code: MDLL1003A

Course Description: Basic French Language and Culture I

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course familiarises students with basic concepts of French grammar as well as relevant vocabulary. The emphasis is on communicative skills. Oral communication is encouraged from the start and extensive use is made of audio-visual aids, including the computer laboratory.

Course Code: MDLL1009A

Course Description: Intermediate French Language and Culture I

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course is a continuation of French language and culture at an intermediate level and follows the same format except that lectures in English are allocated to the study of prescribed French literary texts.

Course Code: MDLL2001A

Course Description: French Language and Text Production IIA

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course offers a revision of French grammar and familiarises the student with advanced structural and grammatical problems and tests this knowledge through practical exercises and translation. In addition the course offers an overview of the literature of the twentieth century with literary analysis of selected texts.

Course Code: MDLL2002A

Course Description: French Language and Text Production IIB

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course reinforces advanced oral and written language skills through practical exercises and translation. In addition the course reinforces an overview of the literature of the seventeenth to twentieth centuries begun in MDLL2001A French Language and Text Production IIA and offers more advanced analysis of selected texts.

Course Code: MDLL3001A
Course Description: Advanced French Composition and Stylistics III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course refines writing and reading skills and enables students to interpret a wide range of texts representing all aspects of contemporary French usage. The course also includes composition, stylistic analysis and translation.

Course Code: MDLL3005A
Course Description: French Literature III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course continues the specialised study of topics offered in French literature and emphasis is placed on the works of major authors and independent research on the period chosen is an integral component of the course.

Course Code: MDLL3008A
Course Description: Negotiating Language: French III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course refines writing, reading and interpretative skills to enable students to engage a wide range of texts (literary criticism, journalism, political jargon, advertising language) as well as free composition and/ or creative writing on related subjects.

Course Code: MDLL3011A
Course Description: Selected Topic in French III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course comprises a detailed study of an advanced thematic or historical topic (or set of topics) in French which complements the other third year level courses offered in French during the same academic year.

Course Code: MDLL4080A
Course Description: Critical Writing in French
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course strengthens reading and writing skills in French. It is based on students' methodological approaches to critically engage with narrative thinking.

Course Code: MDLL7058A
Course Description: Critical Writing in French
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course strengthens reading and written skills in French. It is based on students' methodological approaches to critically engage with narrative thinking.

Course Code: MDLL1004A
Course Description: Basic German Language and Culture I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course concentrates on basic language acquisition. Students are introduced to the basic structures of the German language both in a classroom situation and in the computer laboratory. While learning to understand, speak and write German, the students are also introduced to culture of the German speaking world.

Course Code: MDLL1010A
Course Description: Intermediate German Language and Culture I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course continues with language acquisition on an intermediate level. In addition to the study of German culture, students are introduced to selected modern prose, poetry and drama texts and literary analysis.

Course Code: MDLL2003A
Course Description: German Language and Text Production IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

The emphasis of this course is on the reinforcement of language skills both in lectures and in sessions in the Computer Laboratory. In addition, selected texts from eighteenth to twenty first century are studied. Students also study History of Literature and methods of Literary Analysis.

Course Code: MDLL2004A
Course Description: German Language and Text Production IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course concentrates mainly on the reinforcement of language skills. Selected texts from twenty first century literature will be studied in conjunction with History of Literature and methods of Literary Analysis.

Course Code: MDLL3002A
Course Description: Advanced German Composition and Stylistics III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course is devoted to the study of the German Language on an advanced level and stylistics.

Course Code: MDLL3006A
Course Description: German Classicism and Romanticism III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The notions of 'Klassik' and 'Romantik' are explored through the study of canonical texts from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and their influence on subsequent literary epochs. Lectures are in German.

Course Code: MDLL3009A
Course Description: Negotiating Language: German III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Detailed study of an advanced language study topic (or set of topics) in German which complements the contents of the other 300 level German courses offered during the same academic year. The emphasis of the course is on refining writing, reading and interpretative skills to enable the student to engage with a wide range of texts (literary criticism, journalism, political jargon, advertising language etc) as well as free composition and/or creative writing on related subjects.

Course Code: MDLL3012A
Course Description: Selected Topic in German III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course comprises a detailed study of an advanced thematic or historical topic (or set of topics) in German which complements the contents of the other 300 level courses offered in German during the same academic year.

Course Code: MDLL4046A/MDLL7023A
Course Description: Literature and Society
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course will focus on strong women characters in German literature: ´Penthesilea´ by the eighteenth century dramatist Heinrich von Kleist, and the novel ´Kassandra´ by Christa Wolf in the former GDR in the early 1980´s. Gender relations will play a central part in this course and how the individual comes into conflict with the social, political and cultural pressures of her society.

Course Code: MDLL4009A/MDLL7009A
Course Description: Contemporary German Literature
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

´Der Zauberberg´ is one of the most celebrated novels by Thomas Mann, especially in view of the centenary of the first world-war. It shows the intellectual background of this traumatic event in the twentieth century. In the second quarter the humorous novel of the con-artist ´Felix Krull´ will be discussed, paying special attention to Thomas Mann´s versions of the picaro novel which goes back to the origins of the novel as a genre, as in Cervantes´ ´Don Quixote´.

Course Code: MDLL4008A/MDLL7008A
Course Description: The Enlightenment and Storm and Stress
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

The legacy of the Enlightenment continues to this day. Enlightenment thinking will be explored in the drama ´Nathan, der Weise´ by Lessing, culminating in a tolerance of the three monotheistic religions. Attention will then shift to the ´Sturm und Drang´ with discussion of the epistolary novel ´Die Leiden des jungen Werthers´. The reason for the overwhelming success of this sentimental novel will be examined.

Italian (MDLL)

Course Code: MDLL1005A
Course Description: Basic Italian Language and Culture I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course places emphasis on the acquisition of basic comprehension, reading and speaking skills, based on essential credits of grammar and fundamental vocabulary, and introduces students to Italian civilisation and contemporary culture both in lectures and the computer laboratory.

Course Code: MDLL1011A
Course Description: Intermediate Italian Language and Culture I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course provides a review of fundamentals of Italian grammar and introduces some of the more complex structures and develops understanding, oral proficiency and the ability to compose simple communicative texts. It includes a brief history of the development of Italian language and literature (thirteenth to nineteenth century) and the reading of graded novella and racconti or one act plays.

Course Code: MDLL1017A
Course Description: Basic Italian Language and Culture ALT
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on the acquisition of basic Italian comprehension, reading and speaking skills based on essential points of grammar and a fundamental vocabulary. It introduces students to Italian contemporary culture. The course adopts a blended learning approach.

Course Code: MDLL1018A

Course Description: Intermediate Italian Language and Culture ALT

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to more complex structures of Italian grammar and develops understanding, oral proficiency and the ability to compose simple communicative texts. Students are given a recent image of Italy, its people and its history. A variety of media is used to aid both language acquisition and the understanding of Italian culture in the different regions of Italy using a blended learning approach.

Course Code: MDLL2005A

Course Description: Italian Language and Text Production IIA

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course completes and consolidates the study of Italian grammar. It provides an overview of the more advanced aspects of syntax and morphology, stylistics and comparative linguistics. Readings are taken from different language registers and from a selection of contemporary texts and films that depict contrasting as well as diverse aspects of Italian culture. In addition the courses trace and analyse the development of the short story as a genre.

Course Code: MDLL2006A

Course Description: Italian Language and Text Production IIB

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course strengthens students' cultural and linguistic base, increases the range of vocabulary, refines discursive skills and enhances aural comprehension and note-taking skills as well as written expression. A selection of modern popular texts is used as a basis for linguistic analysis and for interactive original expression in the target language.

Course Code: MDLL3003A

Course Description: Advanced Italian Composition and Stylistics III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course presents a review of linguistic and cultural patterns, and offers an introduction to the fundamentals of sociolinguistics. It introduces techniques of translation, explores problems of translation into and from the target language, and provides practical experience in translating literary prose as well as authentic material drawn from a variety of fields, including business Italian.

Course Code: MDLL3010A

Course Description: Negotiating Language: Italian III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course refines writing, reading and interpretative skills and enables students to engage with a wide range of texts (literary criticism, journalism, political jargon, advertising language) as well as free composition and/or creative writing on related subjects.

Course Code: MDLL3013A

Course Description: Selected Topic in Italian III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course comprises a detailed study of an advanced thematic or historical topic (or set of topics) in Italian which complements the contents of the third year level courses offered in Italian during the same academic year.

Course Code: MDLL3033A

Course Description: From Colonialism to Postcolonialism and Beyond

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course deals with the relationship between Italy and Africa with a postcolonial approach. It has both a literary and a cinema component and starts with the representation of Africa during the colonial era at the end of the XIX Century and ends with the texts produced by migrant writers during the more recent years.

Course Code: MDLL4005A / MDLL 7004A
Course Description: Applied Italian Language
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course focuses on an interdisciplinary area of study for those with a special interest in second (or foreign) language learning and teaching, journalism or translation studies. It is especially appropriate for students considering careers in teaching, translation & interpreting, business or the media. It trains students to develop communication strategies and to implement these strategies. It relies on insights from communication science, discourse analysis, and intercultural communication and provides more specialized training in writing and speaking skills. It incorporates some theoretical grounding in translation studies and in-depth practice in translation work out of Italian and into the target language, using advanced technological support.

Course Code: MDLL4010A / MDLL7010A
Course Description: Dante and the Middle Ages
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level:8/9

The course gives an overview of Dante's times and writings. It provides an introduction to the Divina Commedia and a close reading of selected canti from the three cantiche: Inferno, Purgatorio and Paradiso. In the course the philological, philosophical, moral, socio-political and historical contexts of Dante's major works are examined. The emphasis is on textual analysis and an appreciation of the Commedia as a universal poetic text that influenced European literature through the centuries and is still relevant in the twenty first. The course also discusses examples of other types of epic poetry that flourished in Italy during the Renaissance period.

Course Code: MDLL4048A / MDLL7025A
Course Description: Modern Italian Narrative (nineteenth and early twentieth C)
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course focuses nineteenth Century which was characterised by numerous social, political and economic changes that marked a dramatic shift in Western thinking. The module thus presents a critical study of seminal texts by major canonical authors such as Manzoni, Verga, Pirandello, Svevo etc. and/or one or two minor ones who characterize these shifts and present contrasting literary trends. Attention is given to the diverse textual strategies and narrative techniques employed by the writers and to the political, social and ideological differences that exemplify the Romantic, Post-romantic, Realist and Decadent movements of Italian Literature. Each of the authors brings a modern sensibility to their narratives, and explores the quest for the self and the role of the individual in society.

Course Code: MDLL4058A / MDLL7042A
Course Description: Selected Topic in Italian Literature
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course explores the relationship between Italy and Africa with a postcolonial approach. It has both a literary and a cinema component. It starts with the representation of Africa during the colonial era at the end of the XIX Century and ends with the texts produced by migrant writers during the more recent years.

Course Code: MDLL4043A/ MDLL7020A
Course Description: Italian Post-modern & Experimental Literature
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course is an analytical study of a number of post Second World War and contemporary Italian writers. Their work is more experimental, innovative and self-conscious such as Eco, Calvino, Sciascia, Gadda, Tabucchi and others. It engages with self, history, the rewriting of myths and the relation between the personal and the political. It examines feminist texts that explore the tension between female self-assertion and the constrictions of prescribed female roles. The course addresses the issue of what is meant by the term 'post-modern' when applied to Italian literature. Thus it conducts a theoretical discourse on the ways in which the studied texts challenge, subvert or alter orthodox literary canons as well as social norms. It raises critical questions regarding the role of the reader in the text and how meaning is constructed. Various genres or of sub-genres such as feminist or protest theatre or detective fiction in its post-modern guise may be included.

Course Code: MDLL2007A
Course Description: South African Sign Language: Intermediate IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course covers aspects of the phonology, morphology and syntax of South Africa Sign Language, while strengthening students receptive and expressive skills in terms of both grammatical structures and range of vocabulary. Longer(video-recorded) texts will challenge students receptive skills, expand students' knowledge of Deaf culture, and provide material for analysis. Policies and legislation impacting on members of the South African Deaf community, including Deaf learners, are investigated in relation to empowerment, social justice and equality.

Course Code: MDLL2008A
Course Description: South African Sign Language: Intermediate IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course covers more advanced aspects of the phonology, morphology and syntax of South African Sign Language and continues to strengthen students' receptive and expressive skills. The complex issues underlying the concept of a deaf community are investigated in the South African context.

Course Code: MDLL3026A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Introductory Linguistics
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explains the basic concepts of South African Sign Language linguistics by introducing the fundamental areas of linguistic inquiry – phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and the use of language. It enables students who already are fluent in SASL to analyse and think critically about the structure of SASL. Students are exposed to visual texts illustrating these concepts and to a range of readings confirming research results.

Course Code: MDLL3015A
Course Description: South African Sign Language: Advanced III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course extends the investigation of the structure of South African Sign Language (SASL) to the level of discourse and pragmatics. The expectations for comprehension and production of SASL are commensurate with advanced level of study. Students will be expected to cope with SASL linguistic and sociolinguistic variation, including regional and social register. They will be expected to create and analyse SASL visual texts.

Course Code: MDLL3027A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Poetry and Storytelling
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course complements the study of the language of the Deaf community by exploring its literature. Students will study and analyse creative and artistic sign language as seen in storytelling and poetry in many different sign languages. Analyses include both thematic and linguistic elements (repetition, handshape, and symmetry, use of space, neologism and ambiguity). Students also have the opportunity to create their own poems in SASL using what they have learnt in the class.

Course Code: MDLL3028A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Sociolinguistics
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores the relationship between language, people and society in general, and locates SASL in its social context. It will focus on the ways in which language varies according to the identities of signers, situations, and other factors. It will explore synchronic regional, social, and situational variation, as well as diachronic variation within SASL and other signed/spoken languages. The complex language profile of Deaf people will also be explored.

Course Code: MDLL4072A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Research Course
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course assists students to identify, design and conduct a research project in the field of SASL. The course provides an understanding of research, research methods and data analysis in the field of SASL with a focus on research writing skills. Students will be assisted with research writing. Moreover the course establishes a community of researchers who can share ideas and support each other.

Course Code: MDLL4074A
Course Description: Specialised South African Sign Language
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course strengthens students' knowledge and use of SASL at the discourse level using different registers by means of creative production of texts, as well as, the translation of texts, both from SASL to English, and English to SASL. Specialised vocabulary will be developed accordingly.

Course Code: MDLL4077A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Literature and Folklore
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course offers an extensive study of the literature and folklore of SASL and other signed languages. Sign language literature is unwritten but there is a wealth of culturally important 'texts' which can be recorded and studied in depth. It is an essential part of Deaf cultural heritage, and any student doing research in sign language should explore its literature and folklore.

Course Code: MDLL4078A
Course Description: Sign Language Acquisition
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course explores major issues in the acquisition of sign language. The focus is on the role visual modality plays in language acquisition, and the unique profile of the deaf community (the fact that most deaf children are born to hearing families), which will be investigated by highlighting the differences and similarities with spoken language acquisition.

Course Code: MDLL4079A
Course Description: South African Sign Language Advanced Linguistics
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides an advanced level of exploration of issues in the linguistics of sign languages. The overarching theme of the course is how the visual modality of sign languages affects their linguistic structure and construction of meaning. We will consider features of well documented and researched signed languages such as American Sign Language (ASL), British Sign Language (BSL) and Australian Sign Language (AUSLAN). The course also considers the linguistic structure of signed languages in relation to that of spoken languages, the latest theories on signs phonology, lexicon, morphology and grammar are introduced.

WITS SCHOOL OF ARTS

Course Code: MUSC1024A

Course Description: Foundation in Music Performance Studies

NQF Credits: 48	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing, initially, basic skills in music performance proficiency and works towards progressively more advanced skills by the end of the year-long course. The course prepares students in attaining a level of performance equivalent to the external examinations of Unisa/ABRSM "practical" grade six, in preparation for the Music Performance Studies courses. Students focus on a primary instrument or voice of study, in classical, jazz, or musical theatre traditions, and cover technical and repertoire work.

Course Code: MUSC1025A

Course Description: Foundation in General Musicianship

NQF Credits: 48	NQF Level: 5

This course focuses on developing foundational skills in several inter-related areas of music studies that are crucial to the practice of music. These include aural, listening and sight-reading skills, a basic orientation of the keyboard, and an introduction to music ensemble performance through choral and marimba practices.

Course Code: MUSC1026A

Course Description: Foundation in Music Literacies A

Course Description: Critical Music Studies: Concepts and Contexts IIA
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces students to the critical, historical, and social study of music focusing on core concepts specific to the study of music. These include the interrogation of ontologies of sound (what are the natures of sound, music, and noise), and of the musical work. The course discusses the identities and practices of music's primary creative artists (what are composers, performers, and (studio) producers, and their function). The course explores the objects of music such as instruments (including electronic and digital examples), the score, recording formats, musicological notions of the cross-culturally and trans-historically and historical period, style, genre, the canon and the aesthetic ideologies that underpin these.

Course Code: MUSC2024A
Course Description: Critical Music Studies: Concepts and Contexts IIB
NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces students to the critical, historical, and social study of music, focusing on the contexts within which music is produced, disseminated and consumed. It explores the alignment of music with politics and the social context. The course further explores the relationships of music to the dominant social identities that have animated humanistic studies, such as gender, race, class, and nation, and considers how music functions politically. The course considers the means which music articulates place and space (including cyber-spaces), how it engenders communities and scenes, and functions as ritual practice is considered.

Course Code: MUSC3015A
Course Description: Music and History and Society III: Music and the Theatre
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores the complex and varied aesthetic forms that musical theatre has assumed. Through a focus on local and international case studies from opera, operatta, classic American musical theatre, film musicals, township theatre and experimental music theatre the course aims to delineate the distinctions that characterise different traditions of music theatre, while examining, in particular, discourses of nationalism and gender that have pervaded music theatre stages.

Course Code: MUSC3023A
Course Description: Community Music III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces BMus students to the field of Community Music. It examines the key concepts and theories of community music internationally and covers topics such as music and social justice, and the critical role of the arts in social development. Students engage with international and local community music scholarship and develop theoretical and some practical knowledge, which they then apply to the South African community music context. The course consists of interactive seminar-type lectures, including some practical "musicking". As the summative assessment, students undertake a short research report on a South African community music project, where they demonstrate their working knowledge of community music definitions, epistemologies and practices.

Course Code: MUSC3017A

Course Description: Music and History and Society III: Musical Modernisms

NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7

This course is framed by the concepts of modernity, modernism and postmodernism, considering both canonical and alternative formulations of these concepts as they have been theorised in the west and elsewhere, through an exploration of their manifestations in musical cultures in Europe, America and Africa. Examining select music composed and performed during the period, the course questions what characterised twentieth-century musical production, and debates music's role as an articulator of the avant-garde.

Course Code: MUSC3018A

Course Description: Music and History and Society III Music in Contemporary Lives

NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7

This course is an issue-based course that takes sociology of music perspective on the social uses of music in the contemporary world, exploring the role of music within the context of some of the major social processes and events that characterise contemporary society. Topics covered include music as protest, music in war, terrorism and peace; music and immigration and globalisation; music in social development, tourism and as heritage; and music, censorship and freedom. The course debates the utility and ethical place of music in contemporary lives.

Course Code: MUSC4031A

Course Description: Composition IV: Theory and Analysis

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

This course constitutes the composition specialisation and covers select topics in the theory, analysis, and aesthetics of key works, creative techniques, technologies, and practices identified with musical creation. The course is taught in areas that include, amongst others, electronic music and their technologies, choral composition and arrangement, art music composition at the Western-African music nexus, "freestyle" improvisation-based composition, composition for moving image and commercial pop, and jazz arranging.

Course Code: MUSC4032A

Course Description: Composition Studies IV: Portfolio

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

This course constitutes the composition specialisation and creates and presents a portfolio of original compositions and creative work (of total duration of approximately twenty minutes) located in diverse areas that traverse the spectrum of creative endeavour from commercial production work to the experimental. Students choose to produce creative work in four areas, taught and supervised in short modules, from, amongst others, electronic music and their technologies, choral composition and arrangement, art music composition at the Western-African music nexus, "freestyle" improvisation-based composition, composition for moving image and commercial song writing, pop, and jazz arranging.

Course Code: MUSC4033A

Course Description: Music Performance Studies IV

NQF Credits: 48 | NQF Level: 8

This course develops music performance professionalism and expertise; the student-performer attains a level of performance ability equivalent to that required of the performer's licentiate of the external examining bodies such as UNISA, the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, and Trinity College London. The course culminates in the presentation of a public recital or show in solo, accompanying or ensemble performance. The recital must present a coherent, varied programme that demonstrates both knowledge of the range of canonical repertoires of the tradition within which the performance is located and also a diversity of technical skills expected of performance at this level; the inclusion of more recent and experimental work in the programme is encouraged.

Course Code: MUSC4034A

Course Description: Music Performance Studies IV: Minor Studies

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course develops music performance expertise and the student-performer should have attained a level of performance ability equivalent to that required of the teacher's licentiate of the external examining bodies such as UNISA, the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, and Trinity College London. Course Code: WSOA1002A

Course Description: Film, Visual and Performing Arts IA

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

The course covers a variety of arts including Film, Drama, Music, Digital and Visual Arts, drawn from historical and contemporary cultures across a variety of locations, including cyberspace. Through a series of specific case studies, we engage the issue of representation in our cultural context. Students discuss how cultural productions engage with subjectivity, narrative, expression and meaning, relating these to students' own experiences of various forms of arts practice. Students gain a grounding in theoretical issues fundamental to the practice and appreciation of different art forms, and gain skills in the reading and critical analysis of different genres.

Course Code: WSOA1003A

Course Description: Film, Visual and Performing Arts IB

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course covers key theories and methodologies in the areas of Film, Drama, Music, Digital and Visual Arts, and a range of case studies from these different disciplines. The course is arranged according to two overarching and connected themes, namely Stereotypes and Power and The Body, Sex and Race. Students gain a broad understanding of theories and practices in the field of film, visual and performing arts, a sphere which extends beyond the narrow confines of specialist studies, into our everyday lives, and our understanding of the world. Increasingly in the arts, discipline boundaries are being challenged and re-drawn. This course provides a basis on which to assess such developments.

Course Code: MUSC2023A

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces students to the critical, historical, and social study of music focusing on core concepts specific to the study of music. This includes the interrogation of ontologies of sound (what are the natures of sound, music, and noise), and of the musical work. It discusses the identities and practices of music's primary creative artists (what are composers, performers, and (studio) producers, and their function). The course explores the objects of music such as instruments (including electronic and digital examples), the score, recording formats, musicological notions of the cross-culturally and trans-historically and historical period, style, genre, the canon and the aesthetic ideologies that underpin these.

Course Code: MUSC2024A

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces students to the critical, historical, and social study of music, focusing on the contexts within which music is produced, disseminated and consumed. It specifically explores the alignment of music with politics and the social. The course explores the relationships of music to the dominant social identities that have animated humanistic studies, such as gender, race, class and nation, and considers how music functions politically. The course considers the means which music articulates place and space (including cyber-spaces), how it engenders communities and scenes, and functions as ritual practice is considered.

Course Code: MUSC3015A

Course Description: Music in History and Society III: Music and the Theatre

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Music in History and Society 3: Music and the Theatre explore the complex and varied aesthetic forms that musical theatre has assumed. Through a focus on case studies from opera, operatta, classic American musical theatre, film musicals, and experimental music theatre the course aims to delineate the distinctions that characterise different traditions of music theatre, while examining, in particular, discourses of nationalism and gender that have pervaded music theatre stages.

Course Code: MUSC3017A

Course Description: Music in History and Society III: Musical Modernisms

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course is framed by the concepts of modernity, modernism and postmodernism, considering both canonical and alternative formulations of these concepts as they have been theorised in the west and elsewhere, through an exploration of their manifestations in musical cultures in Europe, America and Africa. Examining select music composed and performed during the period, the course questions what characterised twentieth-century musical production, and debates music's role as an articulator of the avant-garde.

Course Code: MUSC3018A

Course Description: Music in History and Society III: Music in Contemporary Lives

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

Topics covered include music as protest, and music in war, terrorism and peace, music and immigration and globalisation, music in social development, tourism and as heritage, and music, censorship and freedom. The course debates the utility and ethical place of music in contemporary lives.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

Course Code: SOSS4052A

Course Description: Basic Concepts in Organisational and Institutional Studies

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces the theory of institutions and organisations, drawing conceptually from the metaphor of an institution as the 'rules of the game'. In this way, the course introduces a distinction between organisations (as formally mandated entity with people and resources) and institutions as the way that people and resources combine to produce daily practices. The course explores the different ways in which power is exercised in institutions, from where it derives and how it is legitimised, how incentives are created and their effects, how organisations are structured and how this affects their social and political lives and the cultures and histories of those that work in departments and so on. The course offers students an introduction to some of the basic concepts in Institutional Economics, considering how formal institutions are important determinants of individual and group behaviour. Behaviour, including contracts, affects socio-economic development. The intention is to understand how institutions lead to different socio-economic paths of development.

Course Code: SOSS7085A

Course Description: Advanced Concepts in Organisational and Institutional Studies

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course requires students to apply concepts from the course to undertake ethnographic work in selected organisations or a history or sociology of a relevant department focusing on its institutional lives. The course starts with an advanced topic in the theory of institutions and organisations, exploring the particular form of the bureaucracy and periodising it historically and in South Africa, power dynamics in organisations and their relationship to formal and informal institutions. It focuses on the different ways in which power is exercised in institutions, from where it derives and how it is legitimised. It explores how incentives are created and their effects, how organisations are structured and how this affects their social and political lives and the cultures and histories of those that work in departments.

Course Description: Feminist Theory and Politics II

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

With a transnational perspective, including primary sources as well as scholarly texts from the USA, Europe, Africa and specifically South Africa, this course situates respective women's histories in a broader historical, political, and cultural as well as geographical context. This course also explores the concept of culture as ever changing social practices in the light of pre-colonial African gender relations. It is followed by various interlinked struggles for emancipation: the US-American anti-slavery movement and its impact on the "first wave" women's movement; the so called second wave women's movements in the West, enabling the corporal turn leading to today's study of Body Politics; we are engaging with gender relations in South Africa and explore differences within movements and amongst women in relation to sexuality/ sex/gender performance and class position and the experience of racialised discrimination or privilege.

Course Code: POLS2006A

Course Description: Social Theories of Modernity

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course examines the political, social and economic dimensions of modernity and postmodernity. It begins with an introduction to the essential literature of the Scientific Revolution and the Enlightenment and their effects on western culture. The course focuses on the principal political economic institutions of modernity. This includes tracing the history of the modern European state from the collapse of feudalism to the emergence in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries of liberal and democratic state-forms. Several theoretical perspectives on modern capitalism and its relationship to the structures of the modern state are introduced and the various forms the state has assumed during the twentieth century – in particular the "social democratic" and "neo liberal" forms are studied in relation to the mutations of contemporary capitalism. A variety of "totalitarian" responses to the challenges of modernity, including some forms of religious fundamentalism, are then considered before the course concludes with an examination of the concept of "postmodernity". In this connection, the various philosophical and political claims challenging the premises of modernity are examined.

Course Code: POLS2012A

Course Description: South Africa: Politics and Governance

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

The course familiarises students with key themes and controversies in South Africa's politics. It examines the making of the country's borders and its state; the controversies over the definitions of South African citizenship in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries; and the relationship between its executive, legislature, judiciary and bureaucracies. Students also debate the place of identity politics, race and class in South Africa, both in the past, and in the present. It considered the modernity of South Africa's politics and models of governance, the reliance of the apartheid state on quasi-legal "states of emergency" in the governance of the country, and the role of both legal and extra-legal means and methods of protest both during the apartheid era and in the present moment. These discussions will take place in the context of a detailed study of our country's political history, from colonialism throughout apartheid to the present day.

Course Code: POLS2015A

Course Description: Human Rights and Political Studies

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

The course introduces students to the politics of human rights. Students explore the origins of rights-talk in political discourse, the political and philosophical foundations of human rights, critics of human rights discourses, and how social movements have invoked rights to advance their causes.

Course Code: POLS2020A

Course Description: Law, State and Society

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces relations between law, state and society and focuses on current debates concerning their relations in contemporary South Africa. The course examines foundational theory of law and politics, the separation of powers and the struggles between the state and the judiciary. It investigates the relationship between legal principles and social norms, contemporary rights-based politics and the socio-legal struggles that animate them. The course also introduces students to contemporary legal controversies in South Africa, examining the principles and theories that underpin high-profile judgments in their political context.

Course Code: POLS2021A

Course Description: Black Consciousness Thought and the Politics of Anti-Racism

NQF Credits: 24	NQF Level: 6

This course examines the development of perspectives on 'black consciousness' and 'black power', which came to be associated with movements like the Black Consciousness Movement (in SA) and the Black Panthers (in the US). Although these movements provide the initial basis for discussion, the course uncovers the political and theoretical traditions that helped shape the thinking of figures within these movements as well as to shed light on contemporary lines of thought to which these are genealogically linked. Strategies to combat racism and stage a conversation between perspectives like BC and other critical political narratives on race are also covered in this course.

Course Code: POLS3003A/POLS3020A

Course Description: Development: Concepts and Experiences III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to development studies and revolves around a core question, why have some countries developed successfully over the past five centuries, whilst others, including some of the most developed countries in the thirteenth and fourteenth countries, have either failed to develop or stagnated; and what made this unique period of economic growth possible. Answers are explored throughout the course, including history (the slave trade, colonialism), institutions (bureaucratic governance, private property), geographical location, and culture (the Protestant work ethic, individualism).

Course Code: POLS3008A/POLS3021A

Course Description: Political Sociology III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the key concepts of political sociology and the study of politics in society. Course Code: POLS3017A/POLS3022A

Course Description: Liberty, Justice and the Politics of Difference

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines three major areas of controversy within analytical normative political theory since the early 1970s: the meaning and value of liberty or freedom, the entailments of distributive or social justice, and the accommodation of group claims and group diversity in modern democracies. The course explores areas of tension and complementarity between such apparently competing values as freedom and equality, and equality and recognition. Students are introduced to a range of philosophical positions within which these issues are addressed, including libertarianism, liberal egalitarianism, republicanism, communitarianism and feminism.

Course Code: POLS3018A/POLS3023A

Course Description: Conflict, Stability and State Building in Postcolonial Africa

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores the various ways in which factors have shaped state-building efforts in sub-Saharan Africa in the wake of decolonisation. Using a combination of thematic analysis and individual case studies, the course begins with an historical consideration of the causes and consequences of the staggered transition from pre-colonial, colonial, and post-colonial forms of political authority and legitimacy. The course considers a number of key themes which have played a central role in either promoting or undermining state-building efforts in sub-Saharan Africa. Since patterns of violent conflict have played a major role in the recent history of sub-Saharan Africa, the course also gives sustained consideration to the underlying causes behind recent and ongoing conflicts, the different ways in which wars have been conducted, and the types of efforts and responses which have emerged both during and after violent conflicts.

Course Code: POLS3024A/POLS3027A(PT)

Course Description: Introduction to Comparative Politics

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

The course addresses one of the core sub-fields in political science, with a distinctive method and approach to the analysis of large questions relating to political theory and political, economic and social institutions. It explores patterns, trends, similarities and differences between political systems, as well as over time, and attempts to develop general hypotheses that describe and explain these. The course introduces students to inductive and deductive methods, and to three key approaches: institutional, behavioural and structural-functional.

Course Code: POLS3028A/POLS3030A(PT)

Course Description: Critical perspectives on State, Bureaucracy and Administration

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course introduces students to the discipline of public administration and the current debate concerning its application to South African institutional reform and development. The course begins with a survey of the intellectual development of public administration and its study internationally and is followed by critical appraisal of the development of the discipline in South Africa before turning to the recent efforts to develop a new paradigm which fuses understandings of management, development and governance. The course includes an introduction to the theory and practice of public finance. Other topics to be covered include South African public sector administrative reform, policy making and implementation, leadership, public sector corruption and corruption prevention and intergovernmental relations.

Course Code: POLS3026A

Course Description: Government and the Poor

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course considers the problem of poverty and its historical conceptualisation. The particular modes of response such as conceptualisations enabled within modern governmental paradigms are included. The course focuses on 'governmental reason', as well as ways state practices have been shaped by forms of resistance and political contestation. It focuses on ways in which a discourse on poverty develops within classical political economy. The course looks at canonical texts, commentaries and critiques and then focuses on South Africa and the present national challenge presented by poverty.

Course Code: ARPL3023A

Course Description: Politics, Governance and the City

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course provides students with theoretical and practical responses to questions such as governing contemporary cities and implementing of decisions regarding urban policies and urban projects, amongst others. Theories of urban regimes, urban governance, participation, social movements and political mobilization are presented and their relevance for African cities, debated through different case studies.

Course Code: POLS3029A

Course Description: Post-Colonial Politics

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course is an introduction to post-colonial political thought and practice. In addition to the study of the formation of new states and new state forms in the post-colonies of Africa, Asia, and Latin America, it considers the ways in which these new post-colonial polities have inspired, influenced, and shaped a project of critical political thought in the second half of the twentieth-century and the beginning of the twenty-first. The course familiarises students with the idea of the post-colony, and the ways in which that idea has reshaped current political thought.

Course Code: POLS4045A

Course Description: African Politics: Natural Resources in Africa

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course interrogates the complicated and fraught question of resource extraction in Africa, its legacies and potentials, from before colonisation to the present. It gives candidates a critical overview of the political, historical, sociological, and anthropological debates surrounding natural resources on the continent. It works through cases from Southern, West, Central, and East Africa, and explores topics such as: nationalisation, the resource curse, conflict minerals, resource futures, artisanal and small-scale mining, and petro-states. By using an interdisciplinary approach, the course examines the large-scale political and economic impacts of resource extraction as well as the social and cultural worlds created by, and surrounding, mining activities.

Course Code: POLS4036A

Course Description: Democratic Theory

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course examines the relationship between existing liberal democracy and various visions for deepening and extending democracy in democratic, and especially radical-democratic, theory. The course considers a range of proposals for supplementing and, in the more utopian versions, replacing it with other democratic institutions and techniques. Among those are council and economic democracy, direct democracy via initiative, referendum and recall, electronic democracy and deliberative democracy. Proposals for group representation especially those arising from the claims of women, indigenous peoples, ethnic minorities, immigrants and the historically disadvantaged will also be considered. Attention is also given to critiques arising from various philosophical and ideological positions, including liberalism, civic republicanism, Marxism, utopian socialism and feminism.

Course Code: POLS4047A

Course Description: Politics and Utopia

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides candidates with an introduction to key ideas and theories in the development of political thought. It studies utopian visions, and the impact on political thought and practice. These include Plato's Republic, Thomas Moore's Utopia, the visions of St-Simon and Fourier in the run-up to the French Revolution, as well as contemporary visions of Marxist, feminist, and technological utopias. The course provides a focused discussion of the relationship between political theory and political practice through an examination both of imagined utopias and the attempts, throughout history, to put these utopia visions into practice.

Course Code: POLS4044A

Course Description: Justice and Democracy: Freedom in South Africa

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course comprises the following:

1) Analyse the origins and development of our current conceptions of justice, democracy and freedom.

2) Study the institutional forms and effects in modern politics with particular focus on the context of freedom in contemporary South Africa. The course also examines the intellectual, institutional and conceptual history of justice, democracy and freedom and how they relate to one another. The course analyses how these ideas relate to the ideological and institutional realities of the acquisition of freedom in Africa and South Africa, and how these have been played out in various post-colonial contexts, particularly that of post-apartheid South Africa. The course includes analysis of the ideas (and intellectual and historical contexts) of the following core thinkers, Hobbes, Rousseau, Marx, Fanon, Biko, Mandela, Sen and Geuss, amongst others.

Course Code: POLS4012A

Course Description: Development Theory

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to the major social, economic, and political, assumptions underpinning 'development studies', and, most importantly, to the strategies that might best be adopted to 'promote' or 'manage' development. In this way, the 'problem of development' in three loosely defined and inter-connected areas of social life such as the market, the state, and the community.

Course Code: POLS4033A

Course Description: The State in Africa: Democratisation and Crisis

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course debates the genesis and the development of the African state. It has been viewed as the main vehicle of modernisation, as the instrument of a new ruling class, as underdeveloped, overdeveloped, kleptocratic, patriarchal, predatory, collapsed and ineffectual. This course explores the tensions that exist between the views of the state in Africa that perceive it to be inherently authoritarian and moreover disengaged from society and those arguments which support the adoption by African countries of liberal democratic constitutions derived from advanced industrial societies. The theoretical explorations are routed in the investigation of particular national case studies that are to be decided upon.

Course Code: POLS4038A

Course Description: Violence, Identity and Transformation

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course is an interactive research seminar, designed as a laboratory, for mutual learning and collective transdisciplinary research. The project character of this course requires dedication, active engagement and full-time presence. It accesses archives of the Global South and North and explores key questions dealing with the politics of violence. This includes selected theoretical, conceptual, practical approaches to violence versus militancy and the analysis of the interrelatedness of violence and gendered and racialised collective identity politics. Violence during conflict and especially in post-conflict societies is analysed in the light of collective identity politics and their relations to power and systems of privilege.

Course Code: POLS4037A

Course Description: Debates in Feminism, Politics and Society

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to the challenges posed by feminist theory and feminist politics to the discipline of political studies, both theoretically and empirically. It considers critical contemporary and historical debates in feminism, covering liberal, socialist, cultural theory, post-structuralism and post-modern perspectives. The objective is to understand the importance of gender perspectives in analysing the political world of the past and the present; and to integrate gender concepts into our own theoretical approach to politics and to life in general.

Course Code: POLS4051A

Course Description: Equality

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides a philosophical interrogation of equality as a concept and normative ideal. Questions such as humans seek equality and demands for recognition are interrogated. The course examines the answers critically within a range of philosophical and political traditions, including market libertarianism, liberal egalitarianism, anarchism, Marxism, feminism, conservatism, communitarianism and republicanism, and to develop its own synthesis. South African-specific concerns around race redress and recognition figure prominently within an exercise that seeks to not only elaborate but also to critically apply philosophical concepts.

Course Code: POLS4050A

Course Description: Institutions, Governance and Violence in Africa

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course draws on a multi-disciplinary literature on the role of institutions in development, with important contributions from economic historians, development economists, and social historians, the course explores the way in which institutions shape the development of financial, social, political, and legal structures, and how these affect and help explain development trajectories. Drawing on the concept of 'limited access orders', where power is personalised, relationships affective, and struggles to preserve rent-seeking relationships explain high levels of violence and factional struggle, the course pays particular attention to the development and impact of pre- and post-colonial institutions in Africa.

Course Code: POLS4054A

Course Description: An Introduction to Biopower

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course traces the development of the concept of biopower in the work of Foucault (while also underlining some of the sources of inspiration for his formulation). The course focuses on the development of Foucault's perspective on a disciplinary power focused on the individual body, as well as his later emphasis on a biopolitics of population. The course also discusses ways in which the concept of biopower has been appropriated and developed by other important theorists. It looks at some of the major interventions around the concept of biopolitics in writers like Hardt and Negri, Agamben, Mbembe, Esposito and others. It also considers some of the critiques that have emerged in relation to usage of this concept.

Course Code: POLS4053A

Course Description: Political Judgement

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides candidates with an advanced introduction to political judgement. A set of key texts taken from key thinkers in global political thought constitute the core of the course, analysed conceptually and within their intel lectual and historical context, with specific, but not unique focus empirically and theoretically on Africa. The texts chosen enhance the understanding of the variety of possible approaches to the how best to understand and engender good political judgement amongst contemporary political theorists and politicians. The course helps students explore the relations between abstract political concepts and concrete historical events, and understand some of the global problems associated with these relations.

Course Code: POLS4052A

Course Description: Research Methods and Research Ethics in Political Studies

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces a range of debates and approaches regarding the meaning of research methods. The focus of the course is on political studies, but the social sciences more generally also provide a larger backdrop to a number topics and debates. In addition to introducing candidates to research methods and research ethics, this course provides targeted instruction in developing a research proposal and research plan. The course considers the role of empirical research in political studies, and critically engages with notions of method and science when planning research projects. Candidates present their plans to their peers and other members of the department, building upon ideas put together in a research proposal.

Course Code: POLS4055A

Course Description: Afro-politics and Religion

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

Taking as its case study the international emergence and consolidation of the neo-liberal agenda from the 1970s, the course provides students with a solid and relevant grounding in economic theory and in global and local economic issues, and a thorough grasp of economic and industrial policy debates in South Africa.

Course Code: SOCL3016A/SOCL3023A

Course Description: Sociology of Africa III

NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course examines colonial and postcolonial southern Africa from a sociological perspective, using country case studies and thematic analyses to explore imperialism, capitalism, economic policy and development, class structure, rural social relations, political reform, and labour movements and industrial relations in the region. It provides a basis for students interested in development issues, regional political economy and labour and industrial issues.

Course Code: SOCL3026A

Course Description: Contemporary Social Issues III

NQF Credits: 18 | NQF Level: 7

This course addresses selected topics in sociology, including amongst others gender, race, ethnicity, class, urban and rural sociology, the environment, education, state formation and civil society. It provides a sociological understanding of these issues by means of an engagement with both classical and dynamic contemporary social theory produced internationally and in the region.

Course Code: SOCL4006A

Course Description: Collective Action and Social Movements

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

This course explores the histories of state and popular violence in South Africa, and places this in the broader context of changing patterns of violence historically and globally. The focus is on collective action, violence and contentious politics, including policing rather than individual, criminal or gender-based violence. The course considers violence in relation to power and disempowerment, colonialism and post colonialism, democracy, domination, social hierarchy, and social order and fragmentation, and the ways in which forms of violence shed light on the nature of society. The course also considers case studies of social movements that have adopted violent practices, as well as social movements that mobilise against violence.

Course Code: SOCL4009A

Course Description: Development as Ideology and Practice

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

This course tracks the trajectories of the successive 'development' models, looking at their origins, influence, and strengths and weaknesses, and the manner in which 'development' is imagined. Theoretical models have real implications, and the course also examines specific areas of 'development' policy and practice. Case studies of particular 'development' sectors provide a picture of 'development' in operation, and provide candidates with insights into development work.

Course Code: SOCL4014A

Course Description: Economic Sociology: Institutions, Capitalism and Markets

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

This course introduces candidates to the main paradigms that shape modern economic policy debates and positions. Although it is not an economics course, it provides candidates in the social sciences with a solid grounding in economic and social theory in a manner that enables effective policy advocacy and critique. Sophisticated theoretical discussions, plus detailed readings and policy analysis, forms the core of the course, which is designed to give students an in-depth understanding of the capitalist system, and its limitations.

Course Code: SOCL4015A

Course Description: The Political Economy of Nature and Development

NQF Credits: 23 | NQF Level: 8

The course illuminates a number of global, regional, national and local environmental issues, through a political economy and sociological lens, drawing on a wide range of theorists. Environmentalism has spawned numerous approaches, ranging from neo Malthusianism, through to ecofeminism, deep ecology, radical ecology and ecosocialism. Linkages between the environment and development are drawn, including linkages between the natural and social sciences. The rise of a global environmental social movement is traced, including the environmental justice movements in South Africa and elsewhere. Candidates are encouraged to address a particular environmental problem as part of their written contribution to the course.

Course Code: SOCL4029A

Course Description: Feminist Theory

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces candidates to key and cutting edge debates in women's and gender studies and feminist theory and politics today particularly from a postcolonial perspective, such as transnational feminism, governance feminism, African and Islamic feminism, to name but a few. It interrogates key concepts like ethics, politics and subjectivity from a feminist perspective.

Course Code: SOCL4030A

Course Description: Social Transitions

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

Course Code: SOCL4038A

Course Description: The Making of the South African Social Order

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides an overview of twentieth century South African history, as shaped by the varying legacies of indigenous modes of organisation and colonial rule. It outlines the challenges and opportunities that faced social and political actors in the course of the century, and that have left their mark on contemporary developments. From a theoretical perspective, it pays particular attention to the areas of state formation and resistance, economic development and class relations, and collective identity. Against this background, and drawing on comparative and historical literature, the course examines developments in South African society since the 1970s, with a particular focus on the politics of transition of the last decade and a half. The readings for the course combine historical overviews and discussions of key issues and current debates in South African studies.

Course Code: SOCL4040A

Course Description: Sociology of Land and Agrarian Reform in South Africa

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The course introduces candidates to some of the key debates that have come to characterise land and agrarian reform in post-apartheid (1994) democratic South Africa and by extension the Southern and Eastern African region. The course equips candidates with the knowledge base and skills required to critically engage with policy debates on land and agrarian issues. The central thrust of the course is to understand the protracted nature of land reform policy making process in countries undergoing democratization, the normative limits of land reform policies and the implementation problems that beleaguer their success. Detailed policy analysis of the three sub-programmes namely restitution, tenure and redistribution will form the basis of developing a critical understanding of some of the policy dilemmas, tensions, and challenges that define South Africa's land reform policy. Use of South Africa's case studies to illuminate the themes discussed herein, are used as evidence to substantiate these claims.

NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 7

This course expands students' clinical skills in audiological assessment and treatment. The course consists of 100 hours of supervised audiological testing and rehabilitation work at various sites such as community facilities, the University Speech and Hearing Clinic, schools and hospitals.

Course Code: SPPA3005A
Course Description: Speech and Language Pathology III
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 7

This course develops students' knowledge of more complex communication disorders. The course covers motor speech disorders, as well as aphasia and traumatic brain injury in adults, and paediatric neurogenic communication impairments including those that result from cerebral palsy and traumatic brain injury. The course includes a complete a section on dysphagia in adults and children.

Course Code: SPPA4001A
Course Description: Applied Neurology
NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 8

This course provides students with application skills in dealing with neurological communication disorders. The course consists of clinical instruction through case conferences, ward rounds, practical demonstrations, and lectures.

Course Code: SPPA4002A
Course Description: Audiology IV
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course prepares students for audiological practice at an advanced level. The course consists of topics in industrial audiology, auditory cortical evoked potentials, vestibular disorders, and severe communication disability including deafblindness.

Course Code: SPPA4003A
Course Description: Clinical Practical in Speech Language Pathology IV
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course provides students with advanced clinical training in speech-language pathology. The course comprises 200 hours of supervised clinical work at various sites such as community facilities, the University Speech and Hearing Clinic, schools and hospitals.

Course Code: SPPA4004A
Course Description: Clinical Practical in Audiology IV
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course provides students with advanced clinical training in audiology. The course comprises 200 hours of supervised audiological testing and rehabilitation work at various sites such as community facilities, the University Speech and Hearing Clinic, schools, and hospitals.

Course Code: SPPA4006A
Course Description: Research Report
NQF Credits: 15	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to research in speech-language pathology or audiology. The course consists of proposal preparation, ethics clearance application, conducting a research project of limited scope, writing up a research report, and disseminating findings through oral presentation at an annual departmental research seminar.

Course Code: SPPA4007A
Course Description: Speech and Language Pathology IV
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 8

This course consolidates students' knowledge of speech-language pathology and introduces advances in the field. The course consists of sections in advanced augmentative and alternative communication, advanced child language, advanced speech pathology, and advanced adult language pathology.

SCHOOL OF STATISCICS AND ACTUARIAL SCIENCE

Course Code: STAT1002A
Course Description: Actuarial Science I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to the fields of the mathematics of finance and actuarial demography. Topics include: the theory of interest; simple and compound, effective and nominal rates of interest; discounting and the rate of discount; equations of value; annuity theory; analysis of the annuity; sinking funds; the force of interest; fixed interest securities; life table theory; elementary demography; an introduction to the principles on insurance and pensions.

Course Code: STAT2012A
Course Description: Introduction to Mathematical Statistics
NQF Credits: 8	NQF Level: 6

This course introduces the student to mathematical statistics and is comprised of the following topics: Descriptive Statistics; Permutations & Combinations; Probability; Discrete & Continuous Random Variable; Sampling & Distributions & Tests of Hypothesis about a Mean; Correlation & Regression.

Ancillary Statistics

Course Code: STAT1005A
Course Description: Ancillary Statistics I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course comprises the following:

1) Part I: An elementary coverage of common statistical methods used in the applied sciences. These include descriptive statistics; distributions, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, correlation, regression, principles of experimental design.

2) Part II: A more advanced coverage and extension of the material given above. Probability distributions. Conditional probability. Hypothesis testing: introduction to ANOVA. Multiple regression, non-parametric tests, experimental design and associated hypotheses; randomised block designs, factorial experiments, missing observations and non-normality are also included.

STATISTICS AND ACTUARIAL SCIENCE

Course Code: STAT1000A/1001A/1004A
Course Description: Business Statistics I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course covers descriptive statistics: bar graphs, histograms and ogives, measures of central tendency and spread. Descriptive Regression, Probability: Addition Rule, Conditional Probabilities, Independence, Discrete distributions (Binomial, Poisson), Continuous Distributions (Exponential, Normal and t), and inference: Hypothesis testing, confidence Intervals and p-values (means- one & two samples & proportions one sample), Time Series and Chi-square test for independence are also included in the course.

SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS

Course Code: STAT1003A
Course Description: Mathematical Statistics I
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 5

This course introduces students to the field of mathematical statistics. Topics include:

descriptive statistical techniques; counting methods; permutations and combinations; probability; basic concepts; Bayes theorem; discrete and continuous random variables; binominal; poisson; geometric; hypergeometric; normal and exponential distribution; introduction to inference; confidence intervals and hypothesis testing on means and proportions; correlation and regression; least squares fitting of lines and planes; inference on regression; introduction to contingency tables.

Course Code: STAT2005A
Course Description: Mathematical Statistics II
NQF Credits: 48	NQF Level: 6

This course further develops the theory and techniques of mathematical statistics, and comprises of the following topics:

Probability; conditional probability; Bayes theorem; random variables; distributions and their properties; generating functions; bivariate distributions; marginal and conditional distributions; transformations of random variables; order statistics; introduction to sampling; introduction to sums of random variables and sampling distributions. Sums of random variables; sampling distributions; law of large numbers; Chebychev's inequality; Central Limit Theorem; point estimation; interval estimation; hypothesis testing; ANOVA; Chi-squared tests; sufficient statistics; theory of hypothesis testing; Monte Carlo simulation; review of matrix theory; multivariate normal distribution; introduction to multiple regression.

Course Code: STAT3017A
Course Description: Mathematical Statistics III
NQF Credits: 72	NQF Level: 7

This course includes the following topics: loss distributions; parameter estimation and inference; deductibles; reinsurance; inflation; risk models; compound distributions; Panjer's recursive formula; probability of ruin; integro-differential equation; adjustment coefficient; Lundberg's inequality; optimisation of reinsurance arrangements; reserving models; no claim discount systems; Bayesian statistics; credibility theory. An introduction to some of the most commonly used non-parametric techniques. Items include: order statistics and their applications; the sign test and its variations; rank tests; tests for the measure of association; tests of randomness; discussion of the treatment of ties and the Kolmogorov-Smirnov test for one and two samples.

Translation and Interpreting

Course Code: TRAN3006A
Course Description: Translation Methods and Practice III
NQF Credits: 18	NQF Level: 7

This course explores the theoretical notions underpinning translation practice and introduces students to translation and interpreting as professions and disciplines. It covers approaches to translation, methods of translation analysis, translation strategies and translation evaluation in their application to literary and professional translation. Students are introduced to major fields of translation, such as the translation of literature (song, poetry, drama, comic books and children's literature). One component of the course also covers translation and technology and the ethics of professional translation and interpreting. This course does not produce translators but lays the groundwork for a possible professional career in translation.

Course Code: TRAN4022A
Course Description: Principles and Practice of Translation and Interpreting (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course familiarises students with translation procedures and methodologies useful to them as professional translators both in terms of practical translation skills and in terms of the critical evaluation of translations. The methodology component includes an introduction to the different branches of translation studies, a historical overview of the discipline, the relationship between practice and theory in translation, and practical translation methods and procedures. The course also includes an introduction to editing as well as the practical translation of general texts.

Course Code: TRAN4023A
Course Description: Specialist Translation with Interpreting I (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces candidates to specialist fields of translation and liaison interpreting and is intended to equip students with the knowledge required to deal with the practical translation of legal, financial and technical texts. The course provides an introduction to economics and economic concepts (macro economics), to law and legal concepts (structure of the courts, law of persons, succession, property and lease). Students follow additional components in liaison interpreting, terminology creation and glossary management, transcription and subtitling, and the use of computer-assisted translation (CAT) tools. Practical translation practice is a key element of the course. An additional component in Professional Development equips students with the skills required to market their expertise after completing the qualification.

Course Code: TRAN4024A
Course Description: Specialist Translation with Interpreting II (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course continues the focus on specialist fields of translation and liaison interpreting. The course ensures that candidates gain further knowledge to deal with legal, financial and technical texts. The course provides an introduction to business finance, including company law, company finance, and company reports and financial statements. The law component focuses on the law of contract and sale, criminal law and criminal procedure, civil law and the law of evidence, and international and comparative law. Practical work includes legal and sworn translation, the translation of company documents and scientific and technical translation. Liaison interpreting, the use of CAT tools and further aspects of professional development also form part of this course.

Course Code: TRAN4033A
Course Description: Translation Studies (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course interrogates strategies for dealing with problems encountered during translation as well as the role of culture and ideology. It also studies models of cognition and translation; how theories and strategies in translation feature in cognitive functioning, language processing and bilingual processing; and Descriptive Translation Studies and Polysystem theory.

Course Code: TRAN4027A
Course Description: Selected Topic in Translation Studies (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The nature of the selected topic will vary although the course covers either theoretical or practical and professional aspects relevant to translation and extends the knowledge of translation students in line with the overall requirements of the honours programme. Independent research and or practical work is an integral part of the course.

Course Code: TRAN4028A
Course Description: Principles and Practice of Interpreting (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course improves learners' grasp of the principles and practice which govern the interpreting profession in a number of advanced liaison and long consecutive interpreting contexts. It is also intended to improve monolingual and bilingual pre-interpreting skills as well as liaison interpreting practice in the long consecutive mode, simultaneous interpreting (whispered/ signed) and sight interpreting. The course improves candidates' ability to negotiate mismatched power relations and assess the implications of role conflict and to enhance the ability to conduct an interpreting business ethically and professionally . The course includes note-taking, consecutive interpreting, professional practice, public speaking, and liaison interpreting practice in a variety of settings.

Course Code: TRAN4029A
Course Description: Specialist Translation for Interpreters (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to translation methodology and procedures as well as text analysis and practical translation in certain fields of translation and interpreting. The course ensures that students acquire the ability and skills to deal with a variety of texts and discourse, particularly in general and financial fields. Besides translation theory and an introduction to linguistics, the course includes an introduction to economics and economic concepts (macro and micro economics) to provide background for financial translation. An additional component in Professional Development equips students with the skills required to market their expertise after completing the qualification.

Course Code: TRAN4030A
Course Description: Conference Interpreting Skills (Hons)
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course improves monolingual and bilingual pre-interpreting skills and provides conference interpreting practice in the simultaneous mode (including simultaneous interpreting with text). Improvement of simultaneous interpreting practice is emphasised by focusing on the application of appropriate coping tactics and conference preparation techniques. The syllabus includes public speaking and voice projection, and technology for interpreters. Students are also exposed to the principles and norms of professional practice governing the interpreting profession in at least two basic to intermediate conference interpreting contexts, such as local and national government, tertiary education, business, NGOs and development.

Course Code: TRAN4031A
Course Description: Interpreting Studies
NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course provides the theoretical grounding and methodology for Interpreting Studies research. Topics covered include traditional approaches to simultaneous interpreting research (early psycholinguistic research, experimental studies, conference and cognitive studies); approaches to liaison interpreting (anecdotal accounts, role and ethics, analytical research); interpreting skills acquisition, assessment and expertise and analytical approaches to Interpreting Studies (conversation analysis, discourse studies, text linguistics, ethnographic analysis and corpus-based studies). The course familiarises students with the theoretical and analytical approaches vital for the further study and research in the field.

Course Code: TRAN4032A

Course Description: Selected Topic in Translation Studies (Hons)

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

The nature of the selected topic will vary although the course covers either theoretical or practical and professional aspects relevant to interpreting and extends the knowledge of interpreting students in line with the overall requirements of the honours programme. Independent research and or practical work is an integral part of the course.

Course Code: TRAN5004A

Course Description: Specialist Translation with Interpreting I (PG Dip)

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

This course introduces students to specialist fields of translation and liaison interpreting and equips students with the knowledge required to deal with the practical translation of legal, financial and technical texts. The course provides an introduction to economics and economic concepts (macro economics), to law and legal concepts (structure of the courts, law of persons, succession, property and lease). Students follow additional components in liaison interpreting, terminology creation and glossary management, transcription and subtitling, and the use of computer-assisted translation (CAT) tools. Course Description: Translation Studies (PGDip)

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

This course interrogates strategies for dealing with problems encountered during translation as well as the role of culture and ideology. It also studies models of cognition and translation; how theories and strategies in translation feature in cognitive functioning, language processing and bilingual processing; and Descriptive Translation Studies and Polysystem theory.

Course Code: TRAN5007A

Course Description: Advanced Practical Translation and Analysis

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

This course emphasises writing and rewriting skills and the practical translation of different types of texts. Candidates also conduct a small-scale research project which is written up in the form of a short research report.

Course Code: TRAN5008A
Course Description: Principles and Practice of Translation and Interpreting (PG Dip)
NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

Course Code: TRAN5014A

Course Description: Interpreting Research Methods and Analysis

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

This course uses the practical interpreting and discourse analysis skills acquired in other modules in the programme and applies them to a variety of interpreted texts which reflect a range of registers and modes of interpreting. The emphasis is on writing and rewriting skills focused on the description and analysis of interpreted texts. Students also conduct a small-scale research project which is written up in the form of a short research report.

Course Code: TRAN5015A

Course Description: Selected Topic in Translation Studies (PGDip)

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 8

The nature of the selected topic vary although the course covers either theoretical or practical and professional aspects relevant to interpreting and extends the knowledge of interpreting students in line with the overall requirements of the diploma programme. Independent research and or practical work is an integral part of the course.

Course Code: TRAN7071A

Course Description: Research Topics in Translation Studies

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

The course further develops students' critical understanding of different research strands in Translation Studies. It broadens and consolidates students' theoretical understanding of the discipline and applies different theoretical and conceptual approaches to selected translation research topics while exploring socio-cultural and ideological issues. The format of the course is a reading, discussion and seminar programme and students are expected to prepare for each scheduled session. Students are also expected to conduct extensive independent research and sourcing of materials.

Course Code: TRAN7073A

Course Description: Critical Approaches to Literary Translation

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course familiarises students with a variety of issues and trends in the field of literary translation. During the course students engage critically with contemporary and traditional theories of literary translation, the practice of literary translation, and the translation of different types of literary texts such as prose, drama, poetry and film. The course consists of a reading, discussion and seminar programme and practical translations in the field of general and literary texts. Students are also expected to conduct extensive independent research and sourcing of materials.

Course Code: TRAN7073A

Course Description: Critical Approaches to Literary Translation

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course builds on the students' existing translation skills. It is a predominantly practical course involving translations of a variety of texts, including general, financial, legal, and technical texts. The emphasis is on honing students' skills and assisting them in achieving a standard of translation that will equip them to enter the professional market.

Course Code: TRAN7079A

Course Description: Selected Topic in Translation Studies

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course varies according to the teaching and research profile of the staff. The selected topic could be any of a range of topics in translation and/or interpreting, depending on staff availability and interests, and the interests of students.

Course Code: TRAN7080A

Course Description: Specialised Conference Interpreting Practice

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 9

This course improves learners' grasp of the principles, norms and professional practice that govern the interpreting profession in intermediate to advanced conference interpreting contexts (which may include interpreting for business, conference interpreting in the South African context, interpreting for the diplomatic service, interpreting for provincial and national legislatures (Parliament) as well as conference interpreting in international contexts). It also improves learners' ability to manage the interpreting process and selects interpreting coping tactics, conference preparation techniques and terminology management at an advanced level.

Course Code: TRAN7081A

Course Description: Advanced Interpreting Practice

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 9

This course ensures that candidates practise for a minimum number of hours each week. To ensure a sufficient number of hours practice on a weekly basis during the programme. Students practise in different fields and domains and across different modes of interpreting (including consecutive interpreting, simultaneous interpreting, sight interpreting etc.) The course complements other courses in the programme and extends and improves on the skills acquired as the year progresses.

Course Code: TRAN7082A

Course Description: Professional Language Enhancement, Transcription and Report Writing

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 9

This course refines candidates' language skills at an advanced level, and enhances their professional language skills for the job market. Learners are introduced to the principles of systematic and recognised transcription and captioning procedures governing grammatical and stylistic correctness in a variety of text types, including Hansard. Practical written and auditory skills are improved in relation to a variety of texts and utterances across a number of domains. Learners completing the unit successfully will have access to work in professional language contexts, including captioning, and audio description for film/TV/DVD, and cinema as well as theatre performances.

Course Code: TRAN7083A

Course Description: Professional Interpreting Practice

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course consists of practical interpreting practice in a range of fields e.g. law, finance, technology, literature, and other fields as deemed appropriate. The focus is entirely on practical work. The course brings learners up to the standard of a professional conference interpreter. The practice is intended to enhance learners' abilities in the context of advanced professional conference interpreting in a variety of fields, improve learners' ability to manage the interpreting process, and enhance learners' mastery of interpreting strategies and coping tactics.

Course Code: TRAN7084A

Course Description: Research Topics in Interpreting Studies

NQF Credits: 25	NQF Level: 9

This course develops students' critical understanding of different research strands in Interpreting Studies. It broadens and consolidates students' theoretical understanding of the discipline and applies different theoretical and conceptual approaches to selected interpreting research topics. It explores socio-cultural and ideological issues, drawing on various trends and directions in the discipline, including corpus-based interpreting studies.

Course Code: TRAN7085A
Course Description: Professional Translation Practice
NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course prepares students to work as professional translators in the marketplace with a high level of proficiency. The unit focuses primarily on enhancing and extending students' practical translation and editing skills. To this end the student is required to translate a wide range of specialised texts across a number of different domains.

SCHOOL OF LITERATURE, LANGUAGE AND MEDIA

Course Code: MDLL4002A/MDLL7016A
Course Description: (Re)Writing History
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course studies personal histories in the context of History and studies a genre that has neglected, namely auto/biography. The course analyses biographies and autobiographies, written in the twentieth century and applies the theories of Hayden White, Paul Mann and Philippe Lejeune, Roland Barthes and others. It examines critical concepts related to how one constructs personal histories and narrates public history. The selection of texts is made round two broad themes: writing the female self in auto/biography, and memory and testimony of war and persecution.

Course Code: MDLL4015A/MDLL7014A
Course Description: European Modernism
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course surveys European modernism to identify the most important cross-currents in the literature of the period. Seminal texts by representative authors, such as Marinetti, Kafka, Gide, Brecht, Proust and Pirandello are discussed as well as the effect of urbanisation on culture and aesthetics.

Course Code: MDLL4016A
Course Description: Fantasy, Science Fiction and the Fiction of the Unreal
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8

This course investigates various aspects of fantasy, science fiction and the unreal as represented in literature from the early nineteenth century until the present. Fantasy encompasses the uncanny and the unreal as well as the Doppelgänger in Calvino. Science Fiction counts the cost of modernity and technology. Magical realism does not draw a clear line between the real and the supernatural. The course discusses the fantastic in literature from a historical, theoretical and stylistic perspective.

Course Code: MDLL4059A/MDLL7043A
Course Description: Social Change in the nineteenth Century Novel
NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course examines novels from Europe written in this epoch of considerable social, economic and cultural upheaval. Different approaches to realism, political discourse, propaganda, satire and caricature are discussed, while illustrating the role of the novel both as a yardstick of social and political change and a factor used to bring about transformation.

Course Code: MDLL4061A/MDLL7044A

Course Description: The Detective Story

NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

This course debates the origins of the modern detective story, as exemplified by the works of E.T.A. Hoffmann and E.A. Poe and focuses on the characteristics of the genre and the typical structure of a detective story. It also explores the semiotic nature of this type of fiction and traces the interdisciplinary and intercultural elements of revelation and solution, it analyses the postmodern detective stories that subvert, transcend or re-invent the canon as seen in some major mainstream authors.

Course Code: MDLL4062A/MDLL7045A

Course Description: The Heroine's Text

NQF Credits: 23/30	NQF Level: 8/9

The course examines the cultural and aesthetic assumptions underlying the image of women in selected novels. The analysis of key texts highlights literary modes used by female authors to construct their subjects and portray the relationship between art and life. It deals with the problems faced by female authors in Europe, Lusophone and Francophone Africa and South America, in an attempt to define what women's writings have in common. It raises feminist and gender issues from a European as well as an African theoretical perspective.

Course Code: MDLL4090A

Course Description: Comparative Postcolonialisms

NQF Credits: 23	NQF Level: 8

This course adopts a transnational and transcultural paradigm by taking postcolonialism as the study of the interactions between European nations and the societies they colonised in the modern period. It emphasises critical analysis of texts from various thematic perspectives. The course develops close reading and interpretative skills, applied to texts from different socio-historic and socio-political contexts.

Course Code: MDLL7059A

Course Description: Comparative Postcolonialisms

NQF Credits: 30	NQF Level: 9

This course adopts a transnational and transcultural paradigm by taking postcolonialism as the study of the interactions between European nations and the societies they colonised in the modern period. It emphasises critical analysis of texts from various thematic perspectives. The course develops students' ability to critically engage with texts.
